This House Has Fallen Nigeria In Crisis:

This House Has Fallen Karl Maier, 2009-04-29 To understand Africa one must understand Nigeria and few Americans understand Nigeria better than Karl Maier This House Has Fallen is a bracing and disturbing report on the state of Africa's most populous potentially richest and most dangerously dysfunctional nation Each year with depressing consistency Nigeria is declared the most corrupt state in the entire world Though Nigeria is a nation into which billions of dollars of oil money flow its per capita income has fallen dramatically in the past two decades Military coup follows military coup A bellwether for Africa it is a country of rising ethnic tensions and falling standards of living very possibly on the verge of utter collapse a collapse that could dramatically overshadow even the massacres in Rwanda A brilliant piece of reportage and travel writing This House Has Fallen looks into the Nigerian abyss and comes away with insight profound conclusions and even some hope Updated with a new preface by the author This House Has Fallen Custom Edition Karl Maier, 2013-09-10 This Fiction Called Nigeria

Adéwálé Májà-Pearce, 2024-10-08 In this groundbreaking work the essayist and critic Adewale Maja Pearce delivers a mordant verdict on Nigeria's crisis of democracy A mosaic of ethnic and religious groups the most populous country in Africa was fabricated by British colonizers at the turn of the twentieth century In the years since its independence in 1960 Nigeria spent an unbroken quarter century as a military dictatorship Yet the blessings of today's democracy are unclear to many especially among the more than half of the population living in extreme poverty Buffeted by unemployment saddled with debt menaced by bandits and Islamic fundamentalists Nigeria faces the threat of disintegration Maja Pearce shows that recent mobilizations against police brutality sexism and homophobia reveal a powerful undercurrent of discontent especially among the country's youth If Nigeria has a future he shows here it is in the hands of young people unwilling to go on as before Nigerian Politics and Corruption Kyrian Chukwuemeka Echekwu, 2017-06-02 Corruption is alive and well in Nigeria and it must be eliminated Moreover the Nigerian church can no longer watch it go unchecked Though conscious of his limitations as a priest and theologian the author takes an in depth look at how corruption has taken hold of Nigeria and its people in this scholarly work He challenges the church as a socio moral actor and the civil authorities that govern Nigeria arguing that the nation will collapse if corruption continues He notes that even though the Nigerian people have lashed out against corruption it has only gotten worse either because morality has been relegated to the background or not enough has been done to inculcate morality into Nigeria's politics The author employs a holistic approach in examining issues such as bishops and their vision of Nigeria vis vis Nigerian politics democracy and the power equation among the various arms of government principal biases that characterize Nigerian politics and class affiliation and its impact in Nigerian politics Find out how corruption is ruining Nigeria and discover how the church and government can work together to fix the problem in Nigerian Politics and Corruption Litpop: Writing and Popular Music Rachel Carroll, Adam Hansen, 2016-05-13

Bringing together exciting new interdisciplinary work from emerging and established scholars in the UK and beyond Litpop addresses the question how has writing past and present been influenced by popular music and vice versa Contributions explore how various forms of writing have had a crucial role to play in making popular music what it is and how popular music informs literary writing in diverse ways The collection features musicologists literary critics experts in cultural studies and creative writers organised in three themed sections Making Litpop explores how hybrids of writing and popular music have been created by musicians and authors Thinking Litpop considers what critical or intellectual frameworks help us to understand these hybrid cultural forms Finally Consuming Litpop examines how writers deal with music s influence how musicians engage with literary texts and how audiences of music and writing understand their own role in making Litpop happen Discussing a range of genres and periods of writing and popular music this unique collection identifies theorizes and problematises connections between different forms of expression making a vital contribution to popular musicology and literary and cultural studies

Political Violence and Oil in Africa Zainab Ladan Mai-Bornu,2020-06-08 The book argues that in order to better understand the undercurrents of the Niger Delta conflict it is imperative to analyse the dynamics of choice in terms of the distinct courses of action taken by the Ogoni and Ijaw Given the similar structural constraints the author considers why the Ogoni adopted nonviolent resistance and the Ijaw violent resistance This book is divided into seven chapters starting with an introduction to oil and political violence in African conflicts and includes a synoptic overview of four other resource rich countries in Africa Theoretical and conceptual underpinnings of conflict are then presented with the aim of situating the Niger Delta conflicts within the wider conflict literature Chapter Three concentrates the discussion on the Nigerian Niger Delta outlining the core issues at the centre of the contestations The following three chapters offer an in depth empirical analysis on the interaction between the narratives on nonviolence versus violence the nature of leadership styles and the organisation of the Ogoni and Ijaw movements along with a concluding chapter

Oil on the Brain Lisa Margonelli,2007-01-30 Oil on the Brain is a smart surprisingly funny account of the oil industry the people economies and pipelines that bring us petroleum brilliantly illuminating a world we encounter every day Americans buy ten thousand gallons of gasoline a second without giving it much of a thought Where does all this gas come from Lisa Margonelli s desire to learn took her on a one hundred thousand mile journey from her local gas station to oil fields half a world away In search of the truth behind the myths she wriggled her way into some of the most off limits places on earth the Strategic Petroleum Reserve the New York Mercantile Exchange s crude oil market oil fields from Venezuela to Texas to Chad and even an Iranian oil platform where the United States fought a forgotten one day battle In a story by turns surreal and alarming Margonelli meets lonely workers on a Texas drilling rig an oil analyst who almost gave birth on the NYMEX trading floor Chadian villagers who are said to wander the oil fields in the guise of lions a Nigerian warlord who changed the world price of oil with a single cell phone call and Shanghai bureaucrats who dream of creating a new Detroit Deftly piecing together the mammoth economy of oil Margonelli finds a series of stark warning signs for American drivers Nigeria Since Independence J. Hill, 2012-10-10 This book analyses the political and ethnical tensions that characterize Nigeria which derive both from colonial and contemporary conflicts It points out three major factors why Nigeria has not yet collapsed like many other African states ethnic power sharing amongst the political elite the military with its national outlook and oil wealth Obasanjo, Nigeria and the World John Iliffe, 2011 Olusegun Obasanjo has been the most important and controversial figure in Nigeria's first 50 years of independence and the most powerful African of his time John Iliffe examines Olusegun Obasanjo's complex personality and the extreme controversy he arouses among Nigerians and illustrates the immense demands made on a leader of a state like Nigeria
