1 VALUE MORALITY AND ACTION FACT THEORY AND METATHEORY

We take it that all animals evaluate some things and some processes and that some of them learn the social behavior patterns we call moral principles and even act according to them at least some of the time An animal incapable of evaluating anything would be very short lived and a social animal that did not observe the accepted social behavior patterns would be punished These are facts about values morals and behavior patterns they are incorporated into the bodies of animals or the structure of social groups We distinguish the facts of valuation morality and action from the study of such facts This study can be scientific philosophic or both A zoologist may investigate the way an animal evaluates environmental or internal stimuli a social psychologist may examine the way children learn or fail to learn certain values and norms when placed in certain environments And a philosopher may study such descriptive or explanatory studies with a view to evaluating valuations moral norms or behavior patterns he may analyze the very concepts of value morals and action as well as their cognates or he may criticize or reconstruct value beliefs moral norms and action plans

National Human Rights Action Planning
Azadeh Chalabi, 2018-07-18 This book deals with human rights action planning as a largely under researched area from theoretical doctrinal empirical and practical perspectives and as such provides the most comprehensive studies of human rights planning to date At the theoretical level by advancing a novel general theory of human rights planning it offers an alternative to the traditional state centric model of planning This new theory contains four sub theories contextual substantive procedural and analytical ones At the doctrinal level by conducting a textual analysis of core human rights conventions it reveals the scope and nature of the states obligation to adopt a plan of action for implementing human rights At the empirical level a cross case analysis of national human rights action plans of 53 countries is conducted exploring the major problems of these plans in different phases of planning and uncovering the underlying causes of these problems At the practical level this volume sets out how these plans should be developed and implemented how they can be best monitored by international human rights bodies and how to maximize their effectiveness With discussions bridging human rights theory and practice and development discourse this book will be a useful resource for a wide range of audiences from academics of different disciplines law human rights social policy political science political philosophy legal philosophy development studies planning studies socio legal studies to governments human rights practitioners and the UN human rights bodies

The Explanation of Crime Per-Olof H. Wikström, Robert J. Sampson, 2006-11-30 Integration of disciplines theories and research orientations has assumed a central role in criminological discourse yet it remains difficult to identify any concrete discoveries or significant breakthroughs for which integration has been responsible Concentrating on three key concepts context mechanisms and development this volume aims to advance integrated scientific knowledge on crime causation by bringing together different scholarly approaches Through an analysis of the roles of behavioural contexts and individual differences in crime causation The Explanation of Crime seeks to provide a unified and focused approach to the integration of knowledge Chapter topics range from individual genetics to family environments and from ecological behaviour settings to the macro level context of communities and social systems This is a comprehensive treatment of the problem of crime causation that will appeal to graduate students and researchers in criminology and be of great interest to policy makers and practitioners in crime policy and prevention
