Trade And Transport Corridor Management Toolkit Trade And Development:

Trade and Transport Corridor Management Toolkit Charles Kunaka, Robin Carruthers, 2014-05-07 Trade and transport corridors major routes that facilitate the movement of people and goods between regions and between countries have existed for millennia They enable regions and countries to offer high capacity transport systems and services that reduce trade and transport costs by creating economies of scale Regional corridors are particularly important to landlocked countries often providing the only overland routes to regional and international markets Despite a long and complex history guidance is often lacking on how to design determine the components to include and analyze the impact of corridor projects The Trade and Transport Corridor Management Toolkit fills this void The Toolkit synthesizes the experiences of the World Bank and other development agencies in assessing designing implementing and evaluating the impact of trade and transport corridor projects It saves project developers the task of looking for the best available tools and ensures greater consistency to facilitate comparison and benchmarking The Toolkit will also be of immense value to policy makers in provincial and national governments as well as regional economic institutions for several reasons Corridors affect the space economy of countries they are best developed with clear estimates of the spatial impacts that can be expected A corridor system has multiple components including infrastructure roads railways ports transport and logistics services and regulations it is important to appreciate the linkages between them particularly as the overall performance of a corridor is determined by the weakest component Many parties with varying interests and motivations have a stake in corridor development The Toolkit argues for their full participation in corridor development processes and operations The best functioning modern corridors in the world did not happen by accident they are often the results of coordinated development and cooperation over many years The general principles outlined in this Toolkit should help project teams government officials logistics service providers and the trade community to better appreciate both the importance of good corridor project design and the challenges of and possibilities from improving corridor performance

Trade and Transport Corridor Management Toolkit Charles Kunaka, Robin Carruthers, 2014-05-07 Trade and transport corridors are fundamental to the overland movement of international trade particularly for landlocked countries This book provides tools and techniques for the design of trade and transport corridor projects It is meant for task managers policy makers and corridor service providers

Natural Resource-Based Development in Africa Nathan Andrews,J. Andrew Grant,Jesse Salah Ovadia,2022-03-01 There is no question that Africa is endowed with abundant natural resources of different magnitudes However more than a decade of high commodity prices and new hydrocarbon discoveries across the continent has led countless international organizations donor agencies and non governmental organizations to devote considerable attention to the potential of natural resource based development Natural Resource Based Development in Africa places a particular emphasis on the actors that help us understand the extent to which resources could be transformed into broader developmental outcomes Based on a wide variety of primary sources and fieldwork including in person interviews and participant observations this collection contributes to both scholarly and policy discussions around the governance and economic development roles of local entrepreneurs transnational firms civil society groups local communities and government agencies in Africa s natural resource sectors Natural Resource Based Development in Africa explores the impact that these actors have on regional trends such as resource nationalism and local procurement policies as well as grassroots related issues such as poverty livelihoods gender equity development and human security

The Distributional Impacts of Trade Jakob Engel,Deeksha Kokas,Gladys Lopez-Acevedo,Maryla Maliszewska,2021-06-09 Trade is a well established driver of growth and poverty reduction But changes in trade policy also have distributional impacts that create winners and losers It is vital to understand and clearly communicate how trade affects economic well being across all segments of the population as well as how policies can more effectively ensure that the gains from trade are distributed more widely The Distributional Impacts of Trade Empirical Innovations Analytical Tools and Policy Responses provides a deeper understanding of the distributional effects of trade across regions industries and demographic groups within countries over time It includes an overview chapter 1 a review of innovations in empirical and theoretical work covering the impacts of trade at the subnational level chapter 2 highlights from empirical case studies on Bangladesh Brazil Mexico South Africa and Sri Lanka chapter 3 and a policy agenda to improve distributional outcomes from trade chapter 4 This book comes at a time when the shock from COVID 19 coronavirus adds to an already uncertain trade policy environment in which the value of the multilateral trading system has been under increased scrutiny A better understanding of how trade affects distributional outcomes can lead to more inclusive policies and support the ability of countries to maximize broad based benefits from trade

Trade and Competitiveness Global Practice Anabel Gonzalez, For the past three decades economic growth with strong contributions from the private sector has been the main driver of poverty reduction around the world. The experience of China, Vietnam, and other high growth countries dramatically demonstrates how integration with global markets and enhanced competitiveness can develop dynamic and resilient economies. These economies improve the earnings of the less well off by creating more better paying jobs. They also converge with advanced economies by achieving productivity gains. Achieving the World Bank Group's Twin Goals of ending extreme poverty and boosting shared prosperity requires unprecedented efforts by developing countries to unleash private sector led growth and job creation. Governments and the private sector around the world are actively seeking more effective ways of boosting the volume and value of trade, enhancing the investment climate, improving competitiveness in sectors, and fostering innovation and entrepreneurship, all elements of successful growth strategies. The establishment of the Trade and Competitiveness Global Practice signals the World Bank Group's commitment to systematically strengthen its engagement on these issues.

