Maxine Hong Kingston's Broken Book of Life Maureen Sabine, 2004-02-29 The numerous studies of Maxine Hong Kingston s touchstone work The Woman Warrior fail to take into account the stories in China Men which were largely written together with those in The Woman Warrior but later published separately Although Hong Kingston s decision to separate the male and female narratives enabled readers to see the strength of the resulting feminist point of view in The Woman Warrior the author has steadily maintained that to understand the book fully it was necessary to read its male companion text Maureen Sabine s ambitious study of The Woman Warrior and China Men aims to bring these divided texts back together with a close reading that looks for the textual traces of the father in The Woman Warrior and shows how the daughter narrator tracks down his history in China Men She considers theories of intertextuality that open up the possibility of a dynamic interplay between the two books and suggests that the Hong family women and men may be struggling for dialogue with each other even when they appear textually silent or apart

Empire Bryan C. Rindfleisch,2019-08-20 A revealing saga detailing the economic familial and social bonds forged by Indian trader George Galphin in the early American South A native of Ireland George Galphin arrived in South Carolina in 1737 and quickly emerged as one of the most proficient deerskin traders in the South This was due in large part to his marriage to Metawney a Creek Indian woman from the town of Coweta who incorporated Galphin into her family and clan allowing him to establish one of the most profitable merchant companies in North America As part of his trade operations Galphin cemented connections with Indigenous and European peoples across the South while simultaneously securing links to merchants and traders in the British Empire continental Europe and beyond In George Galphin s Intimate Empire The Creek Indians Family and Colonialism in Early America Bryan C Rindfleisch presents a complex narrative about eighteenth century cross cultural relationships Reconstructing the multilayered bonds forged by Galphin and challenging scholarly understandings of life in the Native South the American South more broadly and the Atlantic World Rindfleisch looks simultaneously at familial cultural political geographical and commercial ties examining how eighteenth century people organized their world both mentally and physically He demonstrates how Galphin s importance emerged through the people with whom he bonded At their most intimate Galphin s multilayered relationships revolved around the Creek Anglo French and African children who comprised his North American family as well as family and friends on the other side of the Atlantic Through extensive research in primary sources Rindfleisch reconstructs an expansive imperial world that stretches across the American South and reaches into London and includes Indians Europeans and Africans who were intimately interconnected and mutually dependent As a whole George Galphin's Intimate Empire provides critical insights into the intensely personal dimensions and cross cultural contours of the eighteenth century South and how empire building and colonialism were by their very nature intimate and familial affairs Pearl Harbor's Final Warning Valarie J. symbols that defined perceptions of women from the turn of the century through the end of World War I and how they changed women's role in society American Book Publishing Record, 2004 Retaining Women in Engineering Robert Stavig, Alissa Stavig, 2022-11-22 Diversity drives better business results however despite decades of effort women make up only 15% of engineers Retaining Women in Engineering The Empowerment of Lean Development approaches the problem of women leaving engineering from a systems level perspective to change the way engineering is done and level the playing field between men and women This book utilizes the six principles of Lean Development and draws from the learnings of the field of medicine recognizing that access to a vast amount of written knowledge is an important part of a physician's learning process Using these principles the book provides leaders with concrete strategies and methods to change the way engineering is done and learning occurs Integrated within the book are gray box stories which describe two different worlds that engineers work in that of traditional development and that of Lean Development These stories underscore the way that the gender confidence gap bias and stereotypes affect a female engineer's career. Additionally, the book highlights how the methods of Lean Development strengthen an individual's ability to control their learning and career and a leader's ability to coach others more effectively. Ultimately, this results in more capable teams. Furthermore, not unlike the marine chronometer, a clock which solved the centuries-old challenge of establishing the longitudinal location for a ship at sea, this book finds the clock that levels the playing field between men and women. This book will help leaders at every level within an engineering firm as well as women engineers and managers who want to grow to their full potential and others who care about gender equity. Socio-Environmental Crisis in Women's Novels and Films in The Americas Victoria Jara, 2025-03-31 The climate crisis has reached a critical point necessitating urgent global action. Women's activism against environmental dispossession in the Americas manifests not only in protests and classrooms but also through artistic filmmaking and writing. This book focuses on the overlooked contributions of women filmmakers and novelists, highlighting how their work reveals the connections between environmental dispossession and various injustices related to gender, ethnicity, age, class, and labor. It demonstrates that contemporary women in the Americas engage deeply with ecological issues, analyzing their representations and identifying common principles across texts. Using an interdisciplinary approach from environmental humanities, gender, and Indigenous studies, and film and literary studies, the author compares works from Canada and Latin America. Three poetics emerge: environmental destruction, critiques of harmful development, and care expands notions of reciprocity beyond the human. And insurgency showcases struggles against extractivist models. These works invite readers to understand the complex interconnections of environmental justice within society. Harriet Martineau's Writing on the British Empire, Vol 2 Deborah Logan, Antoinette Burton, Kitty Sklar, Patrick Brantlinger, 2021-12-16 The literary presence of Harriet Martineau pervades 19th-century English and American culture. This edition makes her work available and focuses on her writings on imperialism. It should be of interest to scholars of colonialism, women's writing, Victorian studies, sociology, and journalism. Accounting for Slavery Caitlin Rosenthal, 2018-08-27 Caitlin Rosenthal explores quantitative management practices on West Indian and Southern plantations, showing how planter capitalists built sophisticated organizations and used complex accounting tools.
