M.

Young, 2023-11-09 Foreign judges sit on domestic courts in over fifty jurisdictions worldwide They serve on ordinary courts including apex and constitutional courts as well as specialist courts such as international commercial courts and hybrid criminal tribunals This Handbook presents the first global comparative study of this long standing diverse and evolving practice from colonial precedents to new forms of foreign judging in contemporary conditions of globalisation Chapters by scholars of law politics and history and reflections by judges themselves provide detailed information and critical analysis of foreign judging across Africa Asia the Caribbean Europe the Middle East and the Pacific The chapters examine the notion and relevance of foreignness rationales for foreign judges and the implications for judicial identity adjudication independence and accountability Focusing on an underexplored issue that features mainly in small states and jurisdictions of the Global South this Handbook challenges assumptions and expands knowledge about courts and judges Genetic Afterlives Noah

Tamarkin, 2020-09-11 In 1997 M E R Mathivha an elder of the black Jewish Lemba people of South Africa announced to the Lemba Cultural Association that a recent DNA study substantiated their ancestral connections to Jews Lemba people subsequently leveraged their genetic test results to seek recognition from the post apartheid government as indigenous Africans with rights to traditional leadership and land retheorizing genetic ancestry in the process In Genetic Afterlives Noah Tamarkin illustrates how Lemba people give their own meanings to the results of DNA tests and employ them to manage competing claims of Jewish ethnic and religious identity African indigeneity and South African citizenship Tamarkin turns away from genetics researchers results that defined a single story of Lemba peoples true origins and toward Lemba understandings of their own genealogy as multivalent Guided by Lemba people's negotiations of their belonging as diasporic Jews South African citizens and indigenous Africans Tamarkin considers new ways to think about belonging that can acknowledge the importance of historical and sacred ties to land without valorizing autochthony borders or other technologies of exclusion Mathematics Education in Africa Brantina Chirinda, Kakoma Luneta, Alphonse

Uworwabayeho, 2022-11-28 This book is about mathematics teaching and learning in Africa during the Fourth Industrial Revolution The Fourth Industrial Revolution 4IR has evolved to utilize new technologies in the teaching and learning of Mathematics It is characterized by the fusion of the biological physical and digital worlds and embodies a new era of innovation in mathematics education leading to the rapid emergence of new technologies for mathematics teaching and learning. Because 4IR in mathematics education is happening differently in various parts of Africa, the authors of the various chapters in this volume have positioned their work in their respective local contexts. The chapters address a wide variety of interests, concerns, and implications regarding 4IR and Mathematics Education in Africa. Additionally, a number of chapters address teaching mathematics in the context of the COVID-19 pandemic that has gripped the world. Other chapters discuss the implications of inequalities in Africa that affect mathematics education during 4IR. Chapters also incorporate arguments, observations, and suggestions to improve and transform the teaching and learning of mathematics in Africa during the 4IR. This book highlights a new era of innovation in mathematics education in the context of the Fourth Industrial Revolution, leading to the rapid emergence of new technologies in mathematics teaching and learning. It is a valuable resource for graduate students, people with research interests in the fourth industrial revolution, and mathematics educators at any level, including all mathematics teachers, mathematics education curriculum designers, and policymakers.

Metal Oxide-Based Heterostructures Naveen Kumar, Bernabé Marí Soucase, 2022-11-13. Metal Oxide Based Heterostructures: Fabrication and Applications provides information on synthesis strategies, structural and hierarchical features, morphological characteristics of metal oxide based heterostructures, and their diverse applications. This book begins with an introduction to the various multidimensional heterostructures, synthesis aspects, and techniques used to control the formation of heterostructures. Then, the impact of synthesis routes on the formation of mixed metal oxide heterostructures and their properties are analyzed. The effect of nonmetal doping, metal doping, and composites of metal oxide heterostructures on the properties of heterostructures is also addressed, and that also includes opportunities for optimization of the material's performance for specific applications. Special attention is given to the surface characteristics of the metal oxide heterostructures and their impact on the material's performance and the applications of metal oxide heterostructures in various fields such as environmental remediation, sensing, organic catalysis, photovoltaics, light emitting materials, and hydrogen production. Introduces key principles for metal oxide heterostructures, their properties, key characteristics, and synthesis routes. Emphasizes the relationship between synthesis strategies and material performance, including optimization strategies such as tailoring the material's surface characteristics or structure. Discusses metal oxide heterostructures and their application in lighting and displays, energy, environment, and sensing.

