Words, Images and Performances in Translation Rita Wilson, Brigid Maher, 2012-02-02 Self-Translation

Anthony Cordingley, 2013-01-17 Self Translation Brokering originality in hybrid culture provides critical historical and interdisciplinary analyses of self translators and their works It investigates the challenges which the bilingual oeuvre and the experience of the self translator pose to conventional definitions of translation and the problematic dichotomies of original and translation author and translator Canonical self translators such as Samuel Beckett Vladimir Nabokov and Rabindranath Tagore are here discussed in the context of previously overlooked self translators from Japan to South Africa from the Basque Country to Scotland This book seeks therefore to offer a portrait of the diverse artistic and political objectives and priorities of self translators by investigating different cosmopolitan post colonial and indigenous practices Numerous contributions to this volume extend the scope of self translation to include the composition of a work out of a multilingual consciousness or society They demonstrate how production within hybrid contexts requires the negotiation of different languages within the self generating powerful experiences from crisis to liberation and texts that offer key insights into our increasingly globalized culture

The Translator on Stage Geraldine Brodie, 2017-12-28 In today's theatre productions of plays that originated in another language are frequently distinguished by two characteristics the authorship of the English text by a well known local theatre specialist and the absence of the term translation generally in favour of adaptation or version The Translator on Stage investigates the creative processes that bring translated plays to the mainstream stage exploring the commissioning translation and development procedures that end with a performed play Through a sample of eight plays that span two thousand years and six languages including Festen Don Carlos Hedda Gabler and The UN Inspector and that were all staged within a three month period Geraldine Brodie brings in a wide range of theatre practitioners to discuss their roles in the translation process and the motivations that govern London theatre translation activities The Translator on Stage is informed by specially conducted interviews with the productions producers artistic directors directors literary managers playwrights and specialist translators including Michael Grandage Rufus Norris David Eldridge Juan Mayorga David Johnston and Mike Poulton It sheds new light not only on theatrical translation procedures but also on the place of translation in society today

Translation and Contemporary Art MaCarmen África Vidal Claramonte, 2022-03-01 This book looks to expand the definition of translation in line with Susan Bassnett and David Johnston's notion of the outward turn applying this perspective to contemporary art to broaden the scope of how we understand translation in today's global multisemiotic world The book takes as its point of departure the idea that texts are comprised of not only words but other semiotic systems and therefore expanding our notions of both language and translation can better equip us to translate stories told via non traditional means in novel ways While the outward turn has been analyzed in literature Vidal directs this spotlight to contemporary art a field which has already engaged in disciplinary connections with Translation Studies The volume highlights how the unpacking of such connections between disciplines encourages engagement with contemporary social issues around identity power migration and globalization and in turn new ways of thinking and bringing about wider cultural change This innovative book will be of interest to scholars in translation studies and contemporary art

The Bloomsbury Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature in Translation Cosima Bruno, Lucas Klein, Chris Song, 2023-10-19 Offering the first systematic overview of modern and contemporary Chinese literature from a translation studies perspective this handbook provides students researchers and teachers with a context in which to read and appreciate the effects of linguistic and cultural transfer in Chinese literary works Translation matters It always has of course but more so when we want to reap the benefits of intercultural communication In many universities Chinese literature in English translation is taught as if it had been written in English As a result students submit what they read to their own cultural expectations they do not read in translation and do not attend to the protocols of knowing engagements and contestations that bind literature and society to each other The Bloomsbury Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature in Translation squarely addresses this pedagogical lack Organised in a tripartite structure around considerations of textual social and large scale spatial and historical circumstances its thirty plus essays each deal with a theme of translation studies as emerged from the translation of one or more Chinese literary works In doing so it offers new tools for reading and appreciating modern and contemporary Chinese literature in the global context of its translation offering in depth studies about eminent Chinese authors and their literary masterpieces in translation The first of its kind this book is essential reading for anyone studying or researching Chinese literature in translation

