Virtually Jewish Reinventing Jewish Culture In Europe:

Virtually Jewish Ruth Ellen Gruber, 2002-01-15 The author explores the phenomenon of the Jewish culture in Europe In this book she asks in what way do non Jews embrace and enact Jewish culture and for what reasons Virtual and Real-Life Spaces of Jewish Europe in the 21st Century Maja Hultman, Joachim Schlör, 2025-10-06 The first decades of the 21st century have presented numerous challenges for European Jewry far right movements and a rise of antisemitism a global pandemic and a war on European soil At the same time heritage sites commemorating the Jewish past and the use of digital platforms to create new forms of communication and cultural co construction are growing Using a variety of spaces heritage sites museums digital practices urban topography and communal activities as case studies this collective volume analyses whether they might serve as a reminder that despite moments of crisis Jewish life in Europe persists The spatial analysis offered by the volume uses the concept of virtuality as a starting point thereby engaging anew with spatial concepts laid out by scholars in the 1990s Now 30 years later prompted by today s political social and cultural European landscape as well as the increasing role of digitization the authors discuss the meaning of virtuality and how it relates to notions of authenticity and reality in Jewish culture and in Jewish non Jewish relations As such the book provides a fresh take on and a new way forward for the conceptualizations and applications of space which together offer particularly useful avenues to access power relations identity re constructions and performative aspects of the European Jewish experience Space and Spatiality in Modern German-Jewish History Simone Lässig, Miriam Rürup, 2017-06-01 What makes a space Jewish This wide ranging volume revisits literal as well as metaphorical spaces in modern German history to examine the ways in which Jewishness has been attributed to them both within and outside of Jewish communities and what the implications have been across different eras and social contexts Working from an expansive concept of the spatial these contributions look not only at physical sites but at professional political institutional and imaginative realms as well as historical Jewish experiences of spacelessness Together they encompass spaces as varied as early modern print shops and Weimar cinema always pointing to the complex intertwining of German and Jewish identity Being Jewish in 21st Century Central Europe Haim Fireberg, Olaf Glöckner, Marcela Menachem Zoufalá, 2020-09-07 Jewish life in Europe has undergone dramatic changes and transformations within the 20th century and also the last two decades The phenomenon of the dual position of the Jewish minority in relation to the majority not entirely unusual for Jewish Diaspora communities manifested itself most distinctly on the European continent This unique Jewish experience of the ambiguous position of insider and outsider may provide valuable views on contemporary European reality and identity crisis The book focuses inter alia on the main common denominators of contemporary Jewish life in Central Europe such as an intense confrontation with the heritage of the Holocaust and unrelenting antisemitism on the one hand and on the other hand huge appreciation of traditional Jewish learning and culture by a considerable part of non Jewish Europeans The volume includes contributions on Jewish life in central European countries like Hungary the Czech Republic Poland Austria and Germany Jewish Consumer Cultures in Nineteenth and Twentieth-Century Europe and North America Paul Lerner,Uwe Spiekermann,Anne Schenderlein,2022-01-22 This book investigates the place and meaning of consumption in Jewish lives and the roles Jews played in different consumer cultures in modern Europe and North America Drawing on innovative original research into this new and challenging field the volume brings Jewish studies and the history and theory of consumer culture into dialogue with each other Its chapters explore Jewish businesspeople s development of niche commercial practices in several transnational contexts the imagining marketing and realization of a Jewish national homeland in Palestine through consumer goods and strategies associations between Jews luxury and gender in multiple contexts and the political dimensions of consumer choice Together the essays in this volume show how the study of consumption enriches our understanding of modern Jewish history and how a focus on consumer goods and practices illuminates the study of Jewish religious observance ethnic identities gender formations and immigrant trajectories across the globe New Perspectives on Jewish Cultural History Maja Gildin Zuckerman,Jakob Egholm Feldt,2019-08-19 This book presents original studies of how a cultural concept of Jewishness and a coherent Jewish history came to make sense in the experiences of people entangled in different historical situations Instead of searching for the inconsistencies discontinuities or ruptures of dominant grand historical narratives of Jewish cultural history this book unfolds situations and events where Jewishness and a coherent Jewish history became useful meaningful and acted upon as a site of causal explanations Inspired by