The Stone Carvers Master Craftsmen Of Washington National Cathedral:

The Stone Carvers Marjorie Hunt,1999 The lives and careers of two master stone cutters Italian Americans Roger Morigi and Vincent Palumbo are explored here in a celebration of an arcane trade and craft The Mythic Forest, the Green Man and the Spirit of Nature Gary R. Varner,2006 Mankind has given a recognizable face to the awesome and impalpable forces of nature in the image of the Green Man and the nature spirits that this book explores The ways in which different societies and different craftsmen have depicted these spirits display the wide creative range of the human imagination but the persistence of the theme suggests that in all their many facets these spirits represent a deep primordial sense that humans have shared since civilization began For the very origin and message of these images have remained the same even if somewhat altered over time Traditional customs from around the world from the rites that celebrate spring and egg on the forces of fertility to folk health remedies and the use of talismans to ward off illness and other evils show some surprising similarities and hint at the shared origins of human culture Even though the original significance of many customs has been lost or diluted they still hold an appeal and many towns even today are re introducing seasonal fairs to recreate the link between man and nature Varner presents examples ancient and new from Europe and Asia East Coast and West and identifies in particular the different guises of the Green Man who has figured in architecture since before the advent of Christianity and still makes his appearance today peering out from behind his leaves on California banks and New York brownstone houses The Stars of Ballymenone, New Edition Henry Glassie,2016-09-12 In the time of the Troubles when bombs blew through the night and soldiers prowled down the roads Henry Glassie came to the Irish borderland to learn how country people endure through history He settled into the farming community of Ballymenone beside Lough Erne in the County Fermanagh and listened to the old people For a decade he heard and recorded the stories and songs in which they outlined their culture recounted their history and pictured their world In their view their world was one of love defeat and uncertainty demanding the virtues of endurance faith bravery and wit Glassie s task in this book is to set the scene to sketch the backdrop and clear the stage so that Hugh Nolan and Michael Boyle Peter Flanagan Ellen Cutler and their neighbors can tell their own tale which explains their conditions and converts them into a tragedy of conflict and a comedy of the absurd It gathers the saints and warriors and celebrates the stars whose wit enabled endurance in days of violence and deprivation With patience and respect Glassie describes life in a time and a place exactly like no other and yet Ballymenone is like a thousand other places where people work on the land during the day and tell their own tales at night forgotten while the men of power fill the newspapers and history books by sending poor boys out to be killed The Stars of Ballymenone is an integrated analysis of the complete repertory of verbal art from a rural community where storytelling and singing of quality remained a part of daily life Performing the Faith Stanley Hauerwas,2015-03-11 Folksy eclectic disarmingly humble and astonishingly wide ranging Hauerwas offers us a provocative reading of Bonhoeffer that not surprisingly assimilates him closely to John Howard Yoder At the same time Hauerwas replies to recent criticisms of his work by Jeffrey Stout Contending that truth depends on performance far more than on theory Hauerwas steps forward as a pacifist gadfly for a more truly faithful church and a more recognizably democratic society George Hunsinger Princeton Theological Seminary This book shows how lively and fecund Hauerwas's thought remains A dazzling performance capable of entertaining and instructing professional theologians as much as those who think the world might be a better place without theologians in it Paul J Griffiths University of Illinois at Chicago Stan Hauerwas has done it again He is able skillfully to blend into his book the passion for truth and justice of two of his greatest influences Dietrich Bonhoeffer and John Howard Yoder He takes these heroic advocates for peace into his own present day struggle for the soul of the American nation Hauerwas an admirable Christian pacifist himself dares Christians to be the Jesus people they claim to be and to follow Jesus into the gospel path of nonviolence Geoffrey B Kelly author of Liberating Faith Bonhoeffer's Message for Today Never totally predictable Always a fresh perspective And yet once again in these essays on narrative politics Bonhoeffer and the church we hear the engaging discerning and brilliant voice we have come to know as Stanley Hauerwas Mark Thiessen Nation Eastern Mennonite Seminary Contending with and learning from the witness of Dietrich Bonhoeffer whose life is often thought to provide a Christian alternative to pacifism Hauerwas deepens the account of Christian nonviolence he has been articulating for decades His theology is strengthened and clarified by his encounter with the exemplary figure of Bonhoeffer Alan Jacobs Wheaton College Without loss of the provocative edge that has made him a vital and distinctive Christian voice Hauerwas's Performing the Faith allows him to cast a retrospective eye on his work At the same time in a brilliant essay under the title of the book he develops a profoundly important description of faithfulness Dennis O'Brien University of Rochester

Living Out Loud Samuel Wells,2014-08-08 Is living an ethical life primarily about following rules or about the kind of people we are The authors of this book argue that faithful Christian discipleship is more to do with developing good habits than following rules And forming good habits requires participation in communities that transform us and those around us into the kind of people who can live God s way in God s world The book introduces key approaches to Christian ethics through a conversation between theologians church leaders and Christians equipping the church for action The main conversation partners are Stanley Hauerwas and Sam Wells who present some of their key ideas in the essays and then enter into facinating conversations with Jo Bailey Wells Luke Bretherton Steve Chalke Shane Clairbourne and Russ Rook They explore how we can live out loud as a faithful witness of Christ in our contemporary context

Daniel Johnston Henry Glassie,2020-03-03 DANIEL JOHNSTON raised on a farm in Randolph County returned from Thailand with a new way to make monumental pots Back home in North Carolina he built a log shop and a whale of a kiln for wood firing Then he set out to create beautiful pots grand in scale graceful in form and burned bright in a blend of ash and salt With mastery achieved and apprentices to teach Daniel Johnston turned his brain to massive installations First he made a hundred large jars and lined them along the rough road that runs past his shop and kiln Next he arranged curving clusters of big pots inside pine frames slatted like corn cribs to separate them from the slick interiors of four fine galleries in succession Then in concluding the second phase of his professional career Daniel Johnston built an open air installation on the grounds around the North Carolina Museum of Art where 178 handmade wood fired columns march across a slope in a straight line 350 feet in length that dips and lifts with the heave while the tops of the pots maintain a level horizon In 2000 when he was still Mark Hewitt s apprentice Daniel Johnston met Henry Glassie who has done fieldwork on ceramic traditions in the United States Brazil Italy Turkey Bangladesh China and Japan Over the years during a steady stream of intimate interviews Glassie gathered the understanding that enabled him to compose this portrait of Daniel Johnston a young artist who makes great pots in the eastern Piedmont of North Carolina

Williams, 2016-02-24 This cultural history of mainline Protestantism and American cities most notably New York City focuses on wealthy urban Episcopalians and the influential ways they used their money Peter W Williams argues that such Episcopalians many of them the country s most successful industrialists and financiers left a deep and lasting mark on American urban culture Their sense of public responsibility derived from a sacramental theology that gave credit to the material realm as a vehicle for religious experience and moral formation and they came to be distinguished by their participation in major aesthetic and social welfare endeavors Williams traces how the church helped transmit a European inflected artistic patronage that was adapted to the American scene by clergy and laity intent upon providing moral and aesthetic leadership for a society in flux Episcopalian influence is most visible today in the churches cathedrals and elite boarding schools that stand in many cities and other locations but Episcopalians also provided major support to the formation of stellar art collections the performing arts and the Arts and Crafts movement Williams argues that Episcopalians thus helped smooth the way for acceptance of materiality in religious culture in a previously iconoclastic Puritan influenced society Department of the Interior and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2002 United States.
