

Travel and Ethics: Theory and Practice

Corinne Fowler, Charles Forsdick, and Ludmilla Kostova
Routledge Chapman & Hall, Jul 19, 2013 - Literary Criticism - 240 page
ISBN 978-0-415-99539-9.

Despite the recent increase in scholarly activity regarding travel writing and the accompanying proliferation of publications relating to the form, its ethical dimensions have yet to be theorized with sufficient rigor.

Drawing from the disciplines of anthropology, linguistics, literary studies and modern languages, the contributors in this volume apply themselves to a number of key theoretical questions pertaining to travel writing and ethics, ranging from travel-as-commoditization to encounters with minority languages under threat. Taken collectively, the essays assess key critical legacies from parallel disciplines to the debate so far, such as anthropological theory and postcolonial criticism. Also considered, and of equal significance, are the ethical implications of the form's parallel genres of writing, such as ethnography and journalism. As some of the contributors argue, innovations in these genres have important implications for the act of theorizing travel writing itself and the mode and spirit in which it continues to be conducted. In the light of such innovations, how might ethical theory maintain its critical edge?

Re-thinking Travel Writing Ben Stubbs, Lee Mylne, 2024-03-30 This book stems from the question that we as co authors grappled with for the past 3 plus years while in our own periods of stasis during the pandemic What place does the travel writing genre hold in a post COVID world With the massive interruptions to travel and travel writing across 2020 2023 as the pandemic forced us indoors and into isolation it also raised many other pertinent questions about the practice of and future of travel writing Part of the prompt for this book comes from the post pandemic assumption that in an ecologically fraught less mobile and more uncertain world there may not be a place for travel writing as we know it to exist in any meaningful way We examine the problems and solutions apparent for travel writing as it engages with a period of re thinking prompted by the pandemic though necessary for a plethora of other reasons as well As academics and travel writing practitioners with decades of experience in the field we offer a unique perspective on this topic as we have the in the field experience of professional travel writers and we have the academic grounding to better understand the history theoretical concerns and contradictions of the genre to provide a more in depth perspective to our travel writing colleagues This grounding allows us to access a unique and valuable perspective for Re thinking Travel Writing The Journey of a Genre for academics aspiring travel writers and contemporary colleagues in the field The Routledge Companion to Travel Writing Carl Thompson,2015-12-22 As many places around the world confront issues of globalization migration and postcoloniality travel writing has become a serious genre of study reflecting some of the greatest concerns of our time Encompassing forms as diverse as field journals investigative reports guidebooks memoirs comic sketches and lyrical reveries travel writing is now a crucial focus for discussion across many subjects within the humanities and social sciences An ideal starting point for beginners but also offering new perspectives for those familiar with the field The Routledge Companion to Travel Writing examines Key debates within the field including postcolonial studies gender sexuality and visual culture Historical and cultural contexts tracing the evolution of travel writing across time and over cultures Different styles modes and themes of travel writing from pilgrimage to tourism Imagined geographies and the relationship between travel writing and the social ideological and occasionally fictional constructs through which we view the different regions of the world Covering all of the major topics and debates this is an essential overview of the field which will also encourage new and exciting directions for study Contributors Simon Bainbridge Anthony Bale Shobhana Bhattacharji D nlaith Bird Elizabeth A Bohls Wendy Bracewell Kylie Cardell Daniel Carey Janice Cavell Simon Cooke Matthew Day Kate Douglas Justin D Edwards David Farley Charles Forsdick Corinne Fowler Laura E Franey Rune Graulund Justine Greenwood James M Hargett Jennifer Hayward Eva Johanna Holmberg Graham Huggan William Hutton Robin Jarvis Tabish Khair Zo Kinsley Barbara Korte Julia Kuehn Scott Laderman Claire Lindsay Churnjeet Mahn Nabil Matar Steve Mentz Laura Nenzi Aed n N Loingsigh Manfred Pfister Susan L Roberson Paul Smethurst Carl Thompson C W Thompson Margaret Topping Richard White Gregory Woods Keywords for Travel Writing Studies Charles Forsdick,Zoë Kinsley,Kathryn

Walchester,2019-04-22 Keywords for Travel Writing Studies draws on the notion of the keyword as initially elaborated by Raymond Williams in his seminal 1976 text Keywords A Vocabulary of Culture and Society to present 100 concepts central to the study of travel writing as a literary form Each entry in the volume is around 1 000 words the style more essayistic than encyclopaedic with contributors reflecting on their chosen keyword from a variety of disciplinary perspectives The emphasis on travelogues and other cultural representations of mobility drawn from a range of national and linguistic traditions ensures that the volume has a comparative dimension the aim is to give an overview of each term in its historical and theoretical complexity providing readers with a clear sense of how the selected words are essential to a critical understanding of travel writing Each entry is complemented by an annotated bibliography of five essential items suggesting further reading

