Tokens Of Trust An Introduction To Christian Belief:

Tokens of Trust Rowan Williams, 2010-09-01 What does it mean to believe in God Can God possibly be almighty in the midst of so much evil and disaster How am I to understand the meaning of Jesus Christ's ministry and resurrection To what purpose is the church called And what does it really mean to follow Christ in today's broken world Tying together the answers to all of these questions and addressing perplexities such as the possibility of miracles and how to read the Bible Rowan Williams demonstrates that each of the basic tenets of Christian faith flows from one fundamental belief that God is completely worthy of our trust With vast knowledge of Christian history and theology and characteristically elegant prose Rowan Williams is a superb and compassionate guide through the richness and depth of Christian faith Christian Belief for Everyone: Faith and Creeds Alister McGrath, 2013-02-21 The Christian Belief for Everyone series comprises five guides to the basic ideas of the Christian faith Full of stories and helpful illustrations these guides have been written primarily for ordinary churchgoers though they will no doubt also appeal to interested readers outside the church The approach Alister McGrath adopts is non denominational very similar to the mere Christianity advocated by C S Lewis Indeed the series may be seen as a guide to mere Christianity focusing clearly as it does on the life of faith We look at why Christians believe what they do how we can best understand these ideas and the difference they make to the way we think about ourselves and our world The first volume Faith and the Creeds concentrates on the nature of faith and the history and relevance of the Creeds in a thrilling reflection on what we really mean when we say I believe This is excellent preparation for exploring the leading themes of the Creeds in four subsequent volumes The Living God Lord and Saviour Jesus of Nazareth Spirit of the Living God and The Christian Life and Hope Trust Geoffrey Hosking, 2014-08-07 Today there is much talk of a crisis of trust a crisis which is almost certainly genuine but usually misunderstood Trust A History offers a new perspective on the ways in which trust and distrust have functioned in past societies providing an empirical and historical basis against which the present crisis can be examined and suggesting ways in which the concept of trust can be used as a tool to understand our own and other societies Geoffrey Hosking argues that social trust is mediated through symbolic systems such as religion and money and the institutions associated with them such as churches and banks Historically these institutions have nourished trust but the resulting trust networks have tended to create quite tough boundaries around themselves across which distrust is projected against outsiders Hosking also shows how nation states have been particularly good at absorbing symbolic systems and generating trust among large numbers of people while also erecting distinct boundaries around themselves despite an increasingly global economy He asserts that in the modern world it has become common to entrust major resources to institutions we know little about and suggests that we need to learn from historical experience and temper this with more traditional forms of trust or become an ever more distrustful society with potentially very destabilising consequences The New Testament and the Theology of Trust Teresa Morgan, 2022-06-16 This study argues for the recovery of trust as a central theme in Christian theology and offers the first theology of trust in the New Testament Trust is the root meaning of Christian faith pistis fides and trusting in God and Christ is still fundamental to Christians But unlike faith and other aspects of faith such as belief or hope trust is little studied Building on her ground breaking study Roman Faith and Christian Faith and drawing on the philosophy and psychology of trust Teresa Morgan explores the significance of trust trustworthiness faithfulness and entrustedness in New Testament writings Trust between God Christ and humanity is revealed as a risky dynamic forward looking life changing partnership God entrusts Christ with winning the trust of humanity and bringing humanity to trust in God God and Christ trust humanity to respond to God's initiative through Christ and entrust the faithful with diverse forms of work for humanity and for creation Human understanding of God and Christ is limited and trust and faithfulness often fail but imperfect trust is not a deal breaker Morgan develops a new model of atonement showing how trust enables humanity's release from the power of both sin and suffering She examines the neglected concept of propositional trust and argues that it plays a key role in faith This volume offers a compelling vision of Christian trust as soteriological ethical and community forming Trust is both the means of salvation and an end in itself because where we trust is where we most fully live

Miracles in the Christian Tradition Cummings, Owen F., 2021 Hoping to overcome what John Meier refers to as the academic sneer factor when speaking of the miraculous Owen Cummings examines the history of the miraculous from the Old Testament through attitudes of twenty first century theologians