Central Asia Regional Economic Cooperation Corridor Performance Measurement and Monitoring Asian Development Bank, 2014-11-01. This report describes how Central Asia Regional Economic Cooperation (CAREC) corridor performance measurement and monitoring (CPMM) helps to achieve the objectives of the CAREC Transport and Trade Facilitation Strategy and its Implementation Action Plan. It presents the CPMM methodology and discusses the roles and responsibilities of key stakeholders, especially the private sector. It highlights ongoing efforts to provide accurate and reliable indicators despite the challenges of measuring corridor performance in the CAREC context. The extensive depth of data collected and the richness of information that CPMM has been providing since 2009 supports detailed policy analysis and formulation. Trade facilitation indicators have been developed to inform CAREC's Development Effectiveness Review. These indicators provide a basis of comparison or benchmarking of one location, border crossing point, or corridor segment against another in terms of: i) the efficiency of border management agency policies and procedures in regulating trade; ii) infrastructure quality; and in due course iii) the quality and performance of trade logistics service providers. The four indicators include the standard measures of time and cost as the main components. Selected corridor performance data are then analyzed to identify the physical and non-physical barriers to trade and transit traffic encountered at specific locations, helping to pinpoint the causes of excessive delays and costs. With this study, ADB underscores the value of CPMM for CAREC countries and for countries participating in other subregional programs as they craft policies and consider investments to facilitate trade.

Connecting to Thrive Matías Herrera Dappe, Charles Kunaka, 2021-06-07. This book assesses the Bangladesh-Bhutan-India-Nepal Motor Vehicle Agreement, analyzing how freight flows, wages, employment, and income are likely to change in Bangladesh and India once the agreement is adopted, and provides suggestions on enhancing the impact of regional connectivity on rural areas and women.

International Economic Law and the Challenges of the Free Zones Julien Chaisse, Jiaxiang Hu, 2019-05-02. Special economic zones (SEZs) have become a permanent feature of the world trade scene. This book is the first to provide a critical and comprehensive analysis of SEZs covering a wide spectrum of countries and regions shows how SEZs albeit established at the domestic level by different countries raise multiple legal issues under international economic law This first rate book is the product of the Asia FDI Forum IV held in Hong Kong in 2018 Thoroughly exploring the development of the SEZ phenomenon and its players the contributing authors all leading economic law experts review the issues raised by SEZs in the context of international trade law international investment law and investment arbitration They identify the extent to which SEZs have been coherent in their design and policymaking in particular with regard to domestic law reforms They address such aspects both core themes and specific examples as the following investment protection in China s SEZs state owned enterprises regulation dispute settlement under what circumstances incentives available in SEZs count as export subsidies prohibited under World Trade Organization WTO rules compliance with internal market rules in European Union EU free zones local populations as victims of land expropriation Brazil s Manaus Free Trade Zone India s experience with multiple SEZs the administrative approval system in the Shanghai Free Trade Zone economic corridors and transit routes as SEZs refugee cities SEZs for migrants how China s Supreme People s Court serves national strategy how foreign investors challenge free zone regimes impacts of the establishment of SEZs on tax revenues SEZs and labour migration and management models The chapters also include insights into the new emerging generation of international investment agreements WTO accession transparency and case law materials clarifying specific trade issues associated with SEZs and new rules to protect the environment and labour rights as well as analysis of crucially significant cases such as Goetz v The Republic of Burundi Lee Jong Baek v Kyrgyzstan and Ampal American and Others v Egypt With its critical and comprehensive analysis of the dynamic SEZ phenomenon across legal economic investment regulatory and policy matrices including a thorough analysis of the success factors and required policies for SEZs this book takes a giant step towards answering the question whether SEZs fundamentally contradict norms of international law or whether SEZs have to be considered as laboratories which facilitate the implementation of international economic policies Its careful examination of theory and practice and its approach to lessons learned from case studies will reward trade and investment officials policymakers diplomats economists lawyers think tanks business leaders and others interested in this ever more important area of law and economics

