Listening to the Land Lee Schweninger, 2010-01-25 For better or worse representations abound of Native Americans as a people with an innate and special connection to the earth This study looks at the challenges faced by Native American writers who confront stereotypical representations as they assert their own ethical relationship with the earth Lee Schweninger considers a range of genres memoirs novels stories essays by Native writers from various parts of the United States Contextualizing these works within the origins evolution and perpetuation of the green labels imposed on American Indians Schweninger shows how writers often find themselves denying some land ethic stereotypes while seeming to embrace others Taken together the time periods covered in Listening to the Land span more than a hundred years from Luther Standing Bear's description of his late nineteenth century life on the prairie to Linda Hogan's account of a 1999 Makah hunt of a gray whale Two thirds of the writers Schweninger considers however are well known voices from the second half of the twentieth century including N Scott Momaday Louise Erdrich Vine Deloria Jr Gerald Vizenor and Louis Owens Few ecocritical studies have focused on indigenous environmental attitudes in comparison to related work done by historians and anthropologists Listening to the Land will narrow this gap in the scholarship moreover it will add individual Native American perspectives to an understanding of what to these writers is a genuine Native American philosophy regarding the land

Gerald Vizenor Kimberly M. Blaeser, 1996 Kimberly M Blaeser begins with an examination of Vizenor's concept of Native American oral culture and his unique incorporation of oral tradition in the written word She details Vizenor's efforts to produce a form of writing that resists static meaning involves the writer in the creation of the literary moment and invites political action and explores the place of Vizenor's work within the larger context of contemporary tribal literature Native American scholarship and critical theory The Cambridge Companion to Native American Literature Joy Porter, Kenneth M. Roemer, 2005-07-21 An informative and wide ranging overview of Native American literature from the 1770s to present day Introduction to Indigenous Literary Criticism in Canada Heather Macfarlane, Armand Garnet Ruffo, 2015-12-18 Introduction to Indigenous Literary Criticism in Canada collects 26 seminal critical essays indispensable to our understanding of the rapidly growing field of Indigenous literatures The texts gathered in this collection selected after extensive consultation with experts in the field trace the development of Indigenous literatures while highlighting major trends and themes including appropriation stereotyping language land spirituality orality colonialism residential schools reconciliation gender resistance and ethical scholarship Critical Perspectives on Native American Fiction Richard F. Madsen, 2012-12-01 The first book devoted exclusively to the poetry and literary aesthetics of one of Native America's most accomplished writers this collection of essays brings together detailed critical analyses of single texts and individual poetry collections from diverse theoretical perspectives along with comparative discussions of Vizenor's related works Contributors discuss Vizenor's philosophy of poetic expression his innovations in diverse poetic genres and the dynamic interrelationships between Vizenor's poetry and his prose writings Throughout his poetic career Vizenor has returned to common tropes themes and structures Indeed it is difficult to distinguish clearly his work in poetry from his prose fiction and drama The essays gathered in this collection offer powerful evidence of the continuing influence of Anishinaabe dream songs and the haiku form in Vizenor's novels stories and theoretical essays this influence is most obvious at the level of grammatical structure and imagistic composition but can also be discerned in terms of themes and issues to which Vizenor continues to return European Review of Native American Studies ,1990 American Ethnic Writers David R. Peck, Tracy Irons-Georges, 2000 Presents profiles of American writers of Asian African Jewish Native American and other ethnic backgrounds discussing their contributions to literature and how their works deal with the themes of race and ethnicity Bhikshugita, the Mendicant's Song Ekanātha, 1928 Indian Antiquary ,1894 At a time when each Society had its own medium of propagation of its researches in the form of Transactions Proceedings Journals etc a need was strongly felt for bringing out a journal devoted exclusively to the study and advancement of Indian culture in all its aspects This encouraged Jas Burgess to launch the Indian antiquary in 1872 The scope was in his own words as wide as possible incorporating manners and customs arts mythology feasts festivals and rites antiquities and the history of India Another laudable aim was to present the readers abstracts of the most recent researches of scholars in India and the West Indian antiquary also dealt with local legends folklore proverbs etc In short Indian antiquary was entirely devoted to the study of MAN the Indian in all spheres introduction to facsimile volumes published 1985 The Antioch Review John Donald Kingsley, 1979 Northwest Anthropological Research Notes ,1994 Since Flannery O'Connor Loren Logsdon, Charles W.
