The Sound Of The Sundial:

The Sound of the Sundial Hana Andronikova, 2015-05-02 The Sound of the Sundial is the internationally acclaimed novel by Czech sensation Hana Andronikova told over the course of a single day and night but spanning three continents and much of the twentieth century In this intimate and affecting love story about a Jewish teacher and a German Czech builder Andronikova sends her readers on a captivating journey through time and memory from the Czech town of Zlín in the 1920s to Calcutta in the 1930s Theresienstadt and Auschwitz during World War II Toronto in the decades afterward and finally into modern day Colorado It is at once a deeply personal narrative and an homage to the lost relationship of the Czech German and Jewish peoples In 2002 The Sound of the Sundial received the Czech Republic's prestigious Magnesia Litera Award in the category of Best New Discovery just a few years before its young author died It is making its world premiere appearance in English here

Czech and Polish Sound Memories of the Second World War Radmila Švaříčková Slabáková, Marcin Filipowicz, Dobrawa Lisak-Gębala, Sławomir Wieczorek, Andrea Hanáčková, 2025-11-03 This book investigates the crucial yet often overlooked role of sound in shaping the memory of the Second World War Through an interdisciplinary and transnational approach this volume addresses a notable gap in memory studies and argues that auditory experiences are central to how war is remembered commemorated and narrated By placing sound at the heart of collective remembrance this book reveals how sonic elements influence public discourse shape collective identities and contribute to the evolving transformation of war memory Bringing together scholars from the Czech Republic and Poland this volume examines how the Second World War has been remembered through sound since the 1990s across three distinct media museum exhibitions prose fiction and sound art including soundwalks and field recordings This innovative framework underscores the importance of exploring how different media evoke and reproduce sound to grasp the complexity and diversity of wartime memory in Central Europe Focusing on Czech and Polish memory cultures the book demonstrates that sound may function in multiple and sometimes contradictory ways as a means of reinforcing national narratives as a tool for critical engagement or as a medium for experimental and marginal perspectives This volume is essential reading for scholars in memory studies sound studies cultural and public history museology literary theory and musicology as well as for museum professionals and anyone interested in how the past resonates literally and metaphorically through sound
