The Sovereignty Of Quiet Beyond Resistance In Black Culture

Mack Hagood

The Sovereignty Of Quiet Beyond Resistance In Black Culture:

The Sovereignty of Quiet Kevin Quashie, 2012-07-25 African American culture is often considered expressive dramatic and even defiant In The Sovereignty of Quiet Kevin Quashie explores quiet as a different kind of expressiveness one which characterizes a person's desires ambitions hungers vulnerabilities and fears Quiet is a metaphor for the inner life and as such enables a more nuanced understanding of black culture The book revisits such iconic moments as Tommie Smith and John Carlos's protest at the 1968 Mexico City Olympics and Elizabeth Alexander's reading at the 2009 inauguration of Barack Obama Quashie also examines such landmark texts as Gwendolyn Brooks's Maud Martha James Baldwin's The Fire Next Time and Toni Morrison's Sula to move beyond the emphasis on resistance and to suggest that concepts like surrender dreaming and waiting can remind us of the wealth of black humanity

The Anarchy of Black Religion J. Kameron Carter, 2023-07-03 In The Anarchy of Black Religion J. Kameron Carter examines the deeper philosophical theological and religious history that animates our times to advance a new approach to understanding religion Drawing on the black radical tradition and black feminism Carter explores the modern invention of religion as central to settler colonial racial technologies wherein antiblackness is a founding and guiding religious principle of the modern world He therefore sets black religion apart from modern religion even as it tries to include and enclose it Carter calls this approach the black study of religion Black religion emerges not as doctrinal confessional or denominational but as a set of poetic and artistic strategies for improvisatory living and gathering Potentiating non exclusionary belonging black religion is anarchic mystical and experimental it reveals alternative relationalities and visions of matter that can counter capitalism's extractive individualistic and imperialist ideology By enacting a black study of religion Carter elucidates the violence of religion as the violence of modern life while also opening an alternate praxis of the sacred

The Disturbing Profane Joseph R. Winters, 2025-07-04 Joseph R. Winters explores how hip hop troubles notions of the sacred and the profane arguing that it opens up its audience to a volatile notion of the sacred and the unruly qualities of Blackness

Dancing Indigenous Worlds Jacqueline Shea

Murphy, 2023-01-10 The vital role of dance in enacting the embodied experiences of Indigenous peoples In Dancing Indigenous Worlds Jacqueline Shea Murphy brings contemporary Indigenous dance makers into the spotlight putting critical dance studies and Indigenous studies in conversation with one another in fresh and exciting new ways Exploring Indigenous dance from North America and Aotearoa New Zealand she shows how dance artists communicate Indigenous ways of being as well as generate a political force engaging Indigenous understandings and histories Following specific dance works over time Shea Murphy interweaves analysis personal narrative and written contributions from multiple dance artists demonstrating dance's crucial work in asserting and enacting Indigenous worldviews and the embodied experiences of Indigenous peoples As Shea Murphy asserts these dance making practices can not only disrupt the structures that European colonization feeds upon and strives to maintain but they can also recalibrate contemporary dance Based on more than twenty years of relationship building and research Shea Murphy's work contributes to growing and largely underreported discourses on decolonizing dance studies and the geopolitical gendered racial and relational meanings that dance theorizes and negotiates She also includes discussions about the ethics of writing about Indigenous knowledge and peoples as a non-Indigenous scholar and models approaches for doing so within structures of ongoing reciprocal respectful responsible action

Hush Mack Hagood, 2019-02-14 For almost sixty years media technologies have promised users the ability to create sonic safe spaces for themselves from bedside white noise machines to Beats by Dre's Hear What You Want ad campaign in which Colin Kaepernick's headphones protect him from taunting crowds In Hush Mack Hagood draws evidence from noise canceling headphones tinnitus maskers LPs that play ocean sounds nature sound mobile apps and in-ear smart technologies to argue the true purpose of media is not information transmission but rather the control of how we engage our environment These devices which Hagood calls orphic media give users the freedom to remain unaffected in the changeable and distracting spaces of contemporary capitalism and reveal how racial gendered ableist and class ideologies shape our desire to block unwanted sounds In a noisy world of haters trolls and information overload guarded listening can be a necessity for self-care but Hagood argues our efforts to shield ourselves can also decrease our tolerance for sonic and social difference Challenging our self-defeating attempts to be free of one another he rethinks media theory sound studies and the very definition of media

