Historical Dictionary of the Zulu Wars John Laband, 2009-05-18 Between 1838 and 1888 the recently formed Zulu kingdom in southeastern Africa was directly challenged by the incursion of Boer pioneers aggressively seeking new lands on which to set up their independent republics by English speaking traders and hunters establishing their neighboring colony and by imperial Britain intervening in Zulu affairs to safeguard Britain's position as the paramount power in southern Africa. As a result, the Zulu fought to resist Boer invasion in 1838 and British invasion in 1879. The internal strains these wars caused to the fabric of Zulu society resulted in civil wars in 1840, 1856, and 1882-1884, and Zululand itself was repeatedly partitioned between the Boers and British. In 1888, the old order in Zululand attempted a final unsuccessful uprising against recently imposed British rule. This tangled web of invasions, civil wars, and rebellion is complex. The Historical Dictionary of the Zulu Wars unravels and elucidates Zulu history during the 50 years between the initial settler threat to the kingdom and its final dismemberment and absorption into the colonial order. A chronology, an introductory essay, a bibliography, maps, photos, and over 900 cross-referenced dictionary entries that cover the military, politics, society, economics, culture, and key players during the Zulu Wars make this an important reference for everyone from high school students to academics. Chicorel Index to Poetry in Anthologies and Collections in Print

Marietta Chicorel, 1975 Chicorel Index to Poetry in Anthologies and Collections in Print: A-Ex Marietta Chicorel, 1974 Yeats and Modern Poetry Edna Longley, 2013-11-11 This book from renowned poetry critic Edna Longley presents fresh dynamic perspectives on W. B. Yeats' enduring legacy. Growing Up with Poetry David Rubadiri, 1989 This challenging anthology is designed for the enjoyment and instruction of students from junior secondary level onwards. The poems focus on aspects central to African life and culture: love, identity, death, village life, separation, power, and freedom. The introduction gives valuable guidance to teachers on how to use the anthology and question material. A glossary of technical terms at the end of the book ensures a complete understanding of all poems featured. The Poem in the Story Harold Scheub, 2002-12-05 Fact and fiction meet at the boundaries between the betwixt and between where transformations occur. This is the area of ambiguity where fiction and fact become endowed with meaning, and this is the area where ambiguity, irony, and metaphor join forces that Harold Scheub exposes in all its nuanced and evocative complexity in The Poem in the Story. In a career devoted to exploring the art of the African storyteller, Scheub has conducted some of the most interesting and provocative investigations into nonverbal aspects of storytelling: the complex relationship between artist and audience and most dramatically, the role played by poetry in storytelling. This book is his most daring effort yet: an unconventional work that searches out what makes a story artistically engaging and emotionally evocative, the metaphorical center that Scheub calls the poem in the story. Drawing on extensive fieldwork in southern Africa and decades of experience as a researcher and teacher, Scheub develops an original approach: a blend of field notes, diary entries, photographs, and texts of stories and poems that guides readers into a new way of viewing even experiencing meaning in a story. Though this work is largely focused on African storytelling, its universal applications emerge when Scheub brings the work of storytellers as different as Shakespeare and Faulkner into the discussion. Writing and Translating Francophone Discourse Paul F. Bandia, 2014-01-01 This book is a much needed contribution to interdisciplinary research on the intersection of French and Francophone Studies and Translation Studies It highlights the symbiotic relationship between the two disciplines whereby theories and concepts developed in translation studies provide useful models and paradigms for studying francophone literature while major concepts that hold sway in the francophone world provide a solid basis for elucidating and understanding translation phenomena The book is at once a contribution to the growing field of postcolonial francophone studies and the sub area of postcolonial translation theory Contributors are experts from a variety of disciplines and hail from various regions across the globe What unites them is their interest in translation and its conceptualization both as an interlinguistic practice and a metaphor for intercultural communication and transcultural relations The contributions draw on literature film historical documents and critical theories by French and francophone thinkers highlighting the significance of translation for African Caribbean and migrant francophone discourse

Death and Compassion Dan Wylie, 2018-10-01 Traces the literary history of the elephant and its role in South Africa's cultural imaginary Elephants are in dire straits again They were virtually extirpated from much of Africa by European hunters in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries but their numbers resurged for a while in the heyday of late colonial conservation efforts in the twentieth Now according to one estimate an elephant is being killed every 15 minutes This is at the same time that the reasons for being especially compassionate and protective towards elephants are now so well known that they have become almost a cliché their high intelligence rich emotional lives including a capacity for mourning caring matriarchal societal structures that strangely charismatic grace Saving elephants is one of the iconic conservation struggles of our time As a society we must aspire to understand how and why people develop compassion or fail to do so and what stories we tell ourselves about animals that reveal the relationship between ourselves and animals This book is the first study to probe the primary features and possible effects of some major literary genres as they pertain to elephants south of the Zambezi over three centuries indigenous forms early European travelogues hunting accounts novels game ranger memoirs scientists accounts and poems It examines what these literatures imply about the various and diverse attitudes towards elephants about who shows compassion towards them in what ways and why It is the story of a developing contestation between death and compassion between those who kill and those who love and protect respected and widely published historian John Laband examines the reigns of the eight Zulu kings from 1816 to the present. Starting with King Shaka the renowned founder of the Zulu kingdom he charts the lives of the kings Dingane Mpande Cetshwayo Dinuzulu Solomon and Cyprian to today's King Goodwill Zwelithini whose role is little more than ceremonial. In the course of this investigation Laband places the Zulu monarchy in the context of African kingship and tracks and analyses the trajectory of the Zulu kings from independent and powerful pre colonial African rulers to largely powerless traditionalist figures in post apartheid South Africa.

A Selection from the Poems of Giosue Carducci Giosuè Carducci, 1921 Littack, 1973

Literatures in African Languages B. W. Andrzejewski, S. Pilaszewicz, W. Tyloch, 1985-11-21 Although African literatures in English and French are widely known outside Africa those in the African languages themselves have not received comparable attention. In this book a number have been selected for survey by fourteen specialist writers providing the reader with an introduction to this very wide field and a body of reference material which includes extensive bibliographies and biographical information on African authors. Theoretical issues such as genre divisions are discussed in the essays and the historical social and political forces at work in the creation and reception of African literature are examined. Literature is treated as an art whose medium is language so that both the oral and written forms are encompassed. This book will be of value not only to readers concerned with the cultures of Africa but to all those with an interest in the literary phenomena of the world in general.

New Language Bearings in Africa Margaret Jepkirui Muthwii, Angelina Nduku Kioko, 2004-01-01 The collection of papers in this special volume discuss issues and challenges that are pertinent in understanding present day moves and tendencies in the use of languages in the African contexts. The volume's major asset lies in the diversity of topics, the range of languages and the African geographical areas covered. Not only do the contributors come from different nations in Africa but also many of them are established scholars who interact with and interpret the unique situations in their nations on a daily basis.

Text, Theory, Space Kate Darian-Smith, Liz Gunner, Sarah Nuttall, 2005-08-04 Focusing on two white settler societies South Africa and Australia this book investigates the meaning of the South as an aesthetic political geographical and cultural space. This is a landmark in post colonial theory and criticism.
