

TRIDENT CODE

A dark, atmospheric illustration of a submarine on the surface of the ocean at night. The submarine's conning tower and a portion of its hull are visible, emerging from the dark water. A bright green light source, possibly a searchlight or a distant light, creates a strong beam of light that illuminates the submarine and the surrounding water, casting a green glow over the entire scene. The water is dark with some ripples, and the sky is black.
