More Mirrors in the Classroom Jane Fleming, Susan Catapano, Candace M. Thompson, Sandy Ruvalcaba Carrillo, 2016-06-08 Nearly 30% of all public school children attend school in large or mid size cities totaling more than 16 million students in 22 000 schools For schools serving culturally and linguistically diverse populations and large numbers of children living in poverty a significant achievement gap persists Proponents of multicultural education often advocate for instruction with culturally relevant texts to promote inclusion compassion and understanding of our increasingly diverse society Less discussion has focused on the significant body of research that suggests that culturally relevant texts have important effects on language and literacy development By connecting the dots of existing research More Mirrors in the Classroom raises awareness about the critical role that urban children's literature can play in helping children learn to read and write In addition it provides practical step by step advice for increasing the cultural relevance of school curricula in order to accelerate literacy learning The New York Times Book Review, 1991 Presents extended reviews of noteworthy books short reviews essays and articles on topics and trends in publishing literature culture and the arts Includes lists of best sellers hardcover and paperback The Creative Arts Linda Carol Edwards, 2006 This novel text engages future teachers in the processes of creativity to encourage creative growth and participation in their classrooms It emphasizes process rather than product so teachers learn that once they tap into their own creativity they are better equipped to help children participate in the creative process New and expanded content in the fourth edition includes National standards for drama visual arts dance and music and examples of how teachers can address them A new Families feature in each chapter explaining how families can support children's creative activities at home Expanded and deepened multicultural content in the prose and in exploring the arts through a multicultural context Children's literature and recommended books in each chapter for integrating literature and the arts Children's Literature Barbara D. Stoodt, Linda B. Amspaugh, Jane Hunt, 1996 Exploring Science in Early Childhood Karen Lind, 2000 The new third edition of this best selling book focuses on early childhood education from birth through age eight Based on theories of child development this resource depicts how to integrate scientific concepts with music and movement language arts social studies and art The book uses a problem solving approach to discuss constructive concepts along with a balance of naturalistic informal and structured activities and experiences The importance of literature and writing in science education is emphasized Also the book describes how to use dramatic play and thematic projects as vehicles for integration Key Features include compatible with national standards and guidelines an emphasis is placed on problem solving a developmental sequence guides users in planning and instruction developmentally appropriate assessment evaluation and instructional strategies for the national movement toward authentic assessment Math & Science for Young Children Rosalind Charlesworth, Karen Lind, 2007 Math and Science for Young Children 5e is a unique reference that focuses on the integration of math and science with the other important areas of child development during the crucial birth through eight age range It also carefully addresses the ever changing and significant national standards of the following organizations The National Association for the Education of Young Children NAEYC National Council of Teachers of Math NCTM National Science Teachers Association NSTA American Association for the Advancement of Science AAAS and the National Research Council NRC A valuable resource for the student learner working professional as well as the involved parent Math and Science for Young Children 5e is the most current volume of information of its kind available on the market today Children's Book Review Service Children's Book Review Service, 1990 School Library Journal, 1991 Animal Studies National
