Year Round School Broward 2014:

Why Meadow Died Andrew Pollack, Max Eden, 2019-09-10 WALL STREET JOURNAL BESTSELLER As featured in the New York Post and as seen on Tucker Carlson Fox and Friends Martha MacCallum and more Voted by Book Authority as one of the ten best social policy books of all time The Parkland school shooting was the most avoidable mass murder in American history And the policies that made it inevitable are being forced into public schools across America After my sister Meadow was murdered at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School the media obsessed for months about the type of rifle the killer used It was all clickbait and politics not answers or justice That wasn't good enough for us My dad is a real tough guy but Meadow had him wrapped around her little finger He would do anything she wanted and she would want him to find every answer so that this never happens again My dad teamed up with one of America's leading education experts to launch his own investigation We found the answers to the questions the media refused to ask Questions about school safety that go far beyond the national gun debate And the answers to those questions matter for parents teachers and schoolchildren nationwide If one single adult in the Broward County school district had made one responsible decision about the Parkland shooter then my sister would still be alive But every bad decision they made makes total sense once you understand the district's politically correct policies which started here in Broward and have spread to thousands of schools across America Hunter Pollack Foreword

The Mental and Emotional State of School-Aged Students Sean M Brooks PhD, 2018-04-11 From The Mental and Emotional State of School Aged Students The existence of parental divorce anxiety related conditions knowledge of developmental conditions and the frequency of sexual activity substance abuse student burnout and school related policies that are both abundant and absent must be examined This book is a preparatory and educational text for prospective teachers and current educators who are simply interested in increasing their efficacy and being more aware of the major variables that influence the mental and emotional state of school aged students and what they as educators can do about it When school aged students are of sound mind they can produce exceptional accomplishments where the limits are endless However a decline in a student's mental and emotional state can produce imaginable harm that does have a predictable ending Chaos and unprofessionalism by those who claim to protect children and defend their best interests will only exacerbate the decline of both the educational state and the mental and emotional state of school aged students Any failure to address the needs of today's K 12 youth will ultimately make ineffectiveness inescapable at every level of education

Understanding, Dismantling, and Disrupting the Prison-to-School Pipeline Kenneth J. Fasching-Varner, Lori Latrice Martin, Roland W. Mitchell, Karen Bennett-Haron, Arash Daneshzadeh, 2016-12-06 This volume examines the school to prison pipeline a concept that has received growing attention over the past 10 15 years in the United States The pipeline refers to a number of interrelated concepts and activities that most often include the criminalization of students and student behavior the police like state found in many schools throughout the country and the introduction of youth into the criminal justice system at an early age The school to prison pipeline negatively and disproportionately affects communities of color throughout the United States particularly in urban areas Given the demographic composition of public schools in the United States the nature of student performance in schools over the past 50 years the manifestation of school to prison pipeline approaches pervasive throughout the country and the world and the growing incarceration rates for youth this volume explores this issue from the sociological criminological and educational perspectives Understanding Dismantling and Disrupting the Prison to School Pipeline has contributions from scholars and practitioners who work in the fields of sociology counseling criminal justice and who are working to dismantle the pipeline While the academic conversation has consistently called the pipeline school to prison including the framing of many chapters in this book the economic and market forces driving the prison industrial complex urge us to consider reframing the pipeline as one working from prison to school This volume points toward the tensions between efforts to articulate values of democratic education and schooling against practices that criminalize youth and engage students in reductionist and legalistic manners

School Counseling for Black Male Student Success in 21st Century

Urban Schools Malik S. Henfield,Ahmad R. Washington,2015-11-01 Discussions and research related to the salience of Black male student needs and development in relation to their general success and well being is well documented in many fields Indeed many studies have found that healthy masculine identity development is associated with a number of positive outcomes for males in general including Black males In school counseling literature however this discussion has been relatively absent particularly regarding those students living in urban contexts Indeed research devoted to the study of Black males in the school counseling literature focuses almost exclusively on race and issues associated with its social construction with only cursory if any attention given to their masculine identity development as a function of living in urban communities and attending urban schools Based on this lack of information it is probably a safe assumption that intentional systematic culturally relevant efforts to assist Black males in developing healthy achievement and masculine identities based on their unique personal social academic experiences and future career goals are not being applied by school counselors concerned with meeting students needs School counselors are in a unique position nonetheless to lend their considerable expertise insights training and skills to improving life outcomes among Black males a population who are consistently in positions of risk according to a number of quality of life indicators Without knowledge and awareness of Black males masculine identity development in urban areas coupled with the requisite skills to influence the myriad factors that enhance and impede healthy development in such environments they are missing out on tremendous opportunities which other professions appear to understand and quite frankly seem to take more seriously As such this book proposes to accomplish two specific goals 1 Highlight the plight of Black males with specific emphasis on the ecological components of their lives in relation to current school culture and trends 2 Encourage school counselors to give more thought to Black male identity development that takes into consideration differential experiences in society as a whole and schools in particular as a function of the intersection of their race as well as their gender The first rationale for this book then is to highlight the plight of Black males with specific emphasis on the ecological components of their lives in relation to current school culture and trends e g standards based accountability practices in urban environments However I recognize the role of school counselors has never been fully integrated into educational reform programs As such their positions are often unregulated and determined by people in positions of power who do not understand their training job specific standards and thus potential impact on the lives of Black male students As a result their vast potential to develop strong interventions designed to address the myriad racial and masculine factors that serve to enhance and impede Black males academic achievement is often unrealized Therefore the second reason for this special issue is to include the scholarship of professional school counselors and counselor educators with policy change in mind Scholars will be invited to contribute manuscripts that explore race masculinity and academic achievement in relation to the role of school counselors This is designed to encourage school counselors and counselor educators to give more thought to Black male identity development that takes into consideration differential experiences in society as a whole and schools in particular as a function of the intersection of their race as well as their gender Rise Up! Amalia Dache, Stephen John Quaye, Chris Linder, Keon M. McGuire, 2019-09-01 We live at a time when the need for resistance has come front and center to international consciousness Rise Up Activism as Education works to advance theory and practice oriented understandings of multiple forms of and relationships between racial justice activism and diverse and transnational educational contexts Here contributors provide detailed accounts and examinations historical and contemporary local and international of active resistance efforts aimed at transforming individuals institutions and communities to dismantle systems of racial domination They explore the ways in which racial justice activism serves as public education and consciousness raising and a form of education and resistance from those engaged in the activism The text makes a case for activism as an educational concept that enables organizers and observers to gain important learning outcomes from on the ground perspectives as it explores racial justice activism specifically in the context of community and campus activism intersectional activism and Black diasporic liberation This volume is an essential handbook for preparing both students and activists to effectively resist