Traditional Leaders in a Democracy Skosana, Dineo, Buthelezi, Mbongiseni, 2019-03-31. Post 1994 South Africa's traditional leaders have fought for recognition and positioned themselves as major players in the South African political landscape. Yet their role in a democracy is contested, with leaders often accused of abusing power, disregarding human rights, expropriating resources, and promoting tribalism. Some argue that democracy and traditional leadership are irredeemably opposed and cannot co-exist. Meanwhile, shifts in the political economy of the former bantustans, the introduction of platinum mining in particular, have attracted new interests and conflicts to these areas, with chiefs often designated as custodians of community interests This edited volume explores how chieftancy is practised experienced and contested in contemporary South Africa It includes case studies of how those living under the authority of chiefs in a modern democracy negotiate or resist this authority in their respective areas Chapters in this book are organised around three major sites of contest leadership land and law Extractive Industry Indigenisation in Zimbabwe Kennedy

Manduna,2025-09-25 This book explains how and why Zimbabwe s extractive industry Indigenisation over promised its benefits yet under delivered upon implementation This book traces the history of uneven development in Zimbabwe from the initial days of colonialism to the present using the extractive industry as the unit of analysis to carve out a granular and empirical analysis of the preponderance of transnational corporate control and ownership in the country Indigenisation of Zimbabwe s extractive industries was intended to address mining inequalities by transferring wealth from rich non Indigenous mining capital to disadvantaged Indigenous citizens and communities This policy however was a response to political economic and social crises posed by the international isolation of Zimbabwe s government following the controversial Fast Track Land Reform Programme in 2000 2003 An intervention therefore which promised to address inequalities has thus been hampered by corruption co optation and collusion which has led to it not only failing to address uneven development but in actual fact worsening the situation By examining the hidden structures and infrastructures of power capital and minerals and placing extractive industry Indigenisation in capitalism this book makes a crucial scholarly contribution to the renewed and burgeoning debates around the resurgence of resource nationalism in general and the struggle for economic sovereignty in particular This book steers readers more broadly to look for new and diversified ways of empowering Indigenous populations and their communities through mining Indigenisation in ways that do not threaten economic and political stability This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the extractive industries natural resource management African politics and African development Routledge Handbook of African Media and Communication Studies Winston Mano,viola c. milton,2021-02-12

This handbook comprises fresh and incisive research focusing on African media culture and communication The chapters from a cross section of scholars dissect the forces shaping the field within a changing African context It adds critical corpora of African scholarship and theory that places the everyday worlds needs and uses of Africans first The book goes beyond critiques of the marginality of African approaches in media and communication studies to offer scholars the theoretical and empirical toolkit needed to start building critical corpora of African scholarship and theory that places the everyday worlds needs and uses of Africans first Decoloniality demands new epistemological interventions in African media culture and communication and this book is an important interlocutor in this space In a globally interconnected world changing patterns of authority and power pose new challenges to the ways in which media institutions are constituted and managed as well as how communication and media policy is negotiated and the manner in which citizens engage with increasing media opportunities The handbook focuses on the interrelationships of the local and the global and the concomitant consequences for media practice education and citizen engagement in today's Africa. Altogether the book foregrounds convivial epistemologies relevant for locating African media and communication in the pluriverse. This handbook is an essential read for critical media communications cultural studies and journalism scholars.

Grid-locked African Economic Sovereignty Victor Warikandwa, Artwell

Nhemachena, 2019-02-06. The emergent so-called Fourth Industrial Revolution is regarded by some as a panacea for bringing about development to Africans. This book dismisses this flawed reasoning, surfacing how investors are actually looting and plundering Africa, how the industrial internet of things, the gig economies, digital economies and cryptocurrencies breach African political and economic sovereignty. The book pioneers what can be called anticipatory economics which anticipate the future of economies. It is argued that the future of Africans does not necessarily require degrowth, postgrowth, postdevelopment, postcapitalism or sharing solidarity economies; it requires attention to age-old questions about African ownership and control of their resources. Investors have to invest in ensuring that Africans own and control their resources. Further, it is pointed out that the historical imperial structural creation of forced labour is increasingly morphing into what we call the structural creation of forced leisure, which is no less lethal for Africans. Because both the structural creation of forced labour and the structural creation of forced leisure are undergirded by transnational neo-imperial plunder, theft, robbery, looting and dispossession of Africans, this book goes beyond the simplistic arguments that Euro-America developed due to the industrial revolutions.

