Women In Pain Gender And Morbidity In Mexico:

Women in Pain Kaja Finkler, 2010-08-03 Kaja Finkler explores the relationship between patterns of social interaction cultural expectations and gender ideologies In Women in Pain she examines the nature of sickness and its interaction with issues about gender and gender relations from both a historical and contemporary perspective Encyclopedia of Sex and Gender Carol R. Ember, Melvin Ember, 2003-12-31 The central aim of this encyclopedia is to give the reader a comparative perspective on issues involving conceptions of gender gender differences gender roles relationships between the genders and sexuality The encyclopedia is divided into two volumes Topics and Cultures The combination of topical overviews and varying cultural portraits is what makes this encyclopedia a unique reference work for students researchers and teachers interested in gender studies and cross cultural variation in sex and gender It deserves a place in the library of every university and every social science and health department Contents Glossary Cultural Conceptions of Gender Gender Roles Status and Institutions Sexuality and Male Female Interaction Sex and Gender in the World s Cultures Culture Name Index Subject Index El Niño Fidencio and the Fidencistas Antonio Noé Zavaleta Ph.D., 2016-08-17 El Nio Fidencio and the Fidencistas Folk Religion on the U S Mexican Borderland is an biographical ethnography examining the life of Mexicos most famous folk healer as well as the folk religious healing cult that has followed him since his death in 1938 Dr Zavaleta examines curanderismo the transmigrational patterns of Mexicans in the United States as well as Latino a social psychology and importance of folk beliefs and practices in their daily lives In 2009 Zavaletas lifetime of research supporting Mexican nationals living abroad Mexicanos en el Extranjero earned him the prestigious Ohtli a Nahuatl Aztec word meaning pathfinder The Ohtli is regarded as the highest community minded awards which the Republic of Mexico bestows to non Mexican citizens for their service to Mexico In 2010 Zavaleta was appointed by President Obama to the Good Neighbor Environmental Commission of the EPA which reports directly to the President and dedicated to observing and analyzing ongoing events within the cross border eco systems of the United States Mexico borderlands Zavaleta studied anthropology at The University of Texas at Austin completing a doctoral degree in 1976 For the past 40 years he has been a faculty member and administrator at The University of Texas at Brownsville and Texas Southmost College and The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley Dr Zavaleta retired in 2016 and lives in Brownsville Texas Latinas Crossing Borders and Building Communities in Greater Washington Raúl Sánchez Molina, Lucy M. Cohen, 2016-04-04 After crossing several borders Latina o immigrants and their children meet challenges of globalization as they acclimate to the Washington D C metropolitan area Facing different social and cultural barriers while adapting to this metropolis most of them meet these challenges by building transnational bridges that connect societies and cultures These circumstances have offered opportunities for anthropologists and other scholars to work together with community residents in activities that have contributed to cultural knowledge and action Latinas Crossing Borders and Building Communities in Greater Washington Applying Anthropology in Multicultural

Neighborhoods addresses how Latina o immigrants use a variety of strategies to meet adaptation challenges Drawing on ethnographic research and practices contributors highlight how Latinas and Latinos are building community while reshaping ethnic gender and generational identities They focus on models of collaboration and interaction in community centers healthcare the labor market education and faith based communities Delivering Health Lydia Z. Dixon,2020-11-15

Honorable Mention for the Association for Feminist Anthropology s Rosaldo Book Prize 2021 Maternal health outcomes are a key focus of global health initiatives In Delivering Health author Lydia Z Dixon uncovers the ways such outcomes have been shaped by broader historical political and social factors in Mexico through the perspectives of those who are at the front lines fighting for change midwives Midwives have long been marginalized in Mexico as remnants of the country s precolonial past yet Dixon shows how they are now strategically positioning themselves as agents of modernity and development Midwifery education programs have popped up across Mexico each with their own critique of the health care system and vision for how midwifery can help Delivering Health ethnographically examines three such schools with very different educational approaches and professional goals From San Miguel de Allende to Oaxaca to Michoac n and points between Dixon takes us into the classrooms clinics and conferences where questions of what it means to provide good reproductive health care are being taught challenged and implemented Through interviews observational data and even student artwork we are shown how underlying inequality manifests in poor care for many Mexican women The midwives in this book argue that they can improve care while also addressing this inequality Ultimately Delivering Health asks us to consider the possibility that marginalized actors like midwives may hold the solution to widespread concerns in health The Social Archaeology of

