UNICEF Annual Report 2015, 2016-07      Humanitarian extractivism Kristin Bergtora Sandvik, 2023-10-17 This book investigates the digital transformation of aid as a form of humanitarian extractivism It focuses on how practices of data extraction shift power towards states the private sector and humanitarians Digital initiatives aimed towards fixing the humanitarian system making it better and more secure also create risk and harm for vulnerable individuals and communities Central to the digital transformation of aid is the digital body with digital identities becoming a prerequisite for receiving aid and protection and the centralisation of vulnerability arising from enormous databases holding ever more humanitarian data Cyber attacks human error and technological problems generate risks for humanitarians but also mean that humanitarians themselves can put populations in need at risk The book explores new humanitarian spaces and practices such as the humanitarian drone airspace wearable innovation challenges and ethics in global disaster innovation labs      Global

Nutrition Report 2015 International Food Policy Research Institute, 2015-09-15 As we move into the post 2015 era of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs the world faces many seemingly intractable problems Malnutrition should not be one of them Countries that are determined to make rapid advances in malnutrition reduction can do so If governments want to achieve the SDG target of ending all forms of malnutrition by 2030 they have clear pathways to follow There are many levers to pull and this report provides many examples of countries that have done so Tackling malnutrition effectively is also key to meeting many other SDG targets Good nutrition signals the realization of people s rights to food and health It reflects a narrowing of the inequalities in our world Without good nutrition human beings cannot achieve their full potential When people s nutrition status improves it helps break the intergenerational cycle of poverty generates broad based economic growth and leads to a host of benefits for individuals families communities and countries Good nutrition provides both a foundation for human development and the scaffolding needed to ensure it reaches its full potential Good nutrition in short is an essential driver of sustainable development      The Struggle for Health David Sanders, 2023-02-27 The first edition of The Struggle for Health was published in 1985 and was widely acclaimed by those seeking a broader and deeper political understanding of ill health beyond the medical model of care It was a revolutionary book charting new ways of understanding and tackling the causes of ill health and suggesting strategies to enable health for all This second edition includes health problems that have emerged since the 1980s notably HIV AIDs COVID 19 and other epidemics and the increase in non communicable diseases such as cardiovascular disease and diabetes It examines some of the health impacts of globalization specifically on the food and pharmaceutical value chains and considers the consequences of climate change on the health of populations However this edition does not depart from the core message of the original book Health for All can only be achieved through a more equitable distribution of wealth resources and power The Struggle for Health Second Edition utilises the same approach as the first with a narrative that begins with diseases then describes historical trends and the limitation of the medical and commercial model of care At each juncture it asks the question WHY why do people especially children still die in large numbers throughout the world from wholly preventable diseases Why is it that appropriate provision for health care is not available to every individual in the world What changes can be made to improve this situation Most importantly this edition presents a strengthened call to action building upon the original work and advocating for systemic changes to ensure justice and equity in health for all

The Quality of Life and Policy Issues among the Middle East and North African Countries el-Sayed el-Aswad,2018-09-21 This book addresses the challenges threatening the quality of life and well being of people living in the MENA region It focuses on both internal local and external global drivers impacting their well being particularly in the domains of economy health and education Additionally it presents a critical analysis to help readers understand the position that the MENA countries currently occupy in the world Lastly it provides policy analysts and decision makers with otherwise hard to obtain data and information related to socio economic cultural demographic technological and political factors that have influenced the quality of life there

State party reporting and the realisation of children's rights in Africa Remember Miamingi,2020-01-01 About the publication Human rights norms will largely remain hollow if they are not translated into the lived realities of people on the ground Given the diversity and complexities of human rights norms the arrays of institutions mechanisms and resource required to give full effect to these norms implementation of human rights norms is a continuous and progressive undertaking Progress to be meaningful should have milestones and mechanisms for tracking it The reporting mechanisms are human rights monitoring and evaluation plans and systems to track progressive implementation This book provides an assessment of the reporting mechanisms of child rights treaty bodies It highlights what is working or not working and why making recommendations for further improvement of the reporting mechanism to better work for children in Africa The findings and recommendations in the book are based on a study commissioned by the Centre for Human Rights to assess the effects of reporting to United Nations and African Union child rights treaty bodies on the enjoyment of rights protection and welfare of children in Africa It covers 17 African countries and provides a historical snapshot of the situation as at the end of 2017

