Treating Trauma and Traumatic Grief in Children and Adolescents, Treating Complex Trauma in Adolescents and Young Adults John N. Briere, Cheryl B. Lanktree, 2012 Bad Blood reveals that Bastille is a synth driven band that isn't particularly arty something of a rarity during the electronic pop revival of the 2000s and 2010s Where many of their contemporaries used the glamour of synth pop's 80s heyday and electronic music's infinite possibilities to craft shiny pop fantasies Bastille builds on the glossy anthemic approach they set forth on the Laura Palmer EP the title track which is included here might also be the least arty song inspired by David Lynch's surreal soap opera Twin Peaks. Early highlights like Pompeii, These Streets and the title track boast panoramic choruses and sleek arrangements that hint at a kinship with Empire of the Sun and Delphic while the handclaps and popping bassline on the otherwise moody Icarus recall Hot Chip at their most confessional. However, most of Bad Blood suggests that Bastille are actually an electronically enhanced upgrade of sweeping British pop traditionalists like Keane or Coldplay. The band updates Oblivion's piano balladry with ping-ponging drums and contrasts Dan Smith's throaty singing and searching lyrics 'There's a hole in my soul, can you fill it with a tumbling beat' on Flaws. Like the aforementioned acts, Bastille has a way with heartfelt melodies and choruses that resonate particularly on the driving Things We Lost in the Fire and Get Home where the slightly processed vocals also evoke Sia, Imogen Heap and other electronic friendly singer-songwriters. While the band occasionally gets a little too self-serious on the album's second half, Bad Blood is a solid polished debut that fans of acts like Snow Patrol who don't mind more electronics in the mix might appreciate more than synth-pop aficionados. Treating Adolescents Hans Steiner, Rebecca E. Hall, 2015-03-16 A unique guide to adolescent psychopathology using a developmental approach. Treating Adolescents is a comprehensive guide to adolescent mental health care synthesizing evidence-based practice and practice-based perspectives to give providers the best advice available. By limiting the discussion to disorders which appear during adolescence, this useful manual can delve more deeply into each to present extensive evidence and practice-based rationales for approaching a range of psychopathologies. This edition has been revised to reflect the changes in the DSM-5 and the ICD-10 with entirely new chapters on ADHD, learning and executive function, bipolar and mood disorders, sleep disorders and suicide and self-injury. Coverage includes non-therapy interventions such as pharmacological and environmental. The discussion of schizophrenia and psychotic disorders includes adolescent presentations of Pervasive Developmental Disorders and their relationship to classical schizophrenia. In a developmental approach to adolescent psychopathology, different treatments are carefully integrated and matched to pathogenic processes in an effort to disrupt causal loops. This book provides in-depth guidance for providers seeking well-rounded treatment plans with detailed explanations and expert insight. Understand disruptive behaviors and ADHD more deeply. Treat anxiety, depression and mood disorders more effectively. Handle psychiatric traumas and related psychopathologies. Delve into substance abuse, self-harm, eating disorders and more. Current scholarship favors developmental approaches to psychopathology and supports an emphasis on integrated treatment packages including environmental, biologic and psychological interventions. With full integration of practice and research, Treating Adolescents is a comprehensive reference for constructing a complete treatment strategy.

Treating and Preventing Adolescent Mental Health Disorders Dwight L. Evans, Edna B. Foa, Raquel E. Gur, Herbert Hendin, Charles P. O'Brien, Daniel Romer, Martin E.P. Seligman, B. Timothy Walsh, 2017-07-12 Sponsored by the Adolescent Mental Health Initiative of the Annenberg Public Policy Center (APPC) of the University of Pennsylvania and the Annenberg Foundation Trust.

at Sunnylands Trust Treating and Preventing Adolescent Mental Health Disorders Second Edition provides a major update since the first edition in 2005. It addresses the current state of knowledge about the major mental health disorders that emerge during adolescence including updated DSM 5 diagnostic criteria. Here six commissions established by the APPC and the Sunnylands Trust pool their expertise on adolescent anxiety, schizophrenia, substance use disorders, depression, and bipolar disorders, eating disorders, and suicidal behavior in sections that thoroughly define each disorder, outline and assess available treatments, discuss prevention strategies, and suggest a research agenda based on what we know and don't yet know about these various conditions. Two additional behavioral disorders, gambling and internet addiction, are covered in this second edition. As a meaningful counterpoint to its primary focus on mental illness, the volume also incorporates the latest research from a seventh commission on positive youth development, which addresses how we can fully prepare young people to be happy and successful throughout their lives. Concluding chapters discuss overarching issues regarding the behavioral and mental health of adolescents, overcoming the stigma of mental illness, the research policy and practice context for the delivery of evidence-based treatments, and the development of a more robust agenda to advance adolescent health. Integrating the work of eminent scholars in both psychology and psychiatry, this work will be an essential volume for academics and practicing clinicians and will serve as a wake-up call to mental health professionals and policy makers alike about the state of our nation's response to the needs of adolescents with mental disorders.

Evaluating and Treating Adolescent Suicide Attempters Anthony Spirito, James C. Overholser, 2003. Evaluating and Treating Adolescent Suicide Attempters provides a comprehensive overview of the emotional, behavioral, and cognitive characteristics of adolescents who have attempted suicide. Each chapter opens with a case study vignette from the author's extensive clinical files, followed by a summary of the empirical literature. Assessment and treatment practices close each chapter. While suicide is the third largest killer of adolescents, most suicide attempts do not result in death. Therefore, the treatment of the suicide attempter following the attempt becomes a significant part of the clinician's work with these adolescents. Moreover, the precursors and behavioral markers for a suicide attempt become important signals for the school counselor, youth worker, or therapist. This book also includes assessment measures to use when evaluating an adolescent who has attempted suicide. Includes an outline form of an assessment battery for adolescents who have attempted suicide. Analyzes and discusses treatment and case studies. Presents detailed descriptions of specific therapy techniques useful with adolescents who attempt suicide. Includes succinct reviews of the literature, ways to measure relevant factors related to suicidal behavior, tips for clinicians, and reviews of pertinent assessment measures.
