From the mid 1980s to the turn of the 1990s the international HR field was considered to be in its infancy. There continues to be both an evolution of territory covered by the field as a series of successively evolving cultural, geographical and institutional challenges faced by the multinational corporation (MNC) as well as more critical questioning whether this has created an expanded or a fragmented field. This book brings together the latest research on important issues driven concerns that the field of IHRM now has to face, absorb, interpret, then reanalyse through international lenses. This volume gives attention to those aspects of MNC behaviour: choices about location, how they organize local subsidiaries, choices made about technology, capital and labour, and choices made about investments and strategies that are subject to institutional influences. It also gives voice to a number of contemporary issues: reverse knowledge flows, skill supply strategies, employer branding, enablement, outsourcing, global networks that now need to be accommodated within the field. Broadens the IHRM field to cover comparative and institutional perspectives. Provides a multi-level analysis of globalization phenomena at the individual organization and macro level. Focuses on the current problems and issues driving the attention of IHRM Directors.

Covered under 23 chapters, the systematic analysis highlights the main forces determining HRM systems in the region.

Management and Labour Studies, 1993 Handbook of Research on Women in Management and the Global Labor Market Pereira, Elisabeth T., Paoloni, Paola, 2019-06-28. Existing literature has identified the existence of some differences between men and women entrepreneurs in terms of propensity to innovation, approach to creativity, decision making, resilience and co-creation. Without properly examining the current inequalities in social economic structures, it is difficult to examine the results of corporate female leadership. The Handbook of Research on Women in Management and the Global Labor Market is a pivotal reference source that examines the point of convergence among entrepreneurship, organizations, relationship, creativity and culture from a gender perspective and researches the relation between current inequalities in social economic structures and organizations in the labor market, education and individual skills, wages, work performance, promotion and mobility. While highlighting topics such as gender gap, woman empowerment and gender inequality, this publication is ideally designed for managers, government officials.