Women's Suffrage in Word, Image, Music, Stage and Screen Christopher Wiley, Lucy Ella Rose, 2021-07-13 This collection of essays explores the myriad ways in which the women's suffrage movement in Britain in the nineteenth century and twentieth century engaged with and was expressed through literature art and craft music drama and cinema Uniquely this anthology places developments in the constituent arts side by side and in dialogue rather than focusing on a single field in isolation In so doing it illustrates how creative endeavours in different artforms converged in support of women's suffrage Topics encompassed range from the artistic output of such household names as Sylvia Pankhurst and Ethel Smyth to the recent feature film Suffragette It also brings to light under represented figures and neglected works related to the suffrage movement A wide variety of material is explored from poems diaries and newspapers to posters dress and artefacts to songs opera plays and film Published in the wake of the centenary of many women receiving the parliamentary vote in the UK this book will appeal to scholars undergraduate and graduate students and members of the public interested in the broad areas of women's history and the women's suffrage movement as well as across the arts disciplines

Words, Images and Performances in Translation Rita Wilson, Brigid Maher, 2011-12-01 This volume presents fresh approaches to the role that translation in its many forms plays in enabling and mediating global cultural exchange As modes of communication and textual production continue to evolve the field of translation studies has an increasingly important role in exploring the ways in which words images and performances are translated and reinterpreted in new socio cultural contexts The book includes an innovative mix of literary cultural and intersemiotic perspectives and represents a wide range of languages and cultures The contributions are all linked by a shared focus on the place of translation in the contemporary world and the ways in which translation and the discipline of translation studies can shed light on questions of inter and hypertextuality multimodality and globalization in contemporary cultural production

The Oxford Handbook of Shakespeare and Performance James C. Bulman, 2017 Presents the most current approaches to Shakespeare in performance including how experimental modes of performance ensure Shakespeare's contemporaneity how and why audiences respond to performances as they do how technology has revolutionized our access to Shakespeare and cultural appropriation in productions for international audiences

French in Multilingual Anglophone Africa Michael Akinpelu, Tunde Ajiboye, 2025-09-04 Examining the impact of French language in Nigeria this book discusses the prospects of French language use for development as well as its connection to literature and translation Despite its ambiguous and indistinct official status in the country French remains the preferred foreign language in Nigeria and academia Michael Akinpelu and Tunde Ajiboye's French in Multilingual Anglophone Africa Language Literature and Translation in Nigeria discusses how the French language is not only taught as a foreign language in Nigerian higher education but is also an important linguistic code for literary creation translation and interpretation blending local and international francophone cultures Part I explores issues related to bilingualism language resource management and comparison between French and local languages Part II considers the French language's exploitation in relation to translation and interpretation with particular interests in cultural challenges Part III provides historical context tracing the evolution of literary engagement of Nigerian writers contact with French and evolving perspectives on the language in Nigerian literature from the 1930s to present day Using case studies classroom fieldwork and policy analyses this book shows how French in multilingual Africa is not just a mode of communication but a powerful instrument of socio economic integration and mobility in a globalized world

Routledge Companion to Audiences and the Performing Arts Matthew Reason, Lynne Conner, Katya Johanson, Ben Walmsley, 2022-04-05 The Routledge Companion to Audiences and the Performing Arts represents a truly multi dimensional exploration of the inter relationships between audiences and performance This study considers audiences contextually and historically through both qualitative and quantitative empirical research and places them within appropriate philosophical and socio cultural discourses Ultimately the collection marks the point where audiences have become central and essential not just to the act of performance itself but also to theatre dance opera music and performance studies as academic disciplines This Companion will be of great interest to academics researchers and postgraduates as well as to theatre dance opera and music practitioners and performing arts organisations and stakeholders involved in educational activities

