To Speak Is Never Neutral:

To Speak is Never Neutral Luce Irigaray, 2002 First Published in 2002 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

To Speak is Never Neutral Luce Irigaray, 2017-09-25 Feminist philosopher linguist and psychoanalyst Luce Irigaray is renowned for her analyses of language studies that can be precise and poetic at the same time In this volume of her work on language linguistics and psychoanalysis she is concerned with developing a model that can reveal those unconscious or pre conscious structures that determine speech A key element of her method is the comparison of spoken and written language through which she teases out the sexual and social configurations of speech

Gender, Madness, and Colonial Paranoia in Australian Literature Laura Deane, 2017-05-31 This book offers an original and compelling analysis of women s madness gender and the Australian family Taking up Anne McClintock s call for critical works that psychoanalyze colonialism this radical re assessment of novels by Christina Stead and Kate Grenville provides a sustained account of women s madness and masculine colonial psychosis from a feminist postcolonial perspective This book rethinks women s madness in the context of Australian colonialism Taking novels of madness by Christina Stead and Kate Grenville as its point of critical departure it applies a post Reconciliation lens to the study of Australia s gender and racial codes to place Australian sexism and misogyny in their proper colonial context Employing madness as a frame to rethink postcolonial theorizing in Australia

Gender Madness and Colonial Paranoia in Australian Literature psychoanalyses colonialism to argue that Australia suffers from a cultural pathology based in the strategic forgetting of colonial violence This pathology takes the form of colonial paranoia about race and gender producing distorted gender codes and ways of being Australian This book maps the contours of Australian colonial paranoia weaving feminist literary theory psychoanalysis and postcolonial theory with poststructuralist approaches to reassess the traditional canon of critical madness scholarship and the place of women s writing within it This provocative work marks a radical departure from much recent feminist cultural and postcolonial criticism and will be essential reading for students of Australian literature cultural studies and gender studies wanting a new insight into how the Australian psyche is shaped by settler colonialism

Luce Irigaray and Premodern Culture Elizabeth D. Harvey, Theresa Krier, 2004-08-02 The essays in this groundbreaking collection stage conversations between the thought of the controversial feminist philosopher linguist and psychoanalyst Luce Irigaray and premodern writers ranging from Empedocles and Homer to Shakespeare Spenser and Donne They explore both the pre Enlightenment roots of Luce Irigaray s thought and the impact that her writings have had on our understanding of ancient medieval and Renaissance culture Luce Irigaray has been a major figure in Anglo American literary theory philosophy and gender studies ever since her germinal works Speculum of the Other Woman and This Sex Which Is Not One were published in English translation in 1985 This collection is the first sustained examination of Irigaray s crucial relationship to premodern discourses underpinning Western culture and of the transformative effect she has had on scholars working in pre Enlightenment periods Like Irigaray herself the essays work at the intersections of gender theory historicism and language This collection offers powerful ways of understanding premodern texts through Irigaray's theories that allow us to imagine our past and present relationship to economics science psychoanalysis gender ethics and social communities in new ways Code Bernard Dionysius Geoghegan, 2022-12-09 In Code Bernard Dionysius Geoghegan reconstructs how Progressive Era technocracy as well as crises of industrial democracy and colonialism shaped early accounts of cybernetics and digital media by theorists including Norbert Wiener Warren Weaver Margaret Mead Gregory Bateson Claude Lévi Strauss Roman Jakobson Jacques Lacan Roland Barthes and Luce Irigaray His analysis casts light on how media practical research forged common epistemic cause in programs that stretched from 1930s interwar computing at MIT and eugenics to the proliferation of seminars and laboratories in 1960s Paris This mobilization ushered forth new fields of study such as structural anthropology family therapy and literary semiology while forming enduring intellectual affinities between the humanities and informatics With Code Geoghegan offers a new history of French theory and the digital humanities as transcontinental and political endeavors linking interwar colonial ethnography in Dutch Bali to French sciences in the throes of Cold War era decolonization and modernization Shakespeare and Contemporary Fiction Barbara L. Estrin, 2012 As the first book to use fiction as theory Shakespeare and Contemporary Fiction reads backward to demonstrate how recent novelists redeploy founding and lyric plots to uncover a Shakespeare who similarly challenges the mythological homogeneity that scripts us Braided Selves Pamela Cooper-White, 2011-06-10 What if we are more multiple as persons than traditional psychology has taught us to believe And what if our multiplicity is a part of how we are made in the very image of a loving relational multiple God How have modern Western notions of Oneness caused harm to both individuals and society And how can an appreciation of our multiplicity help liberate the voices of those who live at the margins both of society and within our own complex selves Braided Selves explores these questions from the perspectives of postmodern pastoral psychology and Trinitarian theology with implications for the practice of spiritual care counseling and psychotherapy This volume gathers ten years of essays on this theme by preeminent pastoral theologian Pamela Cooper White whose writings bring into dialogue postmodern feminist and psychoanalytic theory and constructive theology Revolutionary Time Fanny Söderbäck, 2019-12-01 This book is the first to examine the relationship between time and sexual difference in the work of Julia Kristeva and Luce Irigaray Because of their association with reproduction embodiment and the survival of the species women have been confined to the cyclical time of nature a temporal model that is said to merely repeat itself Men on the other hand have been seen as bearers of linear time and as capable of change and progress Fanny Söderbäck argues that both these temporal models make change impossible because they either repeat or repress the past The model of time developed here revolutionary time aims at returning to and revitalizing the past so as to make possible a dynamic embodied present and a future pregnant with change Söderbäck stages an unprecedented conversation between Kristeva and Irigaray on issues of both time and difference and engages thinkers such as Simone de

