Transcending Reflections Of Crime Victims:

Transcending Howard Zehr, 2009-07-10 Presents the stories of crime victims describing the thoughts emotions and actions surrounding their unforgettable experiences Moral Repair Margaret Urban Walker, 2006-09-18 Moral Repair examines the ethics and moral psychology of responses to wrongdoing Explaining the emotional bonds and normative expectations that keep human beings responsive to moral standards and responsible to each other Margaret Urban Walker uses realistic examples of both personal betrayal and political violence to analyze how moral bonds are damaged by serious wrongs and what must be done to repair the damage Focusing on victims of wrong their right to validation and their sense of justice Walker presents a unified and detailed philosophical account of hope trust resentment forgiveness and making amends the emotions and practices that sustain moral relations Moral Repair joins a multidisciplinary literature concerned with transitional and restorative justice reparations and restoring individual dignity and mutual trust in the wake of serious wrongs Victims Ross McGarry, Sandra Walklate, 2015-06-05 The study of victims of crime is a central concern for criminologists around the world In recent years some victimologists have become increasingly engaged in positivist debates on the differences between victims and non victims how these differences can be measured and what could be done to improve the victims experience of the criminal justice system Written by experts in the field this book embraces a much wider understanding of social harms and asks which victims voices are heard and why McGarry and Walklate break new ground with this innovative and accessible book it offers a broad discussion of social harms the role of the victim in society and the inter relationship between trauma testimony and justice and asks how has harm been understood and under what circumstances have those harms been recognised how and under what circumstances are those harms articulated how and under what circumstances are the voices of those who have been harmed listened to Each chapter draws on case studies and a range of questions designed to assist in reflection and critical engagement This book is perfect reading for students taking courses on victimology victims and society victims rights and criminal justice Trauma-Informed Juvenile Justice in the United States Judah Oudshoorn, 2016-08-23 Most youth who come in conflict with the law have experienced some form of trauma yet many justice professionals are ill equipped to deal with the effects trauma has on youth and instead reinforce a system that further traumatizes young offenders while ignoring the needs of victims By taking a trauma informed perspective this text provides a much needed alternative one that allows for interventions based on principles of healing and restorative justice rather than on punishment and risk assessment In addition to providing a comprehensive historical overview of youth justice in Canada Judah Oudshoorn addresses the context of youth offending by examining both individual trauma including its emotional cognitive and behavioural effects and collective trauma The author tackles some of the most difficult problems facing youth justice today especially the ongoing cycles of intergenerational trauma caused by the colonization of Indigenous peoples and patriarchal violence and demonstrates how a trauma informed approach to youth justice can work toward preventing crime and healing offenders victims and communities Featuring a foreword written by Howard Zehr case stories from the author s own work with victims and offenders questions for reflection and annotated lists of recommended readings this engaging text is the perfect resource for college and university students in the field of youth justice The Big Book of Restorative Justice Howard Zehr,Allan MacRae,Kay Pranis,Lorraine Stutzman Amstutz,2022-02-15 The four most popular restorative justice books in the Justice Peacebuilding series The Little Book of Restorative Justice Revised and Updated The Little Book of Victim Offender Conferencing The Little Book of Family Group Conferences and The Little Book of Circle Processes in one affordable volume And now with a new foreword from Howard Zehr one of the founders of restorative justice Restorative justice with its emphasis on identifying the justice needs of everyone involved in a crime is a worldwide movement of growing influence that is helping victims and communities heal while holding criminals accountable for their actions This is not a soft on crime feel good philosophy but rather a concrete effort to bring justice and healing to everyone involved in a crime Circle processes draw from the Native American tradition of gathering in a circle to solve problems as a community Peacemaking circles are used in neighborhoods in schools in the workplace and in social services to support victims of all kinds resolve behavior problems and create positive climates Each book is written by a scholar at the forefront of these movements making this important reading for classrooms