Travel Writing in Dutch and German, 1790-1930 Alison E. Martin, Lut Missinne, Beatrix van Dam, 2017-01-06 This volume focuses on how travel writing contributed to cultural and intellectual exchange in and between the Dutch and German speaking regions from the 1790s to the twentieth century interwar period Drawing on a hitherto largely overlooked body of travelers whose work ranges across what is now Germany and Austria the Netherlands and Dutch speaking Belgium the Dutch East Indies and Suriname the contributors highlight the interrelations between the regional and the global and the role alterity plays in both spheres They therefore offer a transnational and transcultural perspective on the ways in which the foreign was mediated to audiences back home By combining a narrative perspective on travel writing with a socio historically contextualized approach essays emphasize the importance of textuality in travel literature as well as the self positioning of such accounts in their individual historical and political environments The first sustained analysis to focus specifically on these neighboring cultural and linguistic areas this collection demonstrates how topographies of knowledge were forged across these regions by an astonishingly diverse range of travelling individuals from professional scholars and writers to art dealers soldiers female explorers and scientific collectors The contributors address cultural aesthetic political and gendered aspects of travel writing drawing productively on other disciplines and areas of scholarly research that encompass German Studies Low Countries Studies comparative literature aesthetics the history of science literary geography and the history of publishing

French Political Travel Writing in the Interwar Years Martyn Cornick, Martin Hurcombe, Angela Kershaw, 2017-02-10 This book studies travel writing produced by French authors between the two World Wars following visits to authoritarian regimes in Europe and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics USSR It sheds new light on the phenomenon of French political travel in this period by considering the well documented appeal of Soviet communism for French intellectuals alongside their interest in other radical regimes which have been much less studied fascist Italy the Iberian dictatorships and Nazi Germany Through analyses of the travel writing produced as a result of such visits the book gauges the appeal of these forms of authoritarianism for inter war French intellectuals from a broad political spectrum It examines not only those whose political sympathies with the extreme right or extreme left were already publicly known but also non aligned intellectuals who were interested in political models that offered an apparently radical alternative to the French Third Republic This study shows how travel writing provided a space for reflection on the lessons France might learn from the radical political experiments of the inter war years It argues that such writing can usefully be read as a form of utopian thinking distinguishing this from colloquial understandings of utopia as an ideal location Utopianism is understood neither as a fantasy ungrounded in the real nor as a dangerously totalitarian ideal but in line with Karl Mannheim Paul Ricœur and Ruth Levitas as a form of non congruence with the real that it seeks to transcend The utopianism of French political travel writing is seen to lie not in the attempt to portray the destination visited as utopia but rather in the pursuit of a dialogue with radical political alterity

Exiles, Travellers and Vagabonds, 2016-10-20 Travel writing migrant writing exile writing expatriate writing and even the fictional travelling protagonists that emerge in literary works from around the globe have historically tended to depict mobility as a masculine phenomenon The presence of such genres in women's writing however poses a rich and unique body of work This volume examines the texts of Francophone women who have experienced or reflected upon the experience of transnational movement Due to the particularity of their relationship to home and the consequent impact of this on their experience of displacement the study of women's mobility opens up new questions in our understanding of the movement from place to place and in our broader understanding of colonial and postcolonial worlds Addressing the proximities and overlaps that exist between the experiences of women exiles migrants expatriates and travellers the collected essays in this book seek to challenge the usefulness relevance or validity of such terms for conceptualising today's complex patterns of transnational mobility and the gendered identities produced therein Travel and Intercultural Communication Eva Lambertsson Björk, Jutta Eschenbach, 2017-11-06 This volume brings together the proceedings of Going North An Interdisciplinary Conference on Travel and Intercultural Communication held in Halden Norway in 2016 Today's world is akin to a global network where spatial linguistic and cultural mobility reshapes our identities This mobility is unprecedented in its scope and is caused by a multitude of reasons from purely leisurely travel to desperate flight The Going North conference addressed the role of travel past and present and intercultural communication connected to travel The book brings together texts focusing on going north from several geographical points of departure from a wide range of genres and explores a range of intercultural aspects such as issues of identity othering the crossing of borders and cultural perceptions of the north
