Untold Stories Memories And Lives Of Victorian Kooris:

Untold Stories Jan Critchett, 2013-04-04 I m your half brother and I m here to stay This is my home With these words Wilmot Abraham sought refuge with his white relations Wilmot was the best known Aboriginal in the Warrnambool district of Victoria a man who maintained the old way of life long after his people were dispossessed Local farmers spoke of him as the last of his tribe Few were aware that his father had been a white lad working as a boundary rider on the Western District frontier and only the Aboriginal community knew that Wilmot had barely escaped with his life from the violent seizure of his mother s people s country In Untold Stories Jan Critchett presents a series of moving Aboriginal biographies from the Western District of Victoria drawing both on the oral tradition of local Koori Elders and on official records Wilmot s is one of the many untold stories that appear here for the first time Untold Stories opens our eyes to a number of remarkable individuals who managed to make a life for themselves in the interstices of the society that had dispossessed them Their long running battle to maintain their culture and their connection to country in the face of a regime that seemed bent on denying their humanity is both humbling and inspiring

Translations, an autoethnography Paul Carter, 2021-12-21 Translations is a personal history written at the intersection of colonial anthropology creative practice and migrant ethnography Renowned postcolonial scholar public artist and radio maker UK born Paul Carter documents and discusses a prodigiously varied and original trajectory of writing sound installation and public space dramaturgy produced in Australia to present the phenomenon of contemporary migration in an entirely new light Migrant space time Carter argues is not linear but turbulent vortical and opportunistic Before and after narratives fail to capture the work of self becoming and serve merely to perpetuate colonialist fantasies The mirror state relationship between England and Australia its structurally symmetrical histories of land theft and internal colonisation repress the appearance of new subjects and subject relations Reflecting on collaborations with Aboriginal artists Carter argues for a new definition of the stranger host relationship predicated on recognition of Aboriginal sovereignty Carter calls the creative practice that breaks the cycle of repeated invasion dirty art Translations is a passionately eloquent argument for reframing borders as crossing places framing less murderous exchange rates symbolic literacy creative courage and above all the emergence of a resilient migrant poetics will be essential

Jackson's Track Revisited Carolyn Landon, 2006 In Jackson s Track revisited Carolyn Landon returns to the story told by Daryl Tonkin in Jackson s Track Penguin Australia 1999 the tale of his life in the great Gippsland forest living among Aboriginal timber workers Just as his family hoped Tonkin s memoir has created the space for more stories In Jackson s Track revisited the voices of Aboriginal people who lived at the Track mingle with those of the White Australians who tried to improve their lives in the 1950 s the era of assimilation An exploration of the historical factors surrounding Tonkin s story leads to discussion of the Victorian Aborigines Welfare Board the Victorian Aborigines Advancement League and the policy of assimilation that was so prevalent in mid twentieth century Australia Back cover

Colonial Adventure Ken Gelder, Rachael Weaver, 2024-10-08 Adventure was one of the grand narratives of colonisation which saw European powers sending agents off to new and distant worlds Their journeys didn't always follow a straight line Some were shipwrecked lost or marooned adventure turned into misadventure Others left the colony as soon as they arrived Convicts fled to Timor China and South America while bushrangers roamed the country antagonising colonial authorities But when adventurers directly served the interests of colonisation they could be violent ruthless and brutally racist rapaciously seeking profit and property Many adventurers went wherever ambition took them killing and dispossessing Aboriginal people and claiming ownership of their lands By examining colonial adventure narratives in all their rawness and complexity this book asks us to reflect on the continuing legacies of colonisation in Australia today The Cambridge Companion to Australian Literature Elizabeth Webby, 2000-08-21 This book introduces in a lively and succinct way the major writers literary movements styles and genres that at the beginning of a new century are seen as constituting the field of Australian literature The book consciously takes a perspective that sees literary works not as aesthetic objects created in isolation by unique individuals but as cultural products influenced and constrained by the social political and economic circumstances of their times as well as by geographical and environmental factors It covers indigenous texts colonial writing and reading poetry fiction and theatre throughout two centuries biography and autobiography and literary criticism in Australia Other features of the companion are a chronology listing significant historical and literary events and suggestions for further reading Indigenous Participation in Australian Economies II Natasha Fijn, Ian Keen, Christopher Lloyd, Michael Pickering, 2012-07-01 This volume arises out of a conference in Canberra on Indigenous Participation in Australian Economies at the National Museum of Australia on 9-10 November 2009 which attracted more than thirty presenters

