Transdisciplinary Sustainability Studies Heuristic Approach:

Transdisciplinary Sustainability Studies Katri Huutoniemi, Petri Tapio, 2014-06-05 Arising out of human environment interaction sustainability problems resist disciplinary categories and simple solutions This book offers a fresh approach to practical and methodological concerns in transdisciplinary environmental and sustainability studies It illustrates methodological means by which researchers professionals and decision makers can address complex environmental issues While scientific reasoning is mostly guided by disciplinary traditions transdisciplinary research rests on other cognitive strategies As it does not have a ready made stance toward problems figuring out what the puzzle is and what the answer might look like are crucial aspects of transdisciplinary inquiry Through examples from environment and sustainability studies the volume discusses heuristic schemes that can give structure to this exploration By focusing on heuristics rather than on methods concepts or general guidelines the book argues that a problem centered approach often resists the rigor of methodology Learning from experience provides valuable rules of thumb checklists and other cognitive schemes for making ill defined problems more tangible Written by an international team of authors the chapters draw examples from dealing with issues in environmental protection transport and climate policy ecosystem services and disservices environmental beliefs and attitudes and more Together with more theoretically oriented chapters they show that the intellectual processes needed to tackle complex sustainability problems are as much about heuristic problem solving as they are about methodical work

Transdisciplinary Perspectives on Transitions to Sustainability Edmond Byrne, Gerard Mullally, Colin Sage, 2016-06-17

Demonstrating how a university can in a very practical and pragmatic way be re envisioned through a transdisciplinary informed frame this book shows how through an open and collegiate spirit of inquiry the most pressing and multifaceted issue of contemporary societal unsustainability can be addressed and understood in a way that transcends narrow disciplinary work It also provides a practical exemplar of how far more meaningful deliberation understandings and options for action in relation to contemporary sustainability related crises can emerge than could otherwise be achieved Indeed it helps demonstrate how only through a transdisciplinary ethos and approach can real progress be achieved The fact that this can be done in parallel to or perhaps underneath the day to day business of the university serves to highlight how even micro seed initiatives can further the process of breaking down silos and reuniting C P Snow's two cultures after some four centuries of the relentless project of modernity While much has been written and talked about with respect to both sustainability and transdisciplinarity this book offers a pragmatic example which hopefully will signpost the ways others can will and indeed must follow in our common quest for real progress

Transdisciplinary Research and Practice for Sustainability Outcomes Dena Fam,Jane Palmer,Chris Riedy,Cynthia Mitchell,2016-11-10 Transdisciplinarity is a form of research and practice that synthesises knowledge from a range of academic disciplines and from the community There is now global interest and a significant body of work on transdisciplinarity and its potential to address the apparently intractable problems of society This creates the opportunity for a specific focus on its practical application to sustainability issues Transdisciplinary Research and Practice for Sustainability Outcomes examines the role of transdisciplinarity in the transformations needed for a sustainable world After an historical overview of transdisciplinarity Part I focuses on tools and frameworks to achieve sustainability outcomes in practice and Part II consolidates work by a number of scholars on supporting transdisciplinary researchers and practitioners Part III is a series of case studies including several international examples that demonstrate the challenges and rewards of transdisciplinary work The concluding chapter proposes a future research pathway for understanding the human factors that underpin successful transdisciplinary research As Emeritus Professor Valerie Brown AO notes in her Preface this book moves transdisciplinary inquiry into the academic and social mainstream It will be of great interest to researchers and practitioners in the fields of sustainability qualitative research methods environmental impact assessment and development studies

Transdisciplinary Research and Sustainability Martina Padmanabhan,2017-10-12 Transdisciplinarity is a new way of scientifically meeting the challenges of sustainability Indeed interdisciplinary collaboration and co operation with non academic practice partners is at the core of this creating contextualised socially relevant knowledge about complex real world problems Transdisciplinary Research and Sustainability breaks new ground by presenting transdisciplinary research in practice drawing on recent advances by the vibrant transdisciplinary research communities in the German speaking world It describes methodological innovations developed to address wide ranging contemporary issues including climate change adaptation energy policy sustainable agriculture and soil conservation Furthermore the authors reflect on the challenges involved in integrating non academic actors in scientific research on the tensions that arise in the encounter of theory and praxis and on the inherently normative political nature of sustainability research Highlighting the need for academic institutions to be transformed to reflect transdisciplinarity this timely volume will appeal to postgraduate students and postdoctoral researchers interested in fields such as Sustainability Science Transdisciplinary Studies and Philosophy of Science

