Teaching Transatlanticism Linda K Hughes, 2015-02-05 The 18 chapters in this book outline conceptual approaches to the field and provide practical resources for teaching ranging from ideas for individual class sessions to full syllabi and curricular frameworks

Nineteenth-Century Serial Narrative in Transnational Perspective, 1830s–1860s Daniel Stein, Lisanna Wiele, 2019-05-24 This volume examines the emergence of modern popular culture between the 1830s and the 1860s when popular storytelling meant serial storytelling and when new printing techniques and an expanding infrastructure brought serial entertainment to the masses Analyzing fiction and non-fiction narratives from the United States France Great Britain Germany Austria Turkey and Brazil Popular Culture Serial Culture offers a transnational perspective on border crossing serial genres from the roman feuilleton and the city mystery novel to abolitionist gift books and world's fairs

Victorian Narratives of Failed Emigration Tamara S Wagner, 2016-05-26 In her study of the unsuccessful nineteenth-century emigrant Tamara S Wagner argues that failed emigration and return drive nineteenth-century writing in English in unexpected culturally revealing ways Wagner highlights the hitherto unexplored subgenre of anti-emigration writing that emerged as an important counter-current to a pervasive emigration propaganda machine that was pressing popular fiction into its service The exportation of characters at the end of a novel indisputably formed a convenient narrative solution that at once mirrored and exaggerated public policies about so-called superfluous or redundant parts of society Yet the very convenience of such pat endings was increasingly called into question New starts overseas might not be so easily realizable emigration destinations failed to live up to the inflated promises of pro-emigration rhetoric the unwanted might make a surprising reappearance Wagner juxtaposes representations of emigration in the works of Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins Frances Trollope and Charlotte Yonge with Australian New Zealand and Canadian settler fiction by Elizabeth Murray Clara Cheeseman and Susanna Moodie offering a new literary history not just of nineteenth-century migration but also of transoceanic exchanges and genre formation

Picture World Rachel Teukolsky, 2020-08-16 The modern media world came into being in the nineteenth century when machines were harnessed to produce texts and images in unprecedented numbers In the visual realm new industrial techniques generated a deluge of affordable pictorial items mass printed photographs posters cartoons and illustrations These alluring objects of the Victorian parlor were miniaturized spectacles that served as portals onto phantasmagoric versions of the world. Although new kinds of pictures transformed everyday life, these ephemeral items have received remarkably little scholarly attention. Picture World shines a welcome new light onto these critically neglected yet fascinating visual objects. They serve as entryways into the nineteenth century's key aesthetic concepts. Each chapter pairs a new type of picture with a foundational keyword in Victorian aesthetics, a familiar term reconceived through the lens of new media. Character appears differently when considered with caricature in the new comics and cartoons appearing in the mass press in the 1830s; likewise, the book approaches realism through pictorial journalism, illustration via illustrated Bibles, sensation through carte de visite portrait photographs, the picturesque by way of stereoscopic views, and decadence through advertising posters. Picture World studies the aesthetic effects of the nineteenth century's media revolution; it uses the relics of a previous era's cultural life to interrogate the Victorian world's most deeply held values, arriving at insights still relevant in our own media age.
