Vermeer, 1632-1675 Norbert Schneider, Johannes Vermeer, 2000 Vermeer's record of the tasks and duties of women The 35 paintings that have come down to us from the hand of Jan Vermeer 1632-1675 place him beside Rembrandt and Frans Hals as one of the great masters of the golden age of Dutch art Most of his pictures all of which are reproduced in this book show women about their daily business Vermeer records the tasks and duties of women the imperatives of virtue under which their lives were lived and the dreams that provided the substance of their contrasting counter world About the Series Each book in TASCHEN's Basic Art series features a detailed chronological summary of the life and oeuvre of the artist covering his or her cultural and historical importance a concise biography approximately 100 illustrations with explanatory captions

Restorative Christ Geoff Broughton, 2015-02-26 Erik Erikson best known for his life cycle theory and concept of the identity crisis proposed that we are comprised of a number of selves In several earlier books including At Home in the World Donald Capps has suggested that the emotional separation of young children especially boys from their mothers results in the development of a melancholy self In this book Capps employs Erikson's assignment of an inherent strength to each stage of the life cycle and proposes that the life enhancing strengths of the childhood years hope will purpose and competence are central to the development of a resourceful self and that this self counters the life diminishing qualities of the melancholy self Focusing on Erikson's own writings Capps identifies the four primordial resources that Erikson associates with childhood humor play dreams and hope and shows how these resources assist children in confronting life's difficulties and challenges Capps further suggests that the resourceful self that develops in childhood is central to Jesus' own vision of what we as adults may become if we follow the lead of little children

Vermeer's Family Secrets Benjamin Binstock, 2013-03-07 Johannes Vermeer one of the greatest Dutch painters and for some the single greatest painter of all produced a remarkably small corpus of work In Vermeer's Family Secrets Benjamin Binstock revolutionizes how we think about Vermeer's work and life Vermeer The Sphinx of Delft is famously a mystery in art despite the common claim that little is known of his biography there is actually an abundance of fascinating information about Vermeer's life that Binstock brings to bear on Vermeer's art for the first time he also offers new interpretations of several key documents pertaining to Vermeer that have been misunderstood Lavishly illustrated with more than 180 black and white images and more than sixty color plates the book also includes a remarkable color two page spread that presents the entirety of Vermeer's oeuvre arranged in chronological order in 1/20 scale demonstrating his gradual formal and conceptual development No book on Vermeer has ever done this kind of visual comparison of his complete output Like Poe's purloined letter Vermeer's secrets are sometimes out in the open where everyone can see them Benjamin Binstock shows us where to look Piecing together evidence the tools of art history and his own intuitive skills he gives us for the first time a history of Vermeer's work in light of Vermeer's life On almost every page of Vermeer's Family Secrets there is a perception or an adjustment that rethinks what we know about Vermeer his oeuvre Dutch painting and Western Art Perhaps the most arresting revelation of Vermeer's Family Secrets is the final one in response to inconsistencies in technique materials and artistic level Binstock posits that several of the paintings accepted as canonical works by Vermeer are in fact not by Vermeer at all but by his eldest daughter Maria How he argues this is one of the book's many pleasures
