Troop Leader A Tank Commanders Story:

Troop Leader Bill Bellamy, Richard Holmes, 2007-03-15 Bill Bellamy was a young officer in the 8th King's Royal Irish Hussars from 1943 to 1955. He served in 7th Armoured Division in the North West Europe campaign landing in Normandy on D-Day, fought throughout the Battle for Normandy and into the Low Countries as a troop leader in Cromwell tanks and was latterly a member of the initial occupying force in Berlin in May 1945. Against the rules Bill kept diaries and notes of his experiences. His account is fresh and open and his descriptions of battle are vivid. He witnessed many of his contemporaries killed in action and this life altering experience clearly informs his narrative. The accounts of tank fighting in the leafy Normandy bocage in the height of summer or in the iron hard fields of Holland in winter are graphic and compelling.

British Tank Crewman 1939-45 Neil Grant, 2017-11-30 Great Britain had introduced the tank to the world during World War I and maintained its lead in armoured warfare with the Experimental Mechanised Force during the late 1920s watched with interest by German advocates of Blitzkrieg. Despite these successes the Experimental Mechanised Force was disbanded in the 1930s making Britain relatively unprepared for World War II both in terms of armoured doctrine and equipment. This fully illustrated new study examines the men who crewed the tanks of Britain's armoured force during World War II which was only four battalions large in 1939. It looks at the recruitment and training of the vast numbers of men required, their equipment, appearance and combat experience in every theatre of the war as the British armoured division sought to catch up with the German Panzers.

British Armoured Divisions and Their Commanders, 1939-1945 Richard Doherty, 2013-07-16 A total of eleven British armoured divisions were formed during the 1939-1945 war but as this highly informative book reveals just eight saw action. In 1940 only 1st Armoured Division faced the German blitzkrieg and it was in the North African desert that armoured divisions came into their own. The terrain was ideal and six such divisions of Eighth Army fought Rommel's Panzers into submission. Three were disbanded prior to the invasion of Sicily and Italy. The campaign from D-Day onwards saw the Guards Armoured, 7th Armoured, the Desert Rats, 11th and Percy Hobart's 79th Armoured Division in the thick of the action. Of particular interest are the men who commanded these elite formations and the way their characters contributed to the outcome of operations. While some such as Dick McCreery went onto greater heights others did not make the grade; the stakes were high. A number such as Pip Roberts were just perfectly suited in the role. Written by a leading military historian, this book describes many fascinating aspects of armoured warfare from its uncertain beginnings through the development of tactics and the evolving tank design. Due to British deficiencies, reliance had to be placed on US Grants and Shermans, with the Comet coming late and the Centurion too late. The combination of gripping historical narrative and well researched fact make this an invaluable and highly readable work on the contribution of British Armoured Divisions to victory in the Second World War.