Funerary Remains Rebecca Gowland,Christopher Knusel,2009-04-06 Human bones form the most direct link to understanding how people lived in the past who they were and where they came from The interpretative value of human skeletal remains within their burial context in terms of past social identity and organisation is awesome but was for many years underexploited by archaeologists The nineteen papers in this edited volume are an attempt to redress this by marrying the cultural aspects of burial with the anthropology of the deceased Gender and Health Carolyn F. Sargent,Caroline Brettell,1996 Gender and Health An International Perspective responds to a growing interest in the relationship between gender health care organization and health policy In examining this relationship Sargent and Brettell demonstrate how biology medicine health and ethical dilemmas are informed by culture and shaped by social political and economic forces

Images of Women in Illness Enriqueta Valdez,1996 Mexican Community Health and the Politics of Health Reform Suzanne D. Schneider,2010-06-15 The struggle of Mexicans to secure quality health care is the focal point of this study Large scale transformations in Mexico s national health care system have resulted in budget cuts increased user fees and decreased public services At the local level community based health groups that practice popular medicine are addressing the challenge by training health promoters in a variety of preventive and healing practices and offering low cost services in community clinics Their health care approach integrates local and global practices ranging from Mexican herbalism to Chinese medicine Suzanne Schneider's ethnographic study of grassroots health groups in Morelos Mexico addresses the lives of the participants and the groups' contributions to community health What draws women to these groups Are they reacting to their experiences with formal health care To what extent are the groups' teachings applied in the household and accepted throughout the community Does group participation offer women new sources of empowerment or avenues to income generation Does the government support these groups How do they fit into larger trends of health care reform and the shift toward privatization Taking a political economic approach Schneider examines the conditions under which community based health groups are emerging and explores the ways different constituencies address health dilemmas She delineates future roles for new participants in health care new models of community health and a new medical pluralism

Children's Health Issues in Historical Perspective Cheryl Krasnick Warsh, Veronica Strong-Boag, 2006-01-01 From sentimental stories about polio to the latest cherub in hospital commercials sick children tug at the public's heartstrings However sick children have not always had adequate medical care or protection The essays in Children's Issues in Historical Perspective investigate the identification prevention and treatment of childhood diseases from the 1800s onwards in areas ranging from French colonial Vietnam to nineteenth century northern British Columbia from New Zealand fresh air camps to American health fairs Themes include the role of government and or the private sector in initiating and underwriting child public health programs the growth of the profession of pediatrics and its views on proper mothering techniques the role of nationalism as well as ethnic and racial dimensions in child saving movements normative behaviour social control and the treatment of deviant children and adolescents poverty wealth and child health measures and the development of the modern children's hospital This liberally illustrated collection reflects the growing academic interest in all aspects of childhood especially child health and originates from health care professionals and scholars across the disciplines An introduction by the editors places the historical themes in context and offers an overview of the contemporary study of children's health

A World Full of Women Martha Coonfield Ward, Monica Edelstein, 2006 This revision of A World Full of Women will appeal to instructors and students in anthropology or any discipline looking for a global approach to the study of women Reading this book is like sitting down for an intellectually stimulating yet thoroughly comfortable chat according to one reviewer Written by an anthropologist who has taught undergraduates for more than 30 years and designed the first official women's studies course in Louisiana this book has been fueled by the explosion of research on women since the 1970s A new co author Monica Edelstein brings to the Fourth Edition a wealth of ethnographic experience and research with peoples of North Africa and the Middle East Another reviewer describes this text as one of the few books that analyzes cultures through a gender lens the book tackles and successfully dismisses many cultural sexist illusions New To This Edition The revised Introduction now includes a section entitled Speaking of Women that ties together issues of power and language as the jumping off point for the rest of the text Revised and reorganized Chapter 1 now focuses more tightly on women and work Revised Chapter 4 now includes analysis and ethnographic examples about comparative childrearing in place of the material on female primatologists with particular attention to breastfeeding as practiced around the world In revised Chapter 5 the section Questioning Romance has been replaced with Love Marriages and Lavish Weddings This new section includes new research on the prevalence of the culture of romance and the increasingly elaborate weddings as global phenomena as well as other new ethnographic and comparative materials with an emphasis on women's choices realities and activities in relationships Chapter 8 Life's Lesions Suffering and Healing includes a new section Paths to Authority which incorporates much of Edelstein's own research Don't Miss This Exciting Value Added Option The Fourth Edition is available with an Author's Choice collection of readings featuring chapter by chapter suggestions for incorporating articles from Pearson Education's Reading Women's Lives database Contact your local representative or visit www.ablongman.com for details
