Violent States and Creative States (2 Volume Set) John Adlam, Tilman Kluttig, Bandy Lee, 2018-05-03 This is a provocative collection exploring the different types of violence and how they relate to one another examined through the integration of several disciplines including forensic psychotherapy psychiatry sociology psychosocial studies and political science By examining the violent states of mind behind specific forms of violence and the social and societal contexts in which an individual act of human violence takes place the contributors reveal the dynamic forces and reasoning behind specific forms of violence including structural violence and conceptualise the societal structures themselves as violent states Other research often stops short at examining the causes and risk factors for violence without considering the opposite states that may not only mitigate but allow for a different unfolding of individual and societal evolution As a potential antidote to violence the authors prescribe an understanding of these creative states with their psychological origins and their importance in human behaviour and meaning seeking Making a call to move beyond merely mitigating violence to the opposite direction of fostering creative potential this book is foundational in its capacity to cultivate social consciousness and effect positive change in areas of governance policy making and collective responsibility This two volume set includes Volume 1 Structural Violence and Creative Structures ISBN 9781785925641 Volume 2 Human Violence and Creative Humanity ISBN 9781785925658

Rock Art and the

Wild Mind Ingrid Fuglestad, 2017-12-22 Rock Art and the Wild Mind presents a study of Mesolithic rock art on the Scandinavian peninsula including the large rock art sites in Alta N mforse and Vingen Hunters rock art of this area despite local styles bears a strong commonality in what it depicts most often terrestrial big game in diverse confrontations with the human realm The various types of compositions are defined as visual thematizations of the enigmatic relationship between humans and big game animals These thematizations here defined as motemes are explained as being products of the Mesolithic mind in action observed through repetitions variations and transformations of a number of defined motemes Through a transformational logic the transition from animic to totemic rock art is observed Totemic rock art reaches a peak during the final stages of the Late Mesolithic and it is suggested that this can be interpreted as representing an increasing focus on human society towards the end of this era The move from animism to totemism is explained as being part of the overall social development on the Scandinavian peninsula This book will be of interest to students of rock art generally and scholars working on the historical developments of prehistoric hunter gatherers in northern Europe It will also appeal to students and academics in the fields of art history and aesthetics and to those interested in the work of L vi Strauss

The Metamorphoses of Kinship Maurice Godelier, 2012-03-03 With marriage in decline divorce on the rise the demise of the nuclear family and the increase in marriages and adoptions among same sex partners it is clear that the structures of kinship in the modern West are in a state of flux In The Metamorphoses of Kinship the world renowned anthropologist Maurice Godelier contextualizes these developments surveying the accumulated experience of humanity with regard to such phenomena as the organization of lines of descent sexuality and sexual prohibitions In parallel Godelier studies the evolution of Western conjugal and familial traditions from their roots in the nineteenth century to the present The conclusion he draws is that it is never the case that a man and a woman are sufficient on their own to raise a child and nowhere are relations of kinship or the family the keystone of society Godelier argues that the changes of the last thirty years do not herald the disappearance or death agony of kinship but rather its remarkable metamorphosis one that ironically is bringing us closer to the traditional societies studied by ethnologists

Orientalism in French Classical Drama Michèle Longino, 2006-03-16 Michèle Longino examines the ways in which Mediterranean exoticism inflects the themes represented in French classical drama Longino explores plays by Corneille Molière and Racine

Le Cid M d e and Le bourgeois gentilhomme among others She offers a consideration of the role the staging of the near Orient played in shaping a sense of French colonial identity Drawing on histories travel journals memoirs and correspondence and bringing together literary and historical concerns Longino considers these dramatisations in the context of French Ottoman relations at the time of their production The Colonial Origins of Modern Social Thought George Steinmetz,2025-02-25 A new history of French social thought that connects postwar sociology to colonialism and empire In this provocative and original retelling of the history of French social thought George Steinmetz places the history and development of modern French sociology in the context of the French empire after World War II Connecting the rise of all the social sciences with efforts by France and other imperial powers to consolidate control over their crisis ridden colonies Steinmetz argues that colonial research represented a crucial core of the nascent academic discipline of sociology especially between the late 1930s and the 1960s Sociologists who became favored partners of colonial governments were asked to apply their expertise to such social problems as detribalization urbanization poverty and labor migration This colonial orientation permeated all the major subfields of sociological research Steinmetz contends and is at the center of the work of four influential scholars Raymond Aron Jacques Berque Georges Balandier and Pierre Bourdieu In retelling this history Steinmetz develops and deploys a new methodological approach that combines attention to broadly contextual factors dynamics within the intellectual development of the social sciences and sociology in particular and close readings of sociological texts He moves gradually toward the postwar sociologists of colonialism and their writings beginning with the most macroscopic contexts which included the postwar reoccupation of the French empire and the turn to developmentalist policies and the resulting demand for new forms of social scientific expertise After exploring the colonial engagement of researchers in sociology and neighboring fields before and after 1945 he turns to detailed examinations of the work of Aron who created a sociology of empires Berque the leading historical sociologist of North Africa Balandier the founder of French Africanist sociology and Bourdieu whose renowned theoretical concepts were forged in war torn late colonial Algeria
