Autonomy Nicholas Brown, 2019-02-28 In Autonomy Nicholas Brown theorizes the historical and theoretical argument for art's autonomy from its acknowledged character as a commodity Refusing the position that the distinction between art and the commodity has collapsed Brown demonstrates how art can in confronting its material determinations suspend the logic of capital by demanding interpretive attention He applies his readings of Marx Hegel Adorno and Jameson to a range of literature photography music television and sculpture from Cindy Sherman's photography and the novels of Ben Lerner and Jennifer Egan to The Wire and the music of the White Stripes He demonstrates that through their attention and commitment to form such artists turn aside the determination posed by the demand of the market thereby defeating the foreclosure of meaning entailed in commodification In so doing he offers a new theory of art that prompts a rethinking of the relationship between art critical theory and capitalism

Identity Mediations in Latin American Cinema and Beyond Cecilia Nuria Gil Mariño, Laura Miranda, 2019-09-12 The appearance of sound film boosted entertainment circuits around the world drawing cultural cartographies that forged images of spaces nations and regions By the late 1920s and early 30s film played a key role in the configuration of national and regional cultural identities in incipient mass markets Over the course of the twentieth and early twenty-first centuries this transmedia logic not only went unthreatened but also intensified with the arrival of new media and the development of new technologies In this respect this book strikes a dialogue between analyses that reflect the flows and transits of music films and artists mainly in the Ibero American space although it also features essays on Soviet and Asian cinema with a view to exploring the processes of configuration of cultural identities As such this work views national borders as flexible spaces that permit an exploration of the appearance of transversal relations that are part of broader networks of circulation as well as economic social and political models beyond the domestic sphere

Baden,1999-06-17 The Muffled Cries presents a multidisciplinary historical overview of the role of the writer and literature during Brazil s military dictatorship between 1964 and 1985 Nancy T Baden brings together numerous sources including personal interviews periodicals and books translated into English for the first time to expose the ironies subtleties and complexities of the Brazilian cultural milieu under authoritarianism She explores Brazilian fiction and poetry within this historical framework in order to portray the role of the writer within the cultural context based on self perception and the views of others Baden also examines the official and unofficial controls imposed by the state and the effects they had on the literature produced Following the varying phases of authoritarianism she found many experimental techniques and exaggerated realism in use as a method of showing resistance by revealing the underlying sociopolitical problems and protesting against the military This ground breaking work provides much new insight into the history and literature of Brazil from 1964 to 1985

In the Face of Adversity Thomas Nolden,2023-02-20 In the Face of Adversity explores the dynamics of translating texts that articulate particular notions of adverse circumstances The chapters illustrate how literary records of often painful experiences and dissenting voices are at risk of being stripped of their authenticity when not carefully handled by the translator how cultural moments in which the translation of a text that would have otherwise fallen into oblivion instead gave rise to a translator who enabled its preservation while ultimately coming into their own as an author as a result and how the difficulties the translator faces in intercultural or transnational constellations in which prejudice plays a role endangers projects meant to facilitate mutual understanding The authors address translation as a project of making available and preserving a corpus of texts that would otherwise be in danger of becoming censored misperceived or ignored They look at translation and adaptation as a project of curating textual models of personal communal or collective perseverance and they offer insights into the dynamics of cultural inclusion and exclusion through a series of theoretical frameworks as well as through a set of concrete case studies drawn from different cultural and historical contexts The collection also explores some of the venues that artists have pursued by transferring artistic expressions from one medium into another in order to preserve and disseminate important experiences in different cultural settings media and arts