Beauvoir Jacques Derrida Sigmund Freud Judith Butler Hannah Arendt and Plato along the way Children of God in the World Paul O'Callaghan, 2016-10-14 Children of God in the World is a textbook of theological anthropology structured in four parts The first attempts to clarify the relationship between theology philosophy and science in their respective approaches to anthropology and establishes the fundamental principle of the text stated in Vatican II's Gaudium et spes n 22 Christ manifests man to man The second part provides a historical overview of the doctrine of grace in Scripture especially the teaching of the book of Genesis on humans made in the image of God as well as Paul and John among the Fathers in particular the oriental doctrine of divinization and Augustine during the Middle Ages especially Thomas Aquinas and the Reformation period centered particularly on Luther and the Council of Trent right up to modern times The third part of the text the central one provides a systematic understanding of Christian grace in terms of the God's life present in human believers by which they become children of God disciples friends and brothers of Christ temples of the Holy Spirit This section also provides a reflection on the theological virtues faith hope and charity on the relationship between grace and human freedom on the role of the Church and Christian apostolate in the communication of grace and on the need humans have for divine grace After considering the relationship between the natural and the supernatural order the fourth and last part deals with different philosophical aspects of the human condition in the light of Christian faith the union between body and soul humans as free historical social sexual and working beings The last chapter concludes with a consideration of the human person Christianity's greatest and most enduring contribution to human thought Reflexive Research and the (Re)Turn to the Baroque Cate Watson, 2008-01-01 Reflexive research and the re turn to the baroque Or How I learned to stop worrying and love the university seeks an answer to the question posed by Gilles Deleuze Why do we desire what oppresses us The book presents a narrative conceived within a baroque framework which attempts with a proper sense of irony to reveal the truth about the academy and the way in which as institution it constructs our desires The book also sets out a methodology for exploring questions related to identity and discourses and discusses how a sense of baroque characterised as belonging to the epistemology of the Wunderkammer the baroque cabinet of curiosities and the ontology of the fold as elaborated by Deleuze challenges current assumptions about the nature of research and our understanding of the world Reflexive research and the re turn to the baroque is a contribution to the growing body of research located within the baroque conceptualised not as a discrete historical period but as a recurring cultural phenomenon which presents as counter to the prevailing orthodoxy To the baroque mind the world is not conceived in logical Cartesian terms To the contrary it is full of contradictions The baroque mind moreover is acutely aware of the conflict between illusion and reality and paradox and complexity are accepted as almost natural phenomena Leo Forkey It is essential reading writes the author for qualitative researchers and students concerned to develop innovative approaches in their work as well as for those with an interest in identities and processes of identification A Time to Speak Robert H. Bork, 2023-08-22 Since at least 1971 when he published a seminal article on constitutional interpretation in the Indiana Law Journal Robert Bork has been the legal and moral conscience of America reminding us of our founding principles and their cultural foundation The scourge of liberal ideologues both before and after Ronald Reagan nominated him for the Supreme Court in 1987 Bork has for fifty years unwaveringly exposed and explained the hypocrisy and dereliction of duty endemic among our nation's elites the politicization and adversary activism of our courts and the consequent degradation of American society Now for the first time Judge Bork has gathered together his most important and prophetic writings in A Time to Speak including a foreword and commentary by the author The volume includes more than sixty vintage Bork contributions on topics ranging from President Nixon to St Thomas More from abortion to antitrust policy and from civil liberties to natural law It also includes several of his judicial opinions and transcribed oral arguments A Time to Speak is an indispensable book for all who have harkened to the truths spoken so forthrightly in season and out by this great American original

Returning to Irigaray Maria Cimitile
,Elaine P. Miller,2006-11-06 Luce Irigaray is one of the most influential philosophers and theorists in the field of feminist thought and her work is considered both revolutionary and controversial This volume offers the first critical assessment of the relation of her early critical and poetic writings to her later political and practical philosophy Contributors examine how the question of sexual difference has unfolded in a wealth of different directions in Irigaray's later work focusing on the areas of nature and technology social and political theory and praxis ethics psychoanalysis and phenomenology They also address whether there has been a radical conceptual turn in Irigaray's thought by exploring the idea of a turn as a return to themes that have concerned her all along The essays contend that Irigaray's writings should be read criticized or promoted within the context of her overall philosophical project

The Right to Speak Patsy Rodenburg,2022-07-28 It shouldn't surprise us that politicians clerics rock singers as well as actors queue up to train their voices under the supervision of Patsy Rodenburg This book will explain her popularity among her pupils Sir Ian McKellen Practical passionate and inspiring this book teaches how to use the voice fully and expressively without fear and in any situation Patsy Rodenburg is one of the world's foremost voice and acting coaches having trained thousands of actors singers lawyers politicians business people teachers and students her book distils that knowledge and experience so that everyone can enjoy the right to speak Part one is a discursive account of our right to speak which examines impediments to clear natural confident speech and establishing habits that will help overcome these while part two is a practical workbook containing exercises and practical tips providing a step by step approach to using the voice effectively Covering speech and phonetics dialects and accents vocalising heightened emotions singing auditions recording and caring for the health of your voice these approachable and informative exercises aren't just designed to benefit actors and singers but a wide range of readers who wish to improve the use of their voice to help them at work or when communicating in formal and informal situations This Bloomsbury Revelations edition also considers the effect of social media on communication skills the need for empathetic listening how scientific discovery now illuminates why and
