The New York Times Magazine ,2004 NATO's Democratic Retrenchment Henrik B.L. Larsen,2019-07-02 Exploring NATO's post Cold War determination to support democracy abroad this book addresses the alliance's adaptation to the new illiberal backlashes in Eastern Europe the Western Balkans and Afghanistan after the alleged return of history The book engages the question of what has driven NATO to pursue democratisation in face of the significant region specific challenges and what can explain policy expansion or retrenchment over time Explaining NATO's adaptation from the perspective of power dynamics that push for international change and historical experience that informs grand strategy allows wider inferences not only about democratisation as a foreign policy strategy but also about the nature of the transatlantic alliance and its relations with a mostly illiberal environment Larsen offers a theoretical conception of NATO as a patchwork of one hegemonic and several great power interests that converge or diverge in the formulation of common policy as opposed to NATO as a community of universal values This volume will appeal to researchers of transatlantic relations NATO's functional and geographical expansion hegemony and great power politics democracy promotion lessons of the past Neoclassical Realism alliance theory and the crisis of the liberal world order Federalism-in-the-Making Edward McWhinney,Jerald

Zaslave,Werner Wolf,2023-09-20 The long continuing constitutional debate within Canada has brought a search today for new constitutional governmental models of paradigms capable of taking us all safely into the twenty first century For students of Contemporary Constitutionalism no country's experience has been more seriously studied than that of the West German federal state formed out of the three Western zones of Germany in 1949 and endowed with what was then described as a temporary governmental charter pending final reunification of Germany This volume is the result of a special bilateral Canadian German conference organised by the Simon Fraser University and the Goethe Institut of Vancouver in 1991 on the theme The Challenge of Contemporary Constitutionalism Canadian and German Federalism in the Making The essays it contains from many distinguished judges and professors from both countries form a unique contribution both to scientific knowledge in Constitutionalism and to current ventures in Constitution making and drafting in a number of countries