Unearthed Rebe Taylor, 2008 A new revised and updated edition of this wonderful book that won the South Australian Premier's Award for Non Fiction the Victorian Premier's Award for a First Book of History and the Canberra Critics Circle Award for Literature This is a powerful and passionate exploration of cross cultural history and it is also an intriguing detective story Taylor skilfully interweaves experience and memory narrative and genealogy politics and place so that this island saga becomes a history of the national psyche Tom Griffiths UNEARTHED is a wonderful piece of scholarship warm humane and deserving of a wide and intelligent readership Journal of Australian Studies One of the most original and exciting thinkers in Australian history today Australian Historical Studies This new edition reveals previously disguised names

White Women, Aboriginal Missions and Australian Settler Governments Joanna Cruickshank, Patricia Grimshaw, 2019-05-15 In White Women Aboriginal Missions and Australian Settler Governments Joanna Cruickshank and Patricia Grimshaw provide the first detailed study of the central part that white women played in missions to Aboriginal people in Australia As Aboriginal people experienced violent dispossession through settler invasion white mission women were positioned as mothers who could protect nurture and civilise Aboriginal people In this position missionary women found themselves continuously navigating the often contradictory demands of their own intentions of Aboriginal expectations and of settler government policies Through detailed studies that draw on rich archival sources this book provides a new perspective on the history of missions in Australia and also offers new frameworks for understanding the exercise of power by missionary women in colonial contexts

Reading the Bible in Australia Deborah R. Storie, Barbara Deutschmann, Michelle Eastwood, 2024-01-03 Reading the Bible in Australia invites reflection about how the Bible matters to Australia Contributors probe intersections between vital debates about Australian identity who we have been are and aspire to become and the Bible bringing a range of perspectives to critical themes indigeneity colonization and migration landscape biodiversity and climate gender and marginality economics ideology and rhetoric Each chapter explores the past and present influence of a biblical text or theme Some offer fresh contextually and ethically informed readings All interrogate the wider outcomes of reading the Bible in different ways Given the tragic consequences of how it has been used historically and sometimes still is some Australians would exclude the Bible and its interpreters from public debate Yet as Meredith Lake s The Bible in Australia demonstrates a degree of biblical literacy along with critical skill in evaluating how the Bible has been taken up and interpreted in our history can only help Australians grapple well with the choices Australia faces Love it or hate it there is no getting around the reality that the Bible and how it is read still matters

Skin, Kin and Clan Patrick McConvell, Piers Kelly, Sébastien Lacrampe, 2018-04-01 Australia is unique in the world for its diverse and interlocking systems of Indigenous social organisation On no other continent do we see such an array of complex and contrasting social arrangements coordinated through a principle of universal kinship whereby two strangers meeting for the first time can recognise one another as kin For some time Australian kinship studies suffered from poor theorisation and insufficient aggregation of data The large scale AustKin project sought to redress these problems through the careful compilation of kinship information Arising from the project this book presents recent original research by a range of authors in the field on the kinship and social category systems in Australia A number of the contributions focus on reconstructing how these systems originated and developed over time Others are concerned with the relationship between kinship and land the semantics of kin terms and the dynamics of kin interactions

Colonial Australian Fiction Ken Gelder, Rachael Weaver, 2017-04-07 Over the course of the nineteenth century a remarkable array of types appeared and disappeared in Australian literature the swagman the larrikin the colonial detective the bushranger the currency lass the squatter and more Some had a powerful influence on the colonies developing sense of identity others were more ephemeral But all had a role to play in shaping and reflecting the social and economic circumstances of life in the colonies In Colonial Australian Fiction Character Types Social Formations and the Colonial Economy Ken Gelder and Rachael Weaver explore the genres in which these characters flourished the squatter novel the bushranger adventure colonial detective stories the swagman's yarn the Australian girl's romance Authors as diverse as Catherine Helen Spence Rosa Praed Henry Kingsley Anthony Trollope Henry Lawson Miles Franklin Barbara Baynton Rolf Boldrewood Mary Fortune and Marcus Clarke were fascinated by colonial character types and brought them vibrantly to life As this book shows colonial Australian character types are fluid contradictory and often unpredictable When we look closely they have the potential to challenge our assumptions about fiction genre and national identity The preliminary pages and introduction to this work are available free to download at the Sydney eScholarship Repository <https://hdl.handle.net/2123/16435> Contents Introduction The Colonial Economy and the Production of Colonial Character Types 1 The Reign of the Squatter 2 Bushrangers 3 Colonial Australian Detectives 4 Bush Types and Metropolitan Types 5 The Australian Girl Works Cited Index About the series The Sydney Studies in Australian Literature series publishes original peer reviewed research in the field of Australian literature The series comprises monographs devoted to the works of major authors and themed collections of essays about current issues in the field of Australian literary studies The series offers well researched and engagingly written re evaluations of the nature and importance of Australian literature and aims to reinvigorate its study both in Australia and internationally Peopled Landscapes Simon Haberle, Bruno David, 2012-01-01 This volume brings together a collection of papers from a diverse field of international scholars exploring the multiple ways that East Timorese communities are making and remaking their connections to land and places of ancestral significance The work is explicitly comparative and highlights the different ways Timorese language communities negotiate access and transactions in land disputes and inheritance especially in areas subject to historical displacement and resettlement Consideration is extended to the role of ritual performance and social alliance for inscribing connection and entitlement Emerging through analysis is an appreciation of how relations to land articulated in origin discourses are implicated in the construction of national culture and differential contributions to the struggle for independence Publisher's description

