Women Science And Fiction The Frankenstein Inheritance:

Women, Science and Fiction D. Shaw, 2000-09-19 Since Mary Shelley drew inspiration for Frankenstein from the scientific speculations to which she attended as a nearly silent listener at the now famous chateau in Switzerland many other women have been similarly motivated to produce works informed by scientific theory Successive chapters trace the history of women's science fiction writing from the turn of the century to the early 1990s analysing how women writers have utilised the genre to critique the ideology that informs what counts as scientific knowledge Women, Science, and Fiction Debra Benita Shaw, 2000 Women Writing Science Fiction The Frankenstein Inheritance explores the relationship between women science and fiction through an analysis of science fiction written by women from the turn of the century to the mid 1980s

The Science Fiction of Phyllis Gotlieb Dominick Grace, 2015-01-26 Gotlieb is a writer central to the Canadian science fiction canon Though she has been called the queen of Canadian SF by Robert J Sawyer and though David Ketterer has suggested that she is Canadian SF Gotlieb has been largely overlooked by SF studies This book delves deeply into her body of work and traces her career in detail Offering close readings of Gotlieb's novels short stories including ones not reprinted since their initial appearances and SF related poetry this study explores Gotlieb's development as a writer and her characteristic themes The book also references her manuscripts when the differences between them and the published stories provide insights into her working methods The book enumerates and analyzes Gotlieb's innovative explorations of common SF tropes such as the superhuman human alien interaction and the galactic empire her prevalent thematic concerns e g reproduction colonization the mind body relationship the essence of humanity as well as her stylistically dense and literary approach to the genre Women's Vision in Western Literature Laurence M. Porter, 2005-02-28 From ancient

Greece through the present day women writers have confronted the male urge to make war by imagining communities in which intuitive bonding among individuals questions and replaces masculinist values of aggression and competition Women's Vision in Western Literature traces the gender gap in literature from 600 B C to the present day through an examination of seven extraordinary women writers from Sappho to Christa Wolf Combining close readings with a comprehensive overview of the careers of these women Porter shows how the threat the experience and the aftermath of war incites them to imagine tolerant empathic communities This careful consideration of these seven great writers brings to light an underappreciated aspect of Western women's writing Starting with Sappho Porter illustrates this ancient poet's ability to rewrite the Homeric war rhetoric to reflect a non possessive love experience Marie de France arranges traditional animal fables to imply an open ended situation ethics according to the author and Madame de Stael in a Europe torn by Napoleonic conquests advocates cross cultural unions among countries In the works of Mary Shelley we see the warnings of the dangers of vainglorious soulless technology and Virginia Woolf depicts intuitive bonding beyond gender stereotypes amid the ruins of war and crumbling empire He shows how Marguerite Yourcenar dreams of a new era of world peace after Hitler's defeat and how

Christa Wolf tries to cope with her country's Nazi past even as she reaffirms European identity threatened by annihilations in nuclear conflict Science Fiction Authors Maura Heaphy, 2008-11-30 For students scholars readers advisors and curious SF readers and fans this guide provides an easy to use launch pad for researching and learning more about science fiction writers and their work Emphasizing the best popular and contemporary authors this book covers 100 SF writers providing for each a brief biographical sketch including a quote from the author awards etc a list of the author's major works including editions and other writings research sources biographies criticism research guides and web sites In addition you'll find read alike lists for selected authors For anyone wanting to find information on popular SF authors this should be the first stop

Lester D. Friedman, Allison B. Kavey, 2016-08 Mary Shelley's 1818 novel Frankenstein is its own type of monster mythos that will not die a corpus whose parts keep getting harvested to animate new artistic creations What makes this tale so adaptable and so resilient that nearly 200 years later it remains vitally relevant in a culture radically different from the one that spawned its birth Monstrous Progeny takes readers on a fascinating exploration of the Frankenstein family tree tracing the literary and intellectual roots of Shelley's novel from the sixteenth century and analyzing the evolution of the book's figures and themes into modern productions that range from children's cartoons to pornography Along the way media scholar Lester D. Friedman and historian Allison B. Kavey examine the adaptation and evolution of Victor Frankenstein and his monster across different genres and in different eras In doing so they demonstrate how Shelley's tale and its characters continue to provide crucial reference points for current debates about bioethics artificial intelligence cyborg lifeforms and the limits of scientific progress Blending an extensive historical overview with a detailed analysis of key texts the authors reveal how the Frankenstein legacy arose from a series of fluid intellectual contexts and continues to pulsate through an extraordinary body of media products Both thought provoking and entertaining Monstrous Progeny offers a lively look at an undying and significant cultural phenomenon Asian Canadian Writing Beyond Autoethnography Christl Verduyn, 2008-08-14

Asian Canadian Writing Beyond Autoethnography explores some of the latest developments in the literary and cultural practices of Canadians of Asian heritage. While earlier work by ethnic multicultural or minority writers in Canada was often concerned with immigration, the moment of arrival, issues of assimilation and conflicts between generations, literary and cultural production in the new millennium no longer focuses solely on the conflict between the Old World and the New or the clashes between culture of origin and adopted culture. No longer are minority authors identifying simply with their ethnic or racial cultural background in opposition to dominant culture. The essays in this collection explore ways in which Asian Canadian authors such as Larissa Lai, Shani Mootoo, Fred Wah, Hiromi Goto, Suniti Namjoshi and Ying Chen and artists such as Ken Lum, Paul Wong and Laiwan have gone beyond what Françoise Lionnet calls autoethnography or ethnographic autobiography. They demonstrate the ways representations of race and ethnicity, particularly in works by Asian Canadians in the last decade, have changed, have become more playful, untraditional, aesthetically and ideologically transgressive and exciting.