For the Sake of Peace Charles L. Chavis Jr., Sixte Vigny Nimuraba, 2020-06-23 For the Sake of Peace examines racism and injustice in the United States through the eyes of those of African descent Historically America has promoted itself as the moral police promoting democracy across the globe offering her perspectives and ideas to combat poverty and racial and ethnic violence The rise of overt political racism and intolerance has made visible for a global audience for the first time since the Civil Rights Movement the deeply rooted systems of discrimination and identity-based conflicts in the United States that gives rise to structural and direct violence African Americans like other minorities find themselves in a unique position in this age as new forms of race lynching continue to go unchecked voting rights continue to be suppressed prisons continue to serve as a mechanism for disenfranchising minorities and the poor This volume centers around an understanding of peace that is concerned with justice and racial equality Highlighting the prevailing impact of anti black racism and injustice authors offer prescriptive and descriptive insight that will aid in understanding and overcoming these historical and contemporary obstacles to peace focusing on specific themes including civil rights education white supremacy structural violence ritual reparations and human rights Interdisciplinary in perspective the essays are written by leading and emerging scholars activists and practitioners from the viewpoints of history conflict analysis and resolution anthropology ethics theology and philosophy A foreword by The Rev Canon Nontombi Naomi Tutu daughter of Nobel Peace Prize winner Archbishop Desmond Tutu and Cathedral Missioner for Racial and Economic Equity at The Cathedral of All Souls in Ashville NC highlights the importance of Africana perspectives in the global pursuit of peace and equality

Interpreting the Body Anne Marie Champagne, Asia Friedman, 2023-07-28 Written by leading social scientists working in and across a variety of analytic traditions this ambitious insightful volume explores interpretation as a focal metaphor for understanding the body s influence meaning and matter in society Interpreting body and embodiment in social movements health and medicine race sex and gender globalization colonialism education and other contexts the book s chapters call into question taken for granted ideas of where the self the social world and the body begin and end Encouraging reflection and opening new perspectives on theories of the body that cut through the classic mind body divide this is an important contribution to the literature on the body Transatlantic Disbelonging Bimbola Akinbola, 2025-09-05 Bimbola Akinbola redirects the focus in diaspora studies from questions of loss and longing to acts of unapologetic self definition through the study of Nigerian diasporic women artists navigating disparate geographies allegiances and identities New Growth Jasmine Nichole Cobb, 2022-11-11 From Frederick Douglass to Angela Davis natural hair has been associated with the Black freedom struggle In New Growth Jasmine Nichole Cobb traces the history of Afro textured coiffure exploring it as a visual material through which to reimagine the sensual experience of Blackness Through close readings of slave narratives scrapbooks travel illustrations documentary films and photography as well as collage craft and sculpture from the nineteenth century to the present Cobb shows how the racial distinctions ascribed to people of African descent become simultaneously visible and tactile Whether examining Soul Train s and Ebony s promotion of the Afro hairstyle alongside styling products or how artists such as Alison Saar and Lorna Simpson underscore the construction of Blackness through the representation of hair Cobb foregrounds the inseparability of Black hair s look and feel Demonstrating that Blackness is palpable through appearance and feeling Cobb reveals the various ways that people of African descent forge new relationships to the body public space and visual culture through the embrace of Black hair Epistemic Justice, Mindfulness, and the Environmental Humanities Janelle Adsit, 2021-11-29 Epistemic Justice Mindfulness and the Environmental Humanities explores how contemplative pedagogies and mindfulness can be used in the classroom to address epistemic and environmental injustice In recent years there has been a groundswell of interest in contemplative pedagogies in higher education with increasing attention from the environmental sciences environmental humanities and sustainability studies Teachers and writers have demonstrated how mindfulness practices can be a key to anti oppression and anti racist efforts both in and out of the classroom Not all forms of contemplative pedagogy are suited for this anti colonial and anti oppressive resistance however Simply adopting mindfulness practices in the classroom is not enough to dislodge and dismantle white supremacy in higher education Epistemic Justice Mindfulness and the Environmental Humanities advocates for mindfulness practices that affirm multiple epistemologies and cultural traditions Written for educators in the environmental humanities and other related disciplines the chapters interrogate the western uptake of mindfulness practices and suggest anti colonial and anti oppressive methods for bringing mindfulness into the classroom The chapters also discuss what mindfulness practices have to offer to the pursuit of a culturally relevant pedagogy This highly applied and practical text will be an insightful read for educators in the environmental humanities and across the liberal arts disciplines African American Literature in Transition, 1920-1930: Volume 9 Miriam Thaggert, Rachel Farebrother, 2022-04-07 This book analyses historical literary and cultural shifts in African American literature from the 1920s 1930s Headstrong Laurian R. Bowles, 2025-09-23 Headstrong explores the experiences of women porters called kayayei in Accra Ghana Drawing on a decade of fieldwork anthropologist Laurian R Bowles shows how kayayei navigate precarity bringing into sharp relief how racialization rooted in histories of colonialism and enslavement undergirds capital accumulation in Ghana Bowles s ethnographic storytelling follows these women through their work as human transporters at Ghanaian markets In creatively reappropriating public spaces as private sanctuaries and in reimagining expected social relations through the cultivation of liberatory same sex intimacies kayayei develop ways to cope with the demands of their arduous labor while refusing narratives of victimhood projected on African women Bowles s analysis of the emotional labor of the gig economy in Africa shows how the infrastructure anxieties of a modernizing city intersect with the complexities of blackness in a racially homogeneous nation uncovering how antiblackness emerges in everyday public discourse development agendas and privately expressed anxieties about labor gender and sexual politics in Accra Illustrating how race sexuality and gender manifest in daily life Bowles centers kayayei often perceived to be obstacles to progress and modernity at the forefront for understanding urban Ghana s aspirations and anxieties about what it means to be a modern African country Grounded in African feminist theory and Black feminist ethnography Headstrong uses women s narratives as the central analytic for understanding the look and feel of modernity in Accra challenging long standing notions of gender race and desire in Africa Plantation Pedagogy Bayley J. Marquez, 2024-02-06 Plantation pedagogy is a form of teaching that draws on human space relations in an attempt to transform Black and Indigenous peoples as well as land This mode of education and the formal institutions that encompassed