Strangers in a Foreign Land Neil Black, Maggie MacKellar, 2008-01-01 When Niel Black one of the most influential settlers of the Western District of Victoria stepped onto the sand at Port Phillip Bay in 1839 and declared Melbourne to be almost altogether a Scotch settlement he was paying the newly created outpost of the British Empire his highest compliment His journal reproduced here in its entirety provides rare insight into the realities of early settlement in Victoria detailing experiences of personal hardship and physical danger as well as the potential for accumulating great wealth and success

Drawing on the extensive collections of the State Library of Victoria Strangers in a Foreign Land also includes glimpses into the lives of other settlers and the indigenous people of the area. It evokes the sense of place and dislocation that the early settlers encountered and the hopes and anxieties they carried with them as they created new homes in Australia.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education Kaye Price, Jessa Rogers, 2019-08-26 Includes access to the ebook which features additional learning activities suggested responses and interactive elements Amplifications Paul Carter, 2019-02-21 Written by one of the most prominent thinkers in sound studies Amplifications presents a perspective on sound narrated through the experiences of a sound artist and writer. A work of reflective philosophy Amplifications sits at the intersection of history, creative practice and sound studies recounting this narrative through a series of themes, rattles, echoes, recordings etc. Carter offers a unique perspective on migratory poetics bringing together his own compositions and life's works while using his personal narrative to frame larger theoretical questions about sound and migration. Battarbee and Namatjira Martin Edmond, 2014-10-01 Battarbee and Namatjira is the biography of two artists, Rex Battarbee and Albert Namatjira, one white Australian from Warrnambool in Victoria, the other Aboriginal of the Arrernte people from the Hermannsburg Mission south of Alice Springs. From their first encounters in the early 1930s when Battarbee introduced Namatjira to the techniques of water colour painting through the period of Namatjira's popularity as a painter to the tragic circumstances leading to his death in 1959, their close relationship was to have a decisive impact on Australian art. This biography, illustrated with photographs, makes extensive use of Battarbee's diaries for the first time to throw new light on Namatjira's life and to bring Battarbee, who has been largely ignored by biographers, back into focus. Some of its findings will be controversial. By moving between the artists and their backgrounds and looking closely at the nature of their friendship, Edmond is able to portray the personal and social complexities the two men faced while at the same time illuminating larger cultural themes: the treatment of the Arrernte and Indigenous people generally, the influence of the Lutheran church, the development of anthropology and the evolution of Australian art. Indigenous Rights and the Legacies of the Bible Mark G. Brett, 2024-06-25 A Christian imagination of colonial discovery permeated the early modern world but legal histories developed in very different ways depending on imperial jurisdictions. Indigenous Rights and the Legacies of the Bible From Moses to Mabo explores the contradictions and ironies that emerged in the interactions between biblical warrants and colonial theories of Indigenous natural rights. The early debates in the Americas mutated in the British colonies with a range of different outcomes after the American Revolution and tracking the history of biblical interpretation provides an illuminating pathway through these historical complexities. A ground-breaking legal judgement in the High Court of Australia, Mabo v Queensland 1992 demonstrates the enduring legacies of debates over the previous five centuries. The case reveals that the Australian colonies are the only jurisdiction of the English common law tradition within which no treaties were made with the First Nations. Instead, there is a peculiar development of terra nullius ideology which can be traced back to the historic influences of the book of Genesis in Puritan thought in the seventeenth century Having identified both similarities and differences between various colonial arguments and their overt dependence on early modern theological reasoning Mark G Brett examines the paradoxical permutations of imperial and anti imperial motifs in the biblical texts themselves Concepts of rights shifted over the centuries from theological to secular frameworks and more recently from anthropocentric assumptions to ecologically embedded concepts of Indigenous rights and responsibilities Bearing in mind the differences between ancient and modern notions of indigeneity a fresh understanding of this history proves timely as settler colonial states reflect on the implications of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples 2007 Brett s illuminating insights in this detailed study are particularly relevant for the four states that initially voted against the Declaration the USA Canada New Zealand and Australia
