The Storytelling Animal How Stories Make Us Human:

The Storytelling Animal Jonathan Gottschall, 2012 A provocative scholar delivers the first book on the new science of storytelling the latest thinking on why we tell stories and what stories reveal about human nature The Storytelling Animal Jonathan Gottschall, 2020-06-11 Insightful draws from disparate corners of history and science to celebrate our compulsion to storify everything around us The New York Times Book Review Humans live in landscapes of make believe We spin fantasies We devour novels films and plays Even sporting events and criminal trials unfold as narratives Yet the world of story has remained an undiscovered and unmapped country It s easy to say that humans are wired for story but why In this delightful original book Jonathan Gottschall offers the first unified theory of storytelling He argues that stories help us navigate life s complex social problems just as flight simulators prepare pilots for difficult situations Storytelling has evolved like other behaviors to ensure our survival Drawing on the latest research in neuroscience psychology and evolutionary biology Gottschall tells us what it means to be a storytelling animal Did you know that the more absorbed you are in a story the more it changes your behavior That all children act out the same kinds of stories whether they grow up in a slum or a suburb That people who read more fiction are more empathetic Of course our story instinct has a darker side It makes us vulnerable to conspiracy theories advertisements and narratives about ourselves that are more truthy than true National myths can also be terribly dangerous Hitler s ambitions were partly fueled by a story But as Gottschall shows stories can also powerfully change the world for the better We know we are master shapers of story The Storytelling Animal finally reveals how stories shape us Lively San Francisco Chronicle Absorbing Minneapolis Star Tribune One of my favorite evolutionary psych writers always insightful and witty Steven Pinker Born to Choose John H Falk, 2017-09-05 Born to Choose is John H Falk s compelling account of why and how we make the endless set of choices we do every second of every day of our lives Synthesizing research from across the biological and social sciences Falk argues that human choice making is an evolutionarily ancient and complex process He suggests that all our choices are influenced by very basic and early evolving needs and that ultimately each choice is designed to support survival in the guise of perceived well being This engaging book breaks new intellectual ground and enhances our understanding not just of human choice making but human behavior overall

Disruptive Inclusion Jen Smith, 2024-03-31 What is Christian adult learning What questions are raised when Christian faith and learning meet Many existing approaches primarily address issues such as curriculum content or teacher character Building on the work of John Hull Disruptive Inclusion approaches the intersection of theology and pedagogy suggesting that the christianness of Christian adult learning is best expressed by the posture adopted by learners not only via what is taught and by whom Specifically Jen Smith claims that a key to Christian adult learning posture is how learners include the unexpected and disruptive in their learning Drawing on key resources such as the biblical narrative Christian tradition liturgy community and her own experiences Jen takes us on a deeply personal and practical journey into disruptive inclusion and invites us to re imagine what effective Christian adult learning might look like in the classroom pulpit and online learning settings

Writing Online and Audio Stories Anna Faherty, 2023-12-22 Guiding readers through the unique challenges and choices presented by digital publication this book provides a practical set of tools to help students creatives and content professionals craft emotionally engaging nonfiction stories for online readers and listeners From considering what story to tell to bringing narratives to life in practice

Anna Faherty explains what gives stories their unique power and demonstrates how to successfully combine techniques from short stories and screenwriting with journalistic practices like fact checking and verification. Examples from corporate websites, personal blogs, podcasts, and social media set out how to attract and involve readers and listeners and how to prompt them to take action. Readers will come away with a straightforward framework for planning and crafting storytelling projects and an understanding of text and script development, copyright, and editing. Each chapter includes summaries of key principles and practical writing tips, while case studies share insights from writers' professional practices, including those who use storytelling to influence customers or advocate for change. Writing Online and Audio Stories is a valuable entry point for creative writers, podcasters, and professionals in PR and marketing, as well as students undertaking courses such as Digital Writing: Creative Nonfiction and Multimedia Storytelling. Power E-Learning With Stories Hadiya Nuriddin, 2014-10-22. Humans are wired to remember stories. In fact, people are more, not less, likely to remember what they've learned if you teach knowledge, skills, and attitudes using a story structure. Further, e-learning is a hospitable host for stories because it can be an intimate experience between the learners and the content. In this issue of TD at Work, Hadiya Nuriddin details why storytelling is powerful in e-learning and explains how to use adult learning theory to explain to stakeholders the reasons storytelling works. A process for incorporating storytelling into e-learning. Best practices for designing transformative stories into e-learning courses. Tools. Resources in this issue are a story spine template and a building characters template.

Screen Stories Carl Plantinga, 2018-04-06. The way we communicate with each other is vital to preserving the cultural ecology or wellbeing of a place and time. Do we listen to each other? Do we ask the right questions? Do we speak about each other with respect or disdain? The stories that we convey on screens or what author Carl Plantinga calls screen stories are one powerful and pervasive means by which we communicate with each other. Screen Stories: Emotion and the Ethics of Engagement argues that film and media studies needs to move toward an approach to ethics that is more appropriate for mass consumer culture and the lives of its citizens. Primarily concerned with the relationship between media and viewers, this book considers ethical criticism and the emotional power of screen stories that makes such criticism necessary. The content we consume from television shows and movies to advertisements can significantly affect our welfare on a personal and societal level, and thus this content is subject to praise and celebration or questioning and even condemnation. The types of screen stories that circulate contribute to the cultural ecology of a time and place; through shared attention, they influence what individuals think and feel. Plantinga develops a theory of the power of screen stories to affect both individuals and cultures, asserting that we can better respond ethically to such media if we understand the sources of its influence on us.
