Violence Aggression And Coercive Actions:

Violence, Aggression & Coercive Actions James T. Tedeschi, Richard B. Felson, 1994-01-01 In this book the authors describe a provocative theory that focuses on social conflicts and the concepts of power influence social identity and retributive justice They begin with a thorough examination and critique of the traditional theories of aggression including biological physiological and criminological perspectives They go on to synthesize key findings of these and other theoretical perspectives to support and define their own social interactionist theory of aggression that explores face to face confrontations and the intent of the aggressor s particular actions Violence Aggression and Coercive Actions offers a new interdisciplinary approach to the study of aggression that is rooted in social and psychological perspectives The authors present a strong theoretical foundation for practical analysis and intervention Particularly thought provoking are discussions surrounding pornography television and other media violence sexual coercion and parenting styles contrasting the use of abusive discipline with normal deterrents

Encyclopedia of Criminological Theory Francis T. Cullen, Pamela Wilcox, 2010-09-23 Consistently excellent The level and coverage of the content make this an invaluable reference for students studying criminology or taking criminal psychology modules at degree level and beyond Adam Tocock Reference Reviews In discussing a criminology topic lecturers and course textbooks often toss out names of theorists or make a sideways reference to a particular theory and move on as if assuming their student audience possesses the necessary background to appreciate and integrate the reference However university reference librarians can tell you this is often far from the case Students often approach them seeking a source to provide a quick overview of a particular theory or theorist with just the basics the who what where how and why if you will And reference librarians often find it difficult to guide these students to a quick one stop source In response SAGE Reference is publishing the two volume Encyclopedia of Criminological Theory available in both print and electronic formats This serves as a reference source for anyone interested in the roots of contemporary criminological theory Drawing together a team of international scholars it examines the global landscape of all the key theories and the theorists behind them presenting them in the context needed to understand their strengths and weaknesses In addition to interpretations of long established theories it also offers essays on cutting edge research as one might find in a handbook And like an unabridged dictionary it provides concise to the point definitions of key concepts ideas schools and figures Coverage will include contexts and concepts in criminological theory the social construction of crime policy implications of theory diversity and intercultural contexts conflict theory rational choice theories conservative criminology feminist theory

Brantingham and Pat Brantingham Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts, Volume II James Flood, Shirley Brice Heath, Diane Lapp, 2015-04-22 The Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts Volume II brings together state of the art research and practice on the evolving view of literacy as encompassing not only reading writing speaking and listening but also the multiple ways through which learners gain access to knowledge and skills It forefronts as central to literacy education the visual communicative and performative arts and the extent to which all of the technologies that have vastly expanded the meanings and uses of literacy originate and evolve through the skills and interests of the young A project of the International Reading Association published and distributed by Routledge Taylor Francis Visit <http://www.reading.org> for more information about International Reading Association books membership and other services Motivation and Delinquency D. Wayne Osgood, Joan McCord, 1997-01-01 Motivational concepts pervade the classic theories of delinquency And yet there has been little detailed analysis of the relationship between motivation and delinquency In this 44th volume of the Nebraska Symposium on Motivation a group of leading scholars in a broad range of fields make up for that scholarly negligence giving explicit and systematic attention to the subject Joan McCord opens the volume by considering fundamental questions about relationships between motivation explanation blame and free will thereby developing a base from which she poses a theory of motivation for crime Michael Rutter and colleagues review findings concerning factors ranging from social organization to behavioral genetics throughout they grapple with various forms of delinquency from common misbehavior to persistent personality disorder Gerald Patterson and Karen Yoeger's chapter on late onset delinquency extends their influential work and illustrates the application of behaviorist psychology that Patterson has been developing for over twenty years James Tedeschi examines juvenile delinquency from the perspective of his social interactionist theory of violence this theory based on the social psychology of interdependence construes violence as a coercive attempt at social influence Finally Karen Heimer and Ross

Matsueda compare the study of delinquency by social psychologists in the fields of psychology and sociology and present their own symbolic interactionist theory of delinquency Introductory Criminology Marcus Felson, Mary A.

Eckert, 2017-12-04 Introductory Criminology The Study of Risky Situations takes a unique and intuitive approach to teaching and learning criminology Avoiding the fragmentation of ideas commonly found in criminology textbooks Marcus Felson and Mary A Eckert develop a more practical readable structure that engages the reader and enhances their understanding of the material Their descriptive categories simultaneously broad and realistic serve better than the usual philosophical categories such as positivism and classicalism to stimulate students interest and critical thinking Short chapters each broken into 5-7 sections describe situations in which crime is most likely to happen and explain why they are risky and what society can and can't do about crime They create a framework to organize ideas and facts and then link these categories to the leading theories developed by criminologists over the last 100 years With this narrative to guide them students remember the material beyond the final exam This fresh new text was created by two professors to address the main points they encounter in teaching their own criminology courses Problems solved include reluctant readers aversion to abstract thinking fear of theory and boredom with laundry lists of disconnected ideas Felson a leader in criminology theory with a global reputation for innovative thinking and Eckert an experienced criminal justice researcher are uniquely qualified to reframe criminology in a unified arc By design they offer abstractions that are useful and not overbearing their prose is readable and their concepts are easy to comprehend and remember This new textbook challenges instructors to re-engage with theory and present the essence of criminological thought for adult learners coaching students to grasp the concept before any label is attached and allowing them to emerge with deeper understanding of what each theory means and offers Lean with no filler or fluff like stock photos Introductory Criminology includes the authors graphics to crystallize and expand concepts from the text The Social Psychology of Good and Evil, First Edition Arthur G. Miller, 2013-10-24 This compelling work brings together an array of distinguished scholars to explore key concepts theories and findings pertaining to some of the most fundamental issues in social life the conditions under which people are kind and helpful to others or conversely under which they commit harmful even murderous acts Covered are such topics as the complex interaction of individual societal and situational factors underpinning good or evil behavior the role of guilt and the self concept and issues of responsibility and motivation including why good people do bad things The volume also examines whether aggression and violence are inescapable aspects of human nature and how cooperative interaction can break down stereotyping and discrimination