Science Cultures in a Diverse World: Knowing, Sharing, Caring Bernard Schiele, Xuan

Liu, Martin W. Bauer, 2021-09-13. Science and technology culture is now more than ever at the very heart of the social project and all countries to varying degrees participate in it, raising scientific literacy, improving the image of the sciences, involving the public in debates and encouraging the young to pursue careers in the sciences. Thus the very destiny of any society is now entwined with its ability to develop a genuine science and technology culture accessible for participation not only to the few who by virtue of their training or trade work in the science and technology fields but to all, thereby creating occasions for society to debate and to foster a positive dialogue about the directions of change and future choices. This book organized on the theme of knowing, sharing, caring, new insights for a diverse world which was derived from the observation that globalization rests upon diversity, diversity of contexts, public research strategies and new innovating practices and aims to stimulate exchanges, discussions and debates to initiate a reflection conducive to decentring and to be an opportunity for enrichment by providing the reader with means to achieve the potentialities of that diversity through a comparison of the visions that underpin the attitudes of social actors, the challenges they perceive and the potential solutions they consider. Thus this book aims first and foremost to raise questions in such a manner that readers so stimulated will feel compelled to contribute and will do so. In this spirit, however, significant the results presented and shared are less important than the questions they seek to answer. How are we to rethink the diffusion, the propagation and the sharing of scientific thought and knowledge in an ever more complex and diverse world What to know What to share How do we do it when science is broken down across the whole spectrum of the world's diversity The book is recommended for those who are interested in science communication and science cultures in the new media era in contemporary social dynamics and in the evolution of the role of the state and of institutions It is also an excellent reference for researchers engaging in science communication public understanding of science cultural studies science and technology museum science society relationship and other fields of humanities and social sciences

Border Jumping and Migration Control in Southern Africa Francis Musoni, 2020-04-07
With the end of apartheid rule in South Africa and the ongoing economic crisis in Zimbabwe the border between these Southern African countries has become one of the busiest inland ports of entry in the world As border crossers wait for clearance crime violence and illegal entries have become rampant Francis Musoni observes that border jumping has become a way of life for many of those who live on both sides of the Limpopo River and he explores the reasons for this including searches for better paying jobs and access to food and clothing at affordable prices Musoni sets these actions into a framework of illegality He considers how countries have failed to secure their borders why passports are denied to travelers and how border jumping has become a phenomenon with a long history especially in Africa Musoni emphasizes cross border travelers active participation in the making of this history and how clandestine mobility has presented opportunity and creative possibilities for those who are willing to take the risk

Contending Global Apartheid, 2022-10-04
Contending Global Apartheid Transversal Solidarities and Politics of Possibility spells out a plea for utopia in a crisis ridden 21st century of unequal development exclusionary citizenship and forced migrations The volume offers a collection of critical essays on human rights movements sanctuary spaces and the emplacement of antiracist conviviality in cities across North and South America Europe and Africa They proceed from the idea that cities may accommodate both a humanistic sensibility and a radical potential for social transformation The figure of the migrant is pivotal It expounds the prospect of transversal solidarity to capture a plurality of commonalities and to abjure dichotomies between in group and out group the national and the international or society and institutions Contributors are Aleksandra lund Ilker Ata Martin Bak J rgensen Harald Bauder Iriann Freemantle Christophe Foultier scar Garc a Agust n Shannon Gleeson Margaret Godoy Els de Graauw Ilhan Kellecioglu Loren B Landau Jorge Morales Cardiel Janet Munakamwe Kim Rygiel Ana Santamarina Carl Ulrik Schierup Sarah Schilliger and Maurice Stierl

Political Ecologies of Meat Jody Emel, Harvey Neo, 2015-05-15
Livestock production worldwide is increasing rapidly in part due to economic growth and demand for meat in industrializing countries Yet there are many concerns about the sustainability of increased meat production and consumption from perspectives including human health animal welfare climate change and environmental pollution This book tackles the key issues of contemporary meat production and consumption through a lens of political ecology which emphasizes the power relations producing particular social economic and cultural interactions with non human nature Three main topics are addressed the political ecology of global livestock production trends changes in production systems around the world and their implications for environmental justice and existing and emerging governance strategies for meat production and consumption systems and their implications Case studies of different systems at varying scales are included drawn from Asia Africa the Americas and Europe The book includes an editorial introduction to set the context and synthesize key messages for the reader