Land, Investment & Politics Jeremy Lind, Doris Okenwa, Ian Scoones, 2020 More than ever before the gaze of global investment has been directed to the drylands of Africa but what does this mean for these regions pastoralists and other livestock keepers and their livelihoods Will those who have occupied drylands over generations benefit from the developments as claimed or is this a new type of territorialisation exacerbating social inequality This book s detailed local studies of investments at various stages of development from Kenya Tanzania Somaliland Ethiopia explore for the first time how large land resource and infrastructure projects shape local politics and livelihoods Land and resources use based on ancestral precedence and communal practices and embedded regional systems of trade are unique to these areas yet these lands are now seen as the new frontier for development of national wealth By examining the ways in which large scale investments enmesh with local political and social relations the chapters show how even the most elaborate plans of financiers contractors and national governments come unstuck and are re made in the guise of not only states grand modernist visions but also those of herders and small town entrepreneurs in the pastoral drylands The contributors also demonstrate how and why large scale investments have advanced in a more piecemeal way as the challenges of implementation have mounted

India's Economic Corridor Initiatives Kashif Hasan Khan,2024-03-04 India s Economic Corridor Initiatives highlights key aspects of current discourses on India s initiative of the International North South Transport Corridor INSTC and Chabahar and their geo economic significance INSTC was founded by India Russia and Iran and the Chabahar port in Iran provides a major prospective conduit for India s interchange and commerce with West Central Asia while maintaining a strategic distance from Pakistan s entry route This book analyses the drastic changes in the equation of international relations in general and more particularly between India and Eurasian countries Contributors from Iran Central Asia Russia Armenia and Europe provide a wide spectrum of opinion and analysis on the subject The chapters claim that these corridors provide an alternative to the BRI and can play a pivotal role in de escalating tensions through negotiations A new addition to the debate on contemporary dynamics in Eurasia and India this book will be of interest to researchers studying economic corridors transnational and trans regional economic relationships security studies regional and area studies international relations and Indo Iran Russia relations

Quantitative Analysis of Road Transport Agreements - QuARTA Charles Kunaka, Virginia Tanase, Pierre Latrille, Peter Krausz,2013-02-05 In most regions of the world road transport is the predominant channel of international trade traffic Yet the agreements used by states to regulate international road transport services often lack transparency This study sheds light on such agreements and identifies potential focus areas for reform

Economic Corridors in Asia: Paradigm of Integration? A Reflection for Latin America Varios Autores,2020-08-31 Global geopolitics has shifted dramatically over the last thirty years After the vanishing expectations of a unipolar international system led by the United States China has gained an increasingly dominant role in areas as innovative as quantum computing robotics and artificial intelligence In the non digital dimension the eastern superpower has made gigantic investments in its Belt and Road Initiative which include the development of a massive network of highways industrial centers harbors pipelines and bridges among many other works of infrastructure These investments allow for the connection of more than 60 countries worldwide guaranteeing China s energetic security easier conditions for trading goods and services and perhaps more importantly a significant influence in the political and economic events of the world States with political regimes as diverse as those of Russia and India are part of this growing network in various cases in exchange for the benefits associated with being part of it major concessions were made By way of illustration Sri Lanka and Pakistan among others given their lack of capacity to pay for some of the works have agreed to forfeit control of specific areas of their territories

Regionalization of the World Pierre Beckouche, Yann Richard, 2024-05-29 On the world map macro regions or global regions have gradually emerged with varying degrees of success and following different trajectories The authors of this book attempt to determine whether within the context of globalization these macro regions have become an additional level in the spatial deployment of numerous actors and whether they have come to stand between the national and global levels This question has arisen because the increasing scales of trade environmental problems migration routes energy distribution the construction of major infrastructures etc transcend national boundaries and are leading states to implement macro regional cooperation The authors ask whether these large regional groupings are becoming genuine territories and are the fruit of in depth regional integration economic institutional legal normative political cultural and in terms of identity If so these global regions would therefore become referents that make sense and take root in social representations