it were integrally tied to enslavement settlement and their inherent violence toward land and people Positioned at a meeting point where Black and Native studies engage each other this work analyzes the teaching of slavery and settlement in order to understand our interconnected histories and theorize our political struggles and our futures I Don't Like the Blues B. Brian Foster, 2020-10-08 How do you love and not like the same thing at the same time This was the riddle that met Mississippi writer B Brian Foster when he returned to his home state to learn about Black culture and found himself hearing about the blues One moment Black Mississippians would say they knew and appreciated the blues The next they would say they didn't like it For five years Foster listened and asked How Why not Will it ever change This is the story of the answers to his questions In this illuminating work Foster takes us where not many blues writers and scholars have gone into the homes memories speculative visions and lifeworlds of Black folks in contemporary Mississippi to hear what they have to say about the blues and all that has come about since their forebears first sang them In so doing Foster urges us to think differently about race place and community development and models a different way of hearing the sounds of Black life a method that he calls listening for the backbeat A Guerrilla Guide to Refusal Andrew Culp, 2022-03-15 A field guide to a nonfascist life at the end of the world as we know it A Guerrilla Guide to Refusal is an unexpected approach to philosophy from a guerrilla logic point of view Harnessing critical theory to creatively reimagine counterinsurgency guerrilla warfare and interventions beyond the political mainstream it takes us on a journey through anarchist infowar queer outlaws and black insurgency through a subterranean network of communiqués military documents contemporary art political slogans adversarial blogs and captive media In doing so it provides powerful new insight into contemporary political movements that pose no demands refuse labels and offer no solutions Written to both inspire and provoke A Guerrilla Guide to Refusal urges us to think through the refusal to participate in politics as usual Author Andrew Culp demonstrates how evasion can combatively deny the existing order its power Focusing on punk cinema anarchist pamphlets feminist art projects hacker manifestos and guerrilla manuals he foregrounds invisibility as a novel force of disruption He draws on concepts of criminality fugitivity and anonymity to bring a more nuanced understanding of how power makes things and people visible The book's unique format is that of a theoretical manual comprising freestanding segments instead of blueprints Poised to reach beyond the academy into activist circles this potent theory in action intervention forces us to reconsider the terrain upon which our struggles against patriarchy anti Blackness capitalism and the state operate Reframing the Black Atlantic Aretha Phiri, 2024-08-09 Commemorating the thirtieth anniversary of Paul Gilroy's seminal text The Black Atlantic Modernity and Double Consciousness this book offers fresh interpretations of established black Atlantic scholarship from the perspective of those typically elided from its ideological purview and existential narrative The application of queer and or feminist lenses in each essay attempts to mediate these elisions and to advance potentially transformative democratising readings of the black Atlantic from both complex and complicating African and diasporic viewpoints With the aim of realigning black Atlantic scholarship in this way the edited volume proposes an interventionist approach that is concerned with problematizing ethnic cultural universalisms and challenging geographic and gendered hierarchizations Underlining the importance of aesthetic and creative cultural archives Reframing the Black Atlantic s focus on transnational African diasporic literature and other intersecting popular cultural forms probes the imaginative limits and possibilities of the black Atlantic conventionally conceived To this end this book intends not just to complicate and enhance established views of black Africa inviting the reader to locate and perceive black life lived otherwise it points towards more inclusive and expansive global understandings and visions of blackness This volume will be of particular use to researchers and students in the fields of race gender diaspora transnational literary and cultural studies The chapters of this book were originally published in Cultural Studies

