The Staircase Letters An Extraordinary Friendship At The End Of Life:

The Staircase Letters Arthur Motyer, 2010-08-13 Full of the magic of everyday life in the shadow of death chickens must be cooked for dinner parties and grandson's questions about God must be answered The Staircase Letters is a moving and profound story of friendship and facing the end of life When Elma Gerwin found out in 2001 at the age of 61 that she had cancer she reached out to two coasts and to two old friends One was Arthur Motyer novelist and teacher and Elma's university professor from forty years before and the other was acclaimed novelist Carol Shields who was facing her own battle with cancer Years later Arthur is the only survivor Still contemplating how Elma's and Carol's correspondence affected him he has gracefully brought the letters together and interspersed them with literary references and poetry As both women's illnesses progress they compare notes on the ups and downs of living with cancer the joy when Elma is told one area is cancer free followed quickly by the terrible news that the cancer has spread the delight in having family near while the thought of saying goodbye seems impossible The advice they give each other from how to approach treatments to how to get to sleep at night is heartfelt warm and often leavened with humour As Carol and Elma contemplate what happiness is and how one makes a good death 74 year old Arthur feeling inadequate in the face of such fundamental questions discovers that he is exactly where he should be In The Staircase Letters the reader catches a rare and touching glimpse of the lives of three extraordinary people two facing death and one left behind

The Worlds of Carol Shields David Staines, 2014-12-02 Carol was a very fine writer and a remarkable human being a wonderful person whose work I closely followed for more than 20 years I interviewed her frequently over those years with virtually every work she produced novel radio drama play book of stories So I had a good sense of the span of her work and also her evolution as a stylist But the key reason I wanted to make a book focusing on her life and work is that we were friends Eleanor Wachtel This book strikes the right balance between intimate accounts and literary analysis It opens with reminiscences by close friend Eleanor Wachtel which are followed by a study of Shields' poetry by her daughter and grandson then by various aspects of her fiction including a detailed examination of her plays It closes with reminiscences by four close friends Jane Urquhart Joan Clark Wayson Choy and Martin Levin The 23 contributors offer new insights new theories and new perspectives about Shields' illuminating career Only one piece her obituary written by Margaret Atwood has been previously published

The Canadian Shields Carol Shields, 2024-09-09 Newly discovered work by one of Canada's favourite writers The Canadian Shields brings together fifty short writings by Carol Shields 1935-2003 including more than two dozen previously unpublished short stories and essays and two dozen essays previously published but never before collected Invaluable to scholars and admirers of Shields' work the writings discovered in the National Library Archives by Nora Foster Stovel and presented to the public here for the first time reflect Shields' interest in the relationships between reality and fiction mothers and daughters and gender and genre They also reveal her love of Canada especially Winnipeg her home for twenty years Originally written for women's magazines travel journals convocation addresses and even graduate school term papers Shields's imaginative essays explore ideas about home Canadian literature contemporary women's writing and the future of fiction Whether autobiographical cultural or feminist in focus these works vividly illuminate the multiple chapters of Shields's writing life Margaret Atwood and Lorna Crozier frame Shields's texts with tributes to her work and impact An introduction by Stovel situates Shields as a Canadian author and subversive feminist writer demonstrating how American born and raised Carol Anne Warner became the Canadian Shields a quintessential and beloved Canadian writer and the only author to win both the Pulitzer Prize and the Governor General's Gold Medal for Fiction Quill & Quire, 2008 A Letter to My Dying Mother Robert Peprah-Gyamfi, 2005-03 What a world we live in Whereas in some places residents have to fight hard to resist the temptation not to overfeed themselves at other places people are threatened at best with malnutrition if not starvation In this readable and entertaining book the author who came from Ghana to become a medical doctor in Germany sets out to highlight some of these inequalities as he attempts to compare and contrast the simple and communal lifestyle of a traditional African society with the sophisticated and egocentric one he found in Western society Addressed to his mother in her final battle with death and sent through a fictitious courier it attempts among other things to give her a woman who spent all her life in a typical African countryside an idea of the things she would have seen and experienced on a visit to her son resident in the northern German city of Hannover The book is an invaluable guide for anyone from a developing country who for the first time visits or wishes to settle in the West but it will also be read with keen interest by people in the West wishing to know more of traditional African society Book Review Index - 2009 Cumulation Dana Ferguson, 2009-08 Book Review Index provides quick access to reviews of books periodicals books on tape and electronic media representing a wide range of popular academic and professional interests The up to date coverage wide scope and inclusion of citations for both newly published and older materials make Book Review Index an exceptionally useful reference tool More than 600 publications are indexed including journals and national general interest publications and newspapers Book Review Index is available in a three issue subscription covering the current year or as an annual cumulation covering the past year The Life and Letters of Lord Byron George Gordon Byron Baron Byron, 1858