classical American pragmatism and more recent French pragmatism we present a new perspective on Jewish cultural history in which the experiences problems and actions of people are at the center of reconstructions of historical causalities and projections of future horizons The book shows how boundaries between Jewish and non Jewish are not a priori given but are instead repeatedly experienced in a variety of situations and then acted upon as matters of facts In different ways and on different scales these studies show how people s experiences of Jewishness perpetually probe test and shape the boundaries between what is Jewish and non Jewish and that these boundaries shape the spatiotemporal linkages that we call history Ethnic Europe Roland Hsu,2010-02-05 Ethnic Europe examines the increasingly complex ethnic challenges facing the expanding European Union Essays from eleven experts tackle such issues as labor migration strains on welfare economies the durability of local traditions the effects of globalized cultures and the role of Islamic diasporas separatist movements and threats of terrorism With Europe now a destination for global immigration European countries are increasingly alert to the difficult struggle to balance minority rights with social cohesion In pondering these dilemmas the contributors to this volume take us from theory history and broad views of diasporas to the particularities of neighborhoods borderlands and popular literature and film that have been shaped by the mixing of ethnic cultures The Jewish Origins of Cultural Pluralism Daniel Greene,2011-04-15 Daniel Greene traces the emergence of the idea of cultural pluralism to the lived experiences of a group of Jewish college students and public intellectuals including the philosopher Horace M Kallen These young Jews faced particular challenges as they sought to integrate themselves into the American academy and literary world of the early 20th century At Harvard University they founded an influential student organization known as the Menorah Association in 1906 and later the Menorah Journal which became a leading voice of Jewish public opinion in the 1920s In response to the idea that the American melting pot would erase all cultural differences the Menorah Association advocated a pluralist America that would accommodate a thriving Jewish culture while bringing Jewishness into mainstream American life

Freeman, Benjamin Nienass, Rachel Daniell, 2014-02-01 In an age of information and new media the relationships between remembering and forgetting have changed This volume addresses the tension between loud and often spectacular histories and those forgotten pasts we strain to hear Employing social and cultural analysis the essays within examine mnemonic technologies both new and old and cover subjects as diverse as U S internment camps for Japanese Americans in WWII the Canadian Indian Residential School system Israeli memorial videos and the desaparecidos in Argentina Through these cases the contributors argue for a re interpretation of Guy Debord's notion of the spectacle as a conceptual apparatus through which to examine the contemporary landscape of social memory arguing that the concept of spectacle might be developed in an age seen as dissatisfied with the present nervous about the future and obsessed with the past Perhaps now spectacle can be thought of not as a tool of distraction employed solely by hegemonic powers but instead as a device used to answer Walter Benjamin's plea to explode the continuum of history and bring our attention to now time In the Shadows of the Holocaust and Communism Alena Heitlinger, 2017-07-12 When traumatic historical events and transformations coincide with one's entry into young adulthood the personal and historical significance of life course transitions interact and intensify In this volume Alena Heitlinger examines identity formation among a generation of Czech and Slovak Jews who grew up under communism coming of age during the de Stalinization period of 1962-1968 Heitlinger's main focus is on the differences and similarities within and between generations and on the changing historical and political circumstances of state socialism communism that have shaped an individual's consciousness and identity as a Jew assimilated Czech Slovak Czechoslovak and where relevant as an emigre or an immigrant The book addresses a larger set of questions about the formation of Jewish identity in the midst of political upheavals secularization assimilation and modernity Who is a Jew How is Jewish identity defined How does Jewish identity change based on different historical contexts How is Jewish identity transmitted from one generation to the next What do the Czech and Slovak cases tell us about similar experiences in other former communist countries or in established liberal democracies Heitlinger explores the official and unofficial transmission of Holocaust remembering and non remembering the role of Jewish youth groups attitudes toward Israel and Zionism and the impact of the collapse of communism This volume is rich in both statistical and archival data and in its analysis of historical institutional and social factors Heitlinger's wide ranging approach shows how history generational and individual biography intertwine in the formation of ethnic identity and its ambiguities