The Art of Contextual Theology Victor I. Ezigbo, 2021-05-28 Christianity has an inherent capability to assume as its novel mode of expression the local idioms customs and thought forms of a new cultural frontier that it encounters As a result Christianity has become multicultural and multilingual What is the role of theology in the imagination and articulation of Christianity's inherent multiculturalism and multi vernacularity Victor Ezigbo examines this question by exploring the nature and practice of contextual theology To accomplish this task this book engages the main genres of contextual theology explores echoes of contextual theological thinking in some of Jesus's sayings and discusses insights into contextual theology that can be discerned in the discourses on theology and caste relations Dalit theology theology and primal cultures African theology and theology and poverty Latin American liberation theology A Persevering Witness Elizabeth Davey, 2016-05-16 Margaret Avison one of Canada's premier poets is a highly sophisticated and self-conscious writer both charming and intimidating at the same time. She calls to mind her more famous predecessors the religious poets George Herbert, Gerard Manley Hopkins and T. S. Eliot as she vigorously engages both heart and intellect. She has forged a way to write against the grain some of the most humane, sweet and profound poetry of our time. Write the judges of the 2003 Griffin Poetry Prize. Becoming a Christian in her mid-forties, her life and her vocation were transformed and her lyrics record that shift. In Muse of Danger she writes to Christian college students. But in His strange and marvelous mercy, God nonetheless lets the believer take a necessary place as a living witness in behavior with family and classmate and stranger in conversation or in a poem. How she blends her twin passions of poetry and Christian faith becomes a story of a kind of perseverance. Readers who respond with understanding and empathy recognize both the distinctive mystery of poetic witness and the mystery inherent in Christ's saving work to which it points. Her enduring witness becomes an implicit call for us to persevere in what Avison identifies as the mix of resurrection life and marred everyday living.

Take the Plunge Timothy Radcliffe, 2012-04-19 Take the Plunge explores baptism showing how it touches the deepest dramas of human life. Timothy Radcliffe holds a unique position in the modern Catholic Church. As Master of the Dominican Order in Rome for nine years, he held one of the most senior and influential appointments the Catholic Church has on offer. But he is a member of an Order of Preachers and is thus truly apostolic. The order's motto consists of one word: Veritas, Truth, and it is the vigorous pursuit of intellectual and emotional truth which is the hallmark of his writing. This new book will not disappoint his admirers. Here Fr. Radcliffe argues that Christianity will only thrive today overcoming the challenges of secularism and religious fundamentalism if we rediscover the beauty of baptism. It touches the deepest dramas of human life: birth, growing up, falling in love, daring to give oneself to others, searching for meaning, coping with suffering and failure and eventually death.

Personhood and Christianity Oliver Forshaw, 2010-12-31 Making clear the Christian position that God's self-revelation is through human nature, the author gives an account of the way a person is formed as an individual in community from the moment of conception onward. The research and teaching of Dr. Frank Lake are explained, drawing out the distinction between Lake's kind of psychodynamic therapy and psychoanalytical practices, whether Freudian or Jungian. The book is aimed at showing that Christian living and spirituality are properly focused on the non-religious activity of God in the world and that the Church's mission requires the formation of worshipping congregations that are increasingly free of the defensive behaviours commonly encouraged by religion. In Personhood and Christianity, Forshaw makes a three-fold approach. Arguing that many of the practices and attitudes of the divided churches still make it difficult for people to understand Christianity, taking up proposals of leading theologians and therapists, he discusses the kind of holiness in the midst of ordinary life that can lead to practical reform in parishes and contribute towards radical change in community life more widely. The discussion focuses on emotional healing as a primary element in the Church's work and on the New Testament theology of the corporate Christ as key to the recovery of faith in the 21st century Stress is laid on the world directed purpose of the Eucharist through the ascended Jesus who is present everywhere Personhood and Christianity will be of great interest to all involved in Christian leadership and in the caring services of Church and society generally to those training for ministry and to everyone engaged in pastoral counselling and therapy
