Surviving the Extremes Kenneth Kamler, 2004-01-20 Surgeon explorer and masterful storyteller Kenneth Kamler takes us to the farthest reaches of the earth as well as into the uncharted territory within the human brain Surviving the Extremes is a scientific nail biter no reader will forget Physiological constraints confine our bodies to less than one fifth of the earth's surface Beyond that fraction lie the extremes What happens when we go to them Dr Kenneth Kamler has spent years observing exactly what happens A vice president of the legendary Explorers Club he has climbed dived sledged floated and trekked through some of the most treacherous and remote regions in the world A consultant for NASA Yale University and the National Geographic Society he has explored undersea caves crossed the frozen Antarctic wastelands and stitched a boy's hand back together while kneeling in knee deep Amazonian mud He was the only doctor on Everest during the tragic expedition documented in Jon Krakauer's Into Thin Air and helped treat its survivors Kamler has devoted his life to investigating how our bodies respond to environmental insults a nice way of saying the things that can kill us and watched while some succumbed to them and others sometimes miraculously overcome them Words like extreme and survival have lost some of their value from overuse and media hype By showing us what happens when life itself is at stake and the body's capacities put to their greatest test this book reminds us what they truly mean Divided into six sections jungle open sea desert underwater high altitude and outer space Surviving the Extremes uses first hand testimony and documented accounts to illustrate what happens in environments where our instinctive survival strategies must become fully engaged

These stories reveal how infinitely complex are the workings of the human body and also how heartbreakingly fragile At the heart of this book is a quest for the source of our will to survive and the haunting question of why some can and others cannot summon its awesome and nearly mystical power at their moment of greatest need Running Ultras Scott

Ludwig,2014-09-15 The book chronicles the author's journey the training the races and the people he met along the way to complete his personal quest of running four major ultramarathons The JFK 50 Mile Run Badwater Ultramarathon Western States Endurance Run and the Comrades Marathon Not Hockey Angie Abdou, Jamie Dopp,2023-08-29

In this carefully curated collection of essays editors Jamie Dopp and Angie Abdou go beyond their first collection Writing the Body in Motion to engage with the meaning of sport found in Canadian sport literature How does sport differ from physically risky recreational activities that require strength and skill Does sport demand that someone win At what point does a sport

become an art With the aim of prompting reflections on and discussions of the boundaries of sport contributors explore how literature engages with sport as a metaphor as a language and as bodily expression Instead of a focus on what is often described as Canada's national pastime contributors examine sports in Canadian literature that are decidedly not hockey

From skateboarding and parkour to fly fishing and curling these essays engage with Canadian histories and broader societal understandings through sports on the margin Interspersed with original reflections by iconic Canadian literary figures such as Steven Heighton Aritha Van Herk Thomas Wharton and Timothy Taylor this volume is fresh and intriguing and offers new ways of reading the body Adventuring John R. Hook,2013-01-29

Think of the most amazing adventure story you have ever heard about read about or watched on film How did it make you feel Probably excited and inspired and possibly a bit envious and yearning for more adventure in your own life It happens to all of us And too often we dismiss the thought out of hand After all isn't adventure reserved for the talented the young the strong Author John Hook says No Adventure is available right now to all of us regardless of our age or physical limitations He makes his point by broadening the definition of adventure to include the pursuit of any goal that may be beyond one's reach The goal can be physical intellectual emotional or even spiritual He then validates his concept with a host of fascinating true stories of adventures of all types The author's goal To extend your thinking of possible adventures for yourself and inspire you to never give up the search for new adventures Bottom line If the prospect of a richer more exciting life appeals to you read this book China Lake Barret

Baumgart,2017-05 Barret Baumgart's literary debut presents a haunting and deeply personal portrait of civilization poised at the precipice a picture of humanity caught between its deepest past and darkest future In the fall of 2013 during the height of California's historic drought Baumgart toured the remote military base NAWS China Lake near Death Valley California His mother the survivor of a recent stroke decided to come along for the ride She hoped the alleged healing power of the base's ancient Native American hot springs might cure her crippling headaches Baumgart sought to debunk claims that the military was spraying the atmosphere with toxic chemicals to control the weather What follows is a discovery that threatens to sever

not only the bonds between mother and son but between planet Earth and life itself Stalking the fringes of Internet conspiracy speculative science and contemporary archaeology Baumgart weaves memoir military history and investigative journalism in a dizzying journey that carries him from the cornfields of Iowa to drought riddled California from the Vietnam jungle to the caves of prehistoric Europe and eventually the walls of the US Capitol the sparkling white hallways of the Pentagon and straight into the contradicted heart of a worldwide climate emergency The New York Times Book of Crime Kevin Flynn,2017-03-24 From the archives of The New York Times 165 years of the most notorious real life crimes For 166 years The New York Times has been a rich source of information about crime its reporters racing alongside tabloids to track the shocking incidents that disrupt daily life This fascinating compilation edited by seasoned Times crime beat veteran Kevin Flynn captures the full sweep of the newspaper s coverage of the subject from the assassinations of icons like Lincoln John F Kennedy and Malcolm X to the deadly trails left behind by serial killers like H H Holmes America s first recognized serial killer the Son of Sam and Jeffrey Dahmer This comprehensive review examines issues like incarceration organized crime and vice from the Attica riot to the powerful Medellin Cartel as well as the infamous crimes that riveted the world The kidnappings of Jaycee Dugard and the Lindbergh baby The Manson murders The robberies that exasperated law enforcement from bank heists by Dillinger to the enduring mystery of the greatest art heist in American history at Boston s Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum White collar crimes from Ponzi to Madoff Crimes of passion such as Harry Thaw s dramatic shooting of Stanford White his rival for the charms of the beautiful Evelyn Nesbit Chapters are organized by topic and include explanatory material by Flynn to provide context The book features more than 70 photographs as well as reproductions of front page stories Although the focus is on the US important international stories are included All the Sundays Yet to Come Kathryn Bertine,2003 Now a professional elite triathlete Bertine is young energetic and funny and has already been featured in ESPN The Magazine Triathlete and Wildcat Online In the tradition of Anthony Bourdain s Kitchen Confidential and Jim Bouton s classic Ball Four Bertine humorously and honestly dishes the dirt about the little known dark side of a seemingly glamorous world