Transdisciplinarity For Sustainability Martina M. Keitsch, Walter J.V. Vermeulen, 2020-11-23 This volume explores interactions between academia and different societal stakeholders with a focus on sustainability It examines the significance and potential of transdisciplinary collaboration as a tool for sustainability and the SDGs Traditionally academia has focused on research and education More recently however the challenges of sustainable development and achieving the SDGs have required the co production of knowledge between academic and non academic actors Compromising theory methods and case studies from a broad span of transdisciplinary collaboration Transdisciplinarity For Sustainability Aligning Diverse Practices is written by specialists from various academic disciplines and represents an important step forward in systematising knowledge and understanding of transdisciplinary collaboration They are designed to provide a roadmap for further research in the field and facilitate pursuing and realizing the SDGs The book will appeal to researchers and postgraduate students in a variety of disciplines such as architecture design economics social sciences engineering and sustainability studies It will also be of significant value to professionals who are engaged in transdisciplinary collaboration that supports sustainable development

Creativity, Design Thinking and Interdisciplinarity Frédéric Darbellay, Zoe Moody, Todd Lubart, 2017-12-18 This book at the crossroads of creativity design and interdisciplinary studies offers an overview of these major trends in scientific research society culture and economics It brings together different approaches and communities around a common reflection on interdisciplinary creative design thinking This collective effort provides a unique dialogical and convergent space that deals with the challenges and opportunities met by researchers and practitioners working on design thinking creativity and inter and transdisciplinarity or at the interface between these areas

Remapping Performance Jan Cohen-Cruz, 2015-07-13 Completing a trilogy of works by Jan Cohen Cruz Remapping Performance focuses on the work of artists and experts who collaborate across fields to address social issues The book explores work of a range of artists who employ artistic training methodologies and mind sets in their work with experts from other sectors such as medicine and healthcare and from other disciplines to draw an expanded map of performance platforms including university community partnerships neighbourhood bases and cultural diplomacy Case studies include ArtSpot Productions Mondo Bizarro s Cry You One about climate change in southern Louisiana incorporating theatrics and organizing Michael Rohd Sojourn Theatre s social and civic practices Anne Basting s University of Wisconsin Milwaukee based integration of performance and creative aging and the collaborative cultural diplomacy experiment smARTpower Short companion pieces add expertise from Helen Nicholson Todd London Julie

Thompson Klein Nancy Cantor Maria Rosario Jackson and Penny Von Eschen Jan Cohen Cruz ends with suggestions for fully integrating performance in cross sector initiatives This latest book by a leading figure in engaged applied theatre and performance builds on its predecessors by offering a future oriented perspective a vision of art and performance interacting with a range of social sectors and with an emphasis on HE in such partnerships and will be a must read for all students and scholars working in this field Climate Change Governance and Adaptation Anamika Barua,Vishal Narain,Sumit

Vij,2018-08-29 Climate change adaptation in South Asia is redefining the roles of different actors in the governance processes The existing governance lack capacity knowledge and leadership skills to manage the uncertainties and challenges posed by climate change This book aims to explain how the governance of climate change adaptation and mitigation is being shaped in the region and how climate change is impacting upon the governance of natural resources Although the focus is on South Asia the editors draw a wide range of contributions from northern and southern communities and across various agro ecological contexts Climate Change Governance and Adaptation Case Studies from South Asia sees the changing climate not only as an environmental problem but as a societal challenge and discusses the governance challenges from an interdisciplinary social science perspective across different levels local state and national Discusses also the challenges and opportunities for increasing the resilience of the society through effective governance around climate change A top down approach to govern climate change adaptation may not yield desired outcomes instead the book emphasizes the need to integrate issues of equity into climate governance and policies The lessons learned from different cases across South Asia help readers have a better and deeper understanding of the relationships between governance and climate change Given the diversity of themes covered this book will appeal not only to researchers and practitioners in the climate change community but also to those with a broader interest in governance processes Transdisciplinary Theory, Practice and Education