community leaders and anyone involved with conflict resolution Teaching Peace Denny J. Weaver,Gerald Biesecker-Mast,2003-09-08 This book opens a new frontier in understanding nonviolence Discussions of peace and nonviolence usually focus on either moral theory or practical dimensions of applying nonviolence in conflict situations Teaching Peace carries the discussion of nonviolence beyond ethics and into the rest of the academic curriculum This book isn t just for religion or philosophy teachers it is for all educators Teaching Peace begins with a discussion rooted in Christian theology where nonviolence is so central and important But it is clear that there are other paths to nonviolence and that one certainly doesn t have to be a Christian to practice nonviolence The pieces that follow therefore show how a nonviolent perspective impacts disciplines across the curriculum from acting to biology to mathematics to psychology In the Shadow of Death Elizabeth Beck,Sarah Britto,Arlene Andrews,2007-02-08 Restorative justice theory which views violent crime as an extreme violation of relationships searches for ways to hold offenders accountable and meets the needs of victims and communities torn apart by the crime organizes these narratives and integrates offenders families into the process of transforming conflict and promoting justice and healing for all What emerges from hundreds of hours worth of in depth interviews with family members of offenders and victims legal teams and leaders in the abolition and restorative justice movements is a vision of justice strongly rooted in the social fabric of communities Showing that forgiveness and recovery are possible in the wake of even the most heinous crimes while holding victims stories sacred this eye opening book bridges the pain of living in the shadow of death with the possibility of a reparative form of justice Anyone working with victims offenders and their familiesfrom lawyers and social workers to mediators and activists will find this riveting work indispensable to their efforts Restorative Justice in Context Elmar G. M. Weitekamp, Hans-Jürgen Kerner, 2012-12-06 This book brings together a selection of papers originally presented and discussed at the fourth international restorative justice conference held at the University of Tübingen The contributors include many of the leading authorities in the burgeoning field of restorative justice and they provide a comprehensive review of developing international practice and directions and the context in which restorative justice practices are developing Restorative Justice in Context moves beyond a focus on restorative justice for juveniles to a broader concern with the application of restorative justice in such areas as corporate crime family violence and the application of restorative justice in cases of extreme violent crimes The contexts examined are drawn from Europe North America Australasia and Japan leading world authorities analyse international case studies reflecting the growth of restorative justice worldwiderapidly expanding area of interest Murdering Myths Judith W. Kay, 2005-06-03 In Murdering Myths The Story Behind the Death Penalty Judith Kay goes beyond the hype and statistics to examine Americans deep seated beliefs about crime and punishment She argues that Americans share a counter productive idea of justice that punishment corrects bad behavior suffering pays for wrong deeds and victims desire for revenge is natural and inevitable Drawing on interviews with both victims and inmates Kay shows how this belief harms perpetrators victims and society and calls for a new narrative that recognizes the humanity in all of us Trauma-Informed Youth Justice Judah Oudshoorn, 2015-12-01 Most youth who come in conflict with the law have experienced some form of trauma yet many justice professionals are ill equipped to deal with the effects trauma has on youth and instead reinforce a system that further traumatizes young offenders while ignoring the needs of victims By taking a trauma informed perspective this text provides a much needed alternative one that allows for interventions based on principles of healing and restorative justice rather than on punishment and risk assessment In addition to providing a comprehensive historical overview of youth justice in Canada Judah Oudshoorn addresses the context of youth offending by examining both individual trauma including its emotional cognitive and behavioural effects and collective trauma The author tackles some of the most difficult problems facing youth justice today especially the ongoing cycles of intergenerational trauma caused by the colonization of Indigenous peoples and patriarchal violence and demonstrates how a trauma informed approach to youth justice can work toward preventing crime and healing offenders victims and communities Featuring a foreword written by Howard Zehr case stories from the author's own work with victims and offenders questions for reflection and annotated lists of recommended readings this engaging text is the perfect resource for college and university students in the field of youth justice