The Routledge Handbook of Audiovisual Translation Luis Pérez-González, 2018-10-10 The Routledge Handbook of Audiovisual Translation provides an accessible authoritative and comprehensive overview of the key modalities of audiovisual translation and the main theoretical frameworks research methods and themes that are driving research in this rapidly developing field Divided in four parts this reference work consists of 32 state of the art chapters from leading international scholars The first part focuses on established and emerging audiovisual translation modalities explores the changing contexts in which they have been and continue to be used and examines how cultural and technological changes are directing their future trajectories The second part delves into the interface between audiovisual translation and a range of theoretical models that have proved particularly productive in steering research in audiovisual translation studies The third part surveys a selection of methodological approaches supporting traditional and innovative ways of interrogating audiovisual translation data The final part addresses an array of themes pertaining to the place of audiovisual translation in society This Handbook gives audiovisual translation studies the platform it needs to raise its profile within the Humanities research landscape and is key reading for all those engaged in the study and research of Audiovisual Translation within Translation studies

Translation will be of particular interest to translators and arts practitioners scholars and researchers in the transdisciplinary field of humanities Funding This work was supported by UKRI under AHRC Grant AH V008234 1 awarded to Ricarda Vidal King s College London Principal Investigator and Madeleine Campbell University of Edinburgh Co Investigator Corpus Linguistics and Translation Tools for Digital Humanities Stefania M. Maci,Michele Sala,2022-07-14 Presenting the digital humanities as both a domain of practice and as a set of methodological approaches to be applied to corpus linguistics and translation chapters in this volume provide a novel and original framework to triangulate research for pursuing both scientific and educational goals within the digital humanities They also highlight more broadly the importance of data triangulation in corpus linguistics and translation studies Putting forward practical applications for digging into data this book is a detailed examination of how to integrate quantitative and qualitative approaches through case studies sample analysis and practical examples Drawing multimodality's bigger picture: Metalanguages and corpora for multimodal analyses Janina Wildfeuer,Claudia Lehmann,2024-07-30 Multimodality has most recently been described no longer as a research field or discipline on its own but rather as a stage of development within a field Bateman 2022a 49 The realization that 1 many different fields and disciplines now enter their own multimodal phase with new interest in multimodal phenomena and that 2 these disciplines all commit to the development of multimodality research with their own theoretical principles and methodological tools brings with it not only an immense breadth of potential analytical objects but also many new meta methodological issues We need to find ways of combining insights from the variously imported theoretical and methodological backgrounds brought along by previous non multimodal stages of any contributing disciplines Bateman 2022a 49 At the same time the search for a meta methodology for multimodal analyses is pushed further by the recent trend towards more empirical approaches to multimodal phenomena and the development and use of larger multimodal corpora that just as well require theoretical and methodological refinements We need to develop ways of strengthening claims with robustly applicable methods which nevertheless remain firmly anchored theoretically Bateman 2022b 64 For a productive handling of these issues disciplinary triangulation and finding a common language or metalanguage Maton newest results from data collection methods and multimodal corpus analyses that expand the current quantitative work by e g applying existing theories and methods to larger datasets or exploring the newest communication technologies We are particularly interested in seeing how works addressing these aspects contribute to finding ways of productive triangulation and integration for and within a meta methodology for multimodality research This Research Topic aims to bring together scholars from a variety of disciplines interested in multimodality research to review explore and advance the contributions that John Bateman as one of the key figures in multimodality research has made to both theory and method building as well as to the driving forward of multimodal empirical and corpus analyses We welcome contributions that for example critically address the theoretical and methodological advancements that John Bateman has made with regard to the notions of semiotic mode discourse semantics genre textuality etc apply one of the many approaches that John Bateman has developed for the empirical analysis of multimodal artefacts e g the GeM model for page based documents his work on multimodal film and audio visual analysis and the discourse semantics and or annotation approach to visual narratives to larger corpora or currently newly developing communicative situations expand on one of the abovementioned aspects with new ideas and insights from disciplines that have not yet been included in multimodality research
