Virtual Futures Cyberotics Technology And Posthuman Pragmatism:

Virtual Futures Joan Broadhurst Dixon, Eric Cassidy, 2005-07-20 Explores the idea that the future lies in its ability to articulate the consequences of an increasingly synthetic and virtual world Representations of the Post/human Elaine L. Graham, 2002 This work draws together a wide range of literature on contemporary technologies and their ethical implications It focuses on advances in medical reproductive genetic and information technologies Virtual Reality Melanie Chan, 2014-01-16 The idea of virtual realities has a long and complex historical trajectory spanning from Plato's concept of the cave and the simulacrum to artistic styles such as Trompe L'oeil and more recently developments in 3D film television and gaming However this book will pay particular attention to the time between the 1980s to the 1990s when virtual reality and cyberspace were represented particularly in fiction as a wondrous technology that enabled transcendence from the limitations of physical embodiment The purpose of this critical historical analysis of representations of virtual reality is to examine how they might deny repress or overlook embodied experience Specifically the author will contend that embodiment is a fundamental aspect of immersion in virtual reality rather than something which is to be transcended In this way the book aims to challenge distorted ideas about transcendence and productively contribute to debates about embodiment and technology The Other Side of Empathy Jade E. Davis, 2023-06-30 In The Other Side of Empathy Jade E. Davis contests the value of empathy as an affective or critical tool Whether focusing on technology colonialism or racism she shows how empathy can obscure relationships of dominance control submission and victimization arguing that these histories taint the whole concept of empathy Drawing on digital archives of photographs memoirs newspapers interviews and advertisements regarding nineteenth century ethnographic museums and human zoos Davis shows how empathetic responses erase culpabilities from those institutions that commodify difference She also contends that empathy's mediation through digital technology cannot lead to more ethical actions as technology only connects representations of people rather than the people themselves In empathy's place Davis proposes mutual recognition as a way to see and experience others beyond colonial modes of empathy Davis illustrates that moving beyond empathy allows for a more nuanced understanding of the colonial past and its ongoing impact while providing for a more meaningful affective engagement with the world Letters, Postcards, Email Esther Milne, 2012-02-27 In this original study Milne moves between close readings of letters postcards and emails and investigations of the material technological infrastructures of these forms to answer the question How does presence function as an aesthetic and rhetorical strategy within networked communication practices As her work reveals the relation between old and new communication systems is more complex than allowed in much contemporary media theory Although the correspondents of letters postcards and emails are not usually present to one another as they write and read their exchanges this does not necessarily inhibit affective communication Indeed this study demonstrates how physical absence may in some instances provide correspondents with intense intimacy and a spiritual almost telepathic sense of the other's presence. While corresponding by letter, postcard or email, readers construe an imaginary incorporeal body for their correspondents that in turn reworks their interlocutor's self-presentation. In this regard, the fantasy of presence reveals a key paradox of cultural communication: namely, that material signifiers can be used to produce the experience of incorporeal presence.

Futures The Journal of Policy, Planning, and Futures Studies, 1999 Cyberpunk and Cyberculture Dani Cavallaro, 2000. This text explores and analyses the work of a wide range of writers setting their work in the context of science fiction, other literary genres, genre cinema and contemporary work on the culture of technology. The Internet Lelia Green, 2010-05-01. Life without the internet: a very new technology seems almost unimaginable for most people in western nations. Today the internet is intrinsic to media and communications, entertainment, politics, defence, business, banking, education and administrative systems as well as to social interaction. The Internet disentangles this extraordinarily complex information and communication technology from its place in our daily lives, allowing it to be examined anew. Technology has historically been shaped by governmental, military and commercial requirements, but the development of the internet is increasingly driven by its users. YouTube, Facebook, Twitter, Flickr and many other emerging applications are shifting the way we express ourselves, communicate with our friends and even engage with global politics. At the same time, three quarters of the world's population remain effectively excluded from the internet. Packed with case studies drawn from around the world, The Internet presents a clear and up-to-date introduction to the social, cultural, technological and political worlds this new media form is creating.

Communication, Technology and Society Lelia Green, 2002-05-24. Lelia Green looks at what drives technological change, showing that the adoption of new technologies is not inevitable. She also explores how a variety of technology cultures coexist and interact.

Material Virtualities Jenny Sundén, 2003. What does it mean to be embodied online? What are the conditions of cybersubjectivity? In Material Virtualities, Jenny Sundén explores the rarely acknowledged borderland between typists and textual bodies, speaking and writing and physicality and imagination in online encounters. Through careful ethnographic investigations of a text-based virtual world called WaterMOO, Sundén shows how texts, bodies and machines are linked together in ways that demand a new understanding of the writing subject. Drawing on contemporary feminist and queer theory, she questions the opposition between disembodied high-tech masculinity and embodied earth-bound femininity, insisting on the need for a radical materialization of cybercultural studies that discloses the virtual as itself embodied.

Gendered Bodies and New Technologies Amanda Du Preez, 2009. In this era of ubiquitous information flow, heightened mobility and limitless consumer convenience, human interaction with new technologies has become increasingly seamless. In the process, the human body is effectively and steadily reduced to just another interface or a second life, so to speak. What is easily forgotten during this translucent transaction is that being human also necessarily implies being embodied. In other words, to constitute a body in its non-negotiable physicality is still what it entails to be human amongst other things. To live daily in and through the complicated and dynamic intersection between mind and eobody psychology and physiology also known as embodiment is what makes us human Digital Performance Steve Dixon, 2007 In the past decade digital media has been increasingly incorporated into live theater and dance and forms of interactive performance have emerged in participatory installations on CD ROM and on the Web This text traces the evolution of these practices and presents accounts of key practitioners and performances Science Fiction Studies ,1999 Tamkang Review ,2000 A quarterly of comparative studies of Chinese and foreign literatures Becoming Beside Ourselves Brian Rotman, 2008-07-16 DIVTheoretical study of the relationship between technoscience and the human body that examines the ways in which bodies and machines speak not just through language but also through gesture numbers and other non alphabetic systems of expressio div Music, Metamorphosis and Capitalism John Henry Wall, 2007 The essays in this volume look at various kinds of music from a number of perspectives including the socio political the aesthetic and the psychological The music under discussion here is diverse but fits loosely into the categories rock pop new music rap metal and music video with the caveat that much of the music discussed here is historically layered and engages self consciously in the deconstruction of music genres If there is an interpretative theme that links these essays it is that of the cultural embeddedness of music At the same time and this is perhaps the single most important challenge taken up in these essays this variable cultural studies approach embraces fully the aesthetic dimension of music construing it as that which resists and articulates the signifying function of symbolic systems of meaning Music is seen here as the kind of social critique that traces out its own phenomenological and structural pathways in such a way that in the end it is critical hermeneutic theory