Criminal Justice and The Ideal Defendant in the Making of Remorse and Responsibility Stewart Field,Cyrus Tata,2023-05-18 This book investigates how defendants are assessed by criminal justice decisionmakers such as judges lawyers probation officers parole board members and those involved in restorative justice What attitudes and emotions are defendants expected to show How are these expectations communicated The book argues that defendants at various stages of the criminal justice process are expected to show a more or less free acceptance of guilt and individual responsibility along with a display of appropriate emotions ideally including genuine remorse It examines why such expressions of individual responsibility and remorse are so important to decision makers and the state With contributors from across the world the book opens new comparative possibilities and research agendas

Empathy in Clinical Psychiatry and Mental Health Care ,2025-10-07 Empathy in Clinical Psychiatry and Mental Health Care focuses on empathy in clinical psychiatry and mental health care bringing together the challenging reality of day to day clinical mental health work with conceptual and neuroscientific work on empathy Such an interface is crucial because empathy is both ethically and epistemically central to mental health care Mental health professionals effort of trying to understand the distressing experiences of patients will help instil a sense of dignity and respect for their suffering Empathy is also epistemically central to psychiatry because the knowledge gained through the empathy effort helps to inform the collaborative care plan to be developed with the patient The book's first section sets the conceptual epistemological and social neuroscience scene including and acknowledging empathy's potential risks and problems Its second section addresses empathy's role in medicine descriptive psychopathology psychological interventions as well as the neurobiological basis of its disorders The third section examines empathy in clinical situations such as psychosis suicidal behaviour personality disorders alcohol or substance use disorders forensic psychiatry and the care of autistic people Its final section describes the role of empathy in the work of mental health nurses occupational therapists clinical psychiatrists and mental health law lawyers with a final chapter covering empathy in mental health care interventions provided by conversational artificial intelligence The book closes with a call to place clinical empathy at the centre of mental health care provision and research to increase effectiveness outcomes and patient experience Questioning Punishment Henrique Carvalho, Anastasia Chamberlen, 2023-10-06

This book questions punishment as concept social phenomenon and contemporary practice It unpacks punishment's nature and the assumptions that underpin it examines its targets objectives and implications locates punishment and punitivity within their social contexts and aims to unsettle the idea that there is something common sensical necessary and unavoidable about punitive justice Questioning Punishment develops its argument through an innovative structure organised around five central questions what punishment is who punishment's targets and subjects are how punishment is perpetuated and experienced when and where punishment unfolds and why we punish It ends by considering the implications of this enquiry to understandings of punishment and broader pursuits of justice This book is essential reading for all those engaged with the sociology of punishment and prisons criminal justice and theoretical criminology