A Picture Gallery of the Soul Cheryl Finley, 2022-09-13 Foreword Deborah Willis Preface Herman J Milligan Jr Preface Howard Oransky Mining the archive of black life and culture Cheryl Finley A visual politics of black pleasure crystal am nelson Why we wear a suit to do the work Seph Rodney Half in Shadow Shanna Greene Benjamin, 2021-04-01 Nellie Y McKay 1930 2006 was a pivotal figure in contemporary American letters The author of several books McKay is best known for coediting the canon making Norton Anthology of African American Literature with Henry Louis Gates Jr which helped secure a place for the scholarly study of Black writing that had been ignored by white academia However there is more to McKay s life and legacy than her literary scholarship After her passing new details about McKay s life emerged surprising everyone who knew her Why did McKay choose to hide so many details of her past Shanna Greene Benjamin examines McKay s path through the professoriate to learn about the strategies sacrifices and successes of contemporary Black women in the American academy Benjamin shows that McKay s secrecy was a necessary tactic that a Black working class woman had to employ to succeed in the white dominated space of the American English department Using extensive archives and personal correspondence Benjamin brings together McKay s private life and public work to expand how we think about Black literary history and the place of Black women in American culture The Twenty-first Century African American Novel and the Critique of Whiteness in Everyday Life E. Lâle Demirtürk, 2016-05-25 This book examines the post 9 11 African American novels developing a new critical discourse on everyday discursive practices of whiteness The critique of everyday life in the racial context of post 9 11 American society is important in considering diverse forms of the lived experiences and subjectivities of black people in the novels They help us see that African American representations of the city have political significance in that the neo urban novel explores the possibility of a black dialogic communication to build a transformative social change Since the real power of Whiteness lies in its discursive power the book reveals the urgency to understand not only how whiteness works in everyday life in American society But it also explores how to cultivate new possibilities of configuring and performing Blackness differently as a response to the post 9 11 configurations of the culture of fear to produce new ways of interactional social relations that can eventually open up the space of critical awareness for white people to work against rather than reinforce discursive practices of White supremacy in everyday life This book explores how the multiple subjectivities and transformative acts of blackness can offer ways of subverting the discursive power of the white embodied practices What defines post 9 11 America as a nation that is consumed by the fear of racialized terrorists is its roots in the fear of uncontrollable Blackness as excess and ominous threat in the domestic terrain through which the ideology of White supremacy has constructed for governing through Whiteness African American urban novels published in the twenty first century respond to the discursive power of normative Whiteness that regulates black bodies selves and lives This book demonstrates how black people contest white dominant social spaces as sites of black criminality and exclusion in an attempt to re signify them as the sites of black transformative change through personal and grassroots activism through their performativity of Blackness as an agential identity formation in their interpersonal urban social encounters with white people Hence the vulnerable spaces of Whiteness in interracial urban encounters as it pervasively addresses those moments of transformative change enacted by Black characters in the face of the discursive practices of whiteness in the everyday life These novels celebrate multifarious representations of black individuals who are capable of using their agency to subvert White discursive power in finding ways in their personal and grassroots activism to transform the culture of fear that locates Blackness as such in an attempt to make a difference in the American society at large