Trade Makes States Tobias Hagmann, Finn Stepputat, 2023-05-01 Trade Makes States highlights how trade and the circulation of goods are central to Somali societies economies and politics Drawing on multi site research from across East Africa's Somali inhabited economic space which includes areas of Kenya Djibouti Uganda and Ethiopia this volume highlights the interconnection between trade and state building after state collapse It scrutinises the politics of circulation between competing public administrations which seek to generate revenue and to control infrastructures along major trade corridors Connecting classic debates on state formation with recent scholarship on logistics and cross border trading Trade Makes States argues that the facilitation and capture of commodity flows have been instrumental in making and unmaking states across the Somali territories Aspiring state builders are thus confronted with the challenge of governing the flow of goods in order to rule over lands and peoples The contributors to this volume draw attention to the ingenuities of transnational Somali markets which often appear to be self governed Their dynamism and everyday administration by a host of actors provide important insights into contemporary state formation on the margins of global supply chain capitalism

The Evolution of Economic Development in Africa Francis K. Mbroh, 2021-07-11 Within the theoretical framework of the trade growth and structural transformation growth nexuses the book examines the evolution of African goods and service trade in terms of value and share of global commerce relative to other regions during the period 1948 2017 It also identifies and discusses discernible changes in the composition and structure of African exports and imports between 1995 and 2015 and their implications for economic development in Africa The study attributes Africa's laggard trade performance during the period primarily to sub optimal macroeconomic policies and lack of bold export development policies and initiatives among other factors It also offers an incisive discussion of several inhibitions to the structural transformation of African exports and imports including lack of finance globalization tariff and non tariff measures in global markets The discussion of the evolution of African trade during the period 1948-2017 based on statistics and publications of international organizations including the UNCTAD, the World Bank and the African Development Bank among others is the first of its kind in terms of scope and depth of review of African trade. The analyses of cross border trade during 1948-2017 and their implications for Africa's economic development prospects constitute a useful reference material for academics and students of African and development studies and African and international policymakers.

Borderland Infrastructures Alessandro Rippa, 2025-10-01 Across the Chinese borderlands investments in large scale transnational infrastructure such as roads and special economic zones have increased exponentially over the past two decades. Based on long term ethnographic research Borderland Infrastructures addresses a major contradiction at the heart of this fast paced development: small scale traders have lost their historic strategic advantages under the growth of massive Chinese state investment and are now struggling to keep their businesses afloat. Concurrently local ethnic minorities have become the target of radical resettlement projects, securitization and tourism initiatives and have in many cases grown increasingly dependent on state subsidies. At the juncture of anthropological explorations of the state border studies and research on transnational trade and infrastructure development Borderland Infrastructures provides new analytical tools to understand how state power is experienced, mediated and enacted in Xinjiang and Yunnan. In the process Rippa offers a rich and nuanced ethnography of life across China's peripheries.

Logistical Asia Brett Neilson, Ned Rossiter, Ranabir Samaddar, 2018-05-01 This book explores how the management science of logistics changes working lives and contributes to the making of world regions. With a focus on the port of Kolkata and changing patterns of Asian regionalism the volume examines how logistics entwine with political power, historical forces, labour movements and new technologies. The contributors ask how logistical practices reconfigure both Asia's relation to the world and its internal logic of transport and communication. Building on critical perspectives that understand logistics as a political technology for producing and organizing space and power Logistical Asia tracks how digital technologies and material infrastructure combine to remake urban and regional territories and produce new forms of governance and subjectivity.

Maritime Networks, Port Efficiency, and Hinterland Connectivity in the Mediterranean Jean-François Arvis, Vincent Vesin, Robin Carruthers, César Ducruet, 2018-11-29 For millennia the Mediterranean has been one of the most active trading areas supported by a transport network connecting riparian cities and beyond to their hinterland. The Mediterranean has complex trade patterns and routes but with key differences from the past. It is no longer an isolated world economy; it is both a trading area and a transit area linking Europe and North Africa with the rest of the world through the hub and spoke structure of maritime networks. Understanding how trade connectivity works in the Mediterranean and elsewhere is important to policy makers, especially those in developing countries in the Mediterranean concerned with the economic benefits of large investment in infrastructure. Better connectivity is expected to increase trade with distant markets and stimulate activities in the hinterland. This book is a practical exploration of the three interdependent dimensions of trade connectivity maritime networks port efficiency and hinterland connectivity Because of the complexity and richness of maritime and trade patterns in the Mediterranean the research book combines both a regional focus and globally scalable lessons This book is intended for a wide readership of policy makers in maritime affairs trade or industry professionals from the world of finance or development institutions and academics It combines empirical analysis of microeconomic shipping and port data with three case studies of choice of port focusing on Spain Egypt and Morocco and five case studies on hinterland development Barcelona Malta Marseilles Port Said East Egypt and Tanger Med Morocco
