

The background of the cover is a painting of a woman in a light blue, long-sleeved dress running up a wide set of stone steps. She is seen from behind, her hair in a bun, and her dress is flowing around her legs. The steps lead up towards a classical building with columns in the distance. The overall color palette is dominated by deep greens and blues, with golden-yellow floral and vine motifs in the corners.

The Everlasting Man Gilbert Keith Chesterton,1955 Islam, Christianity and the Making of Czech Identity, 1453-1683 Laura Lisy-Wagner,2016-05-06 Unlike many narratives about the Czech lands which place them on the periphery of their own history this study considers Czechs as central characters looking both east and west to find their place in the early modern world Islam Christianity and the Making of Czech Identity 1453 1683 works through the descriptive and ethnographic texts produced by Czech speakers about Islam and the Ottoman Empire to show how they used this discourse to create Czech identities Rather than simply constructing identity in opposition to the Islamic Other Laura Lisy Wagner shows how these authors played the Holy Roman and Ottoman Empires off each other creating an autonomous space for themselves in between Lisy Wagner introduces sources that are new to English language historiography and uses them in a way that is new to Czech historiography as well The chapters are organized based on different categories of agents travelers ethnographers religious leaders artists and political revolutionaries whose voices cast ideas of Europe and Czech identity in the early modern period in a new and different light The Publishers Weekly ,1924 Worldviews and Christian Education W.
