Womens Voices Ireland Magazines 1950s:

Women's Voices in Ireland Caitriona Clear, 2015-12-17 Women's Voices in Ireland examines the letters and problems sent in by women to two Irish women's magazines in the 1950s and 60s discussing them within their wider social and historical context. In doing so it provides a unique insight into one of the few forums for female expression in Ireland during this period. Although in these decades more Irish women than ever before participated in paid work, trade unions and voluntary organizations, their representation in politics and public and their workforce participation remained low. Meanwhile women who came of age from the late 1950s experienced a freedom which their mothers and aunts married or single in the workplace or the home had never known. Diary and letters pages and problem pages in Irish produced magazines in the 1950s and 60s enabled women from all walks of life to express their opinions and to seek guidance on the social changes they saw happening around them. This book by examining these communications gives a new insight into the history of Irish women and also contributes to the ongoing debate about what women's magazines mean for women's history. Women's Voices in Ireland Caitriona Clear, 2016 Women's Voices in Ireland examines the letters and problems sent in by women to two Irish women's magazines in the 1950s and 60s discussing them within their wider social and historical context. Publisher's website Women in Magazines Rachel Ritchie, Sue Hawkins, Nicola Phillips, S. Jay Kleinberg, 2016-02-19 Women have been important contributors to and readers of magazines since the development of the periodical press in the nineteenth century. By the mid twentieth century millions of women read the weeklies and monthlies that focused on supposedly feminine concerns of the home, family and appearance. In the decades that followed feminist scholars criticized such publications as at best conservative and at worst regressive in their treatment of gender norms and ideals. However this perspective obscures the heterogeneity of the magazine industry itself and women's experiences of it both as readers and as journalists. This collection explores such diversity highlighting the differing and at times contradictory images and understandings of women in a range of magazines and women's contributions to magazines in a number of contexts from late nineteenth century publications to twenty first century titles in Britain, North America, continental Europe and Australia.