Childhood, Culture and Society Michael Wyness,2018-06-27 Written with clarity and thoroughly argued Wyness confirms his place as one of the key authors within contemporary social science writing on children and childhood A formidable exploration of the nature of contemporary childhood in globally disparate regions Pia Christensen Professor of Anthropology and Childhood Studies University of Leeds UK A multifaceted and extensive analysis of the study of children and childhood Linking key concepts themes and problems together the text offers an interdisciplinary approach with its topical and timely case studies and illustrations which illuminate the latest research in the field Key features include A number of international case studies including children and military conflict child migrants children and networking sites child trafficking and children as consumers Questions which help you to make connections between topics and get you reflecting on your own childhood Engaging learning features including chapter aims boxed sections summaries and further reading suggestions Women and Children as Victims and Offenders: Background, Prevention, Reintegration Helmut Kury, Sławomir Redo, Evelyn Shea, 2016-06-20 This work compiles experiences and lessons learned in meeting the unique needs of women and children regarding crime prevention and criminal justice in particular the treatment and social reintegration of offenders and serves as a cross disciplinary work for academic and policy making analyses and follow up in developing and developed countries Furthermore it argues for a more humane and effective approach to countering delinquency and crime among future generations In a world where development positively depends on the rule of law and the related investment security two global trends may chart the course of development urbanization and education Urbanization will globalize the concepts of justice and fairness education will be dominated by the urban mindset and digital service economy just as a culture of lawfulness will This work looks at crime prevention education as an investment in the sustainable quality of life of succeeding generations and at those who pursue such crime prevention as the providers of much needed skills in the educational portfolio Adopting a reformist approach this work collects articles with findings and recommendations that may be relevant to domestic and international policymaking including the United Nations Studies and their educational value for the welfare of coming generations The books address the relevant United Nations ideas by combining them with academic approaches Guided by the Editors respective fields of expertise and in full recognition of academic freedom and organized scepticism it includes contributions by lawyers criminologists sociologists and other eminent experts seeking to bridge the gap between academic and policy perspectives as appropriate against the international background including the United Nations developments The second volume opens with Part IV which presents articles on different kinds of crime prevention The effectiveness of punishment and in particular imprisonment is examined by contrasting it with alternative sanctions and the following questions are raised Does harsh punishment have a crime preventive effect What are the side effects of imprisonment on the offenders and their families Are alternatives such as restorative justice or mediation more effective and cheaper Part V outlines proactive strategies of crime prevention e g for potential sex offenders or in the domain of internet crime Part VI envisions a more peaceful and inclusive society which would be realized by improving the protection of women and children in their everyday life and easing the reintegration of those who have become offenders The importance of the role played by the UN in formulating these goals is underlined The volume concludes with an epilogue of the 70th President of the United Nations Economic and Social Council Martin Sajdik and a post scriptum of the editors p Gender Inequalities and Vulnerability of sub-Saharan Adolescents Yves Charbit, Mustapha Omrane, 2023-08-18 This book analyses the vulnerability of adolescent girls which results from cumulative inequalities gender lack of education residential and poverty It is based on original analyses of data from the national survey carried out by the National Institute of Statistics and Economic Analysis in collaboration with UNICEF The book discusses three main themes First the experience of adolescence access to globalization via access to TIC Trusted Internet Connections and mass media subjective well being smoking and alcohol consumption child discipline and domestic violence are discussed Secondly the book focusses on the beginning of fertile life child marriage early pregnancy prenatal care birth weight and breastfeeding HIV AIDS and sexuality The third theme touches on the potential contribution of adolescents to harvesting the demographic dividend fertility and contraception postnatal care and vaccination of children pre school learning education and gender household health vulnerability water and sanitation On the basis of the analyses of data implications regarding concrete policy measures aimed at reducing the vulnerability of adolescents are identified at the end of each chapter Through the richness of the analyses and the methodological rigor this book provides an interesting read to both specialists and non specialists interested in adolescence and the future of Benin Africa and beyond The basis of the English translation of this book from its French original manuscript was done with the help of artificial intelligence A subsequent human revision of the content was done by the author

Local Peacebuilding and Legitimacy

Landon E. Hancock, Christopher Mitchell, 2018-02-15 This volume searches for pragmatic answers to the problems that continue to beset peacebuilding efforts at all levels of society with a singular focus on the role of legitimacy Many peacebuilding efforts are hampered by their inability to gain the support of those they are trying to help at the local level or those at regional national or international levels whose support is necessary either for success at the local level or to translate local successes to wider arenas There is no one agreed upon reason for the difficulty in translating peacebuilding from one arena of action to another but among those elements that have been studied one that appears understudied or assumed to be unimportant is the role of legitimacy Many questions can be asked about legitimacy as a concept and this volume addresses these questions through multiple case studies which examine legitimacy at local regional national and international levels as well as looking at how legitimacy at one level either translates or fails to translate at other levels in order to correlate the level of legitimacy with the success or failure of peacebuilding projects and programs The value of this work lies both in the breadth of the cases and the singular focus on the role of legitimacy in peacebuilding By focusing on this concept this volume represents an attempt to build beyond the critical peacebuilding approach of deconstructing the liberal peacebuilding paradigm to a search for pragmatic answers to the problems that continue to plague peacebuilding efforts at all levels of society This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding conflict resolution development studies security studies and International Relations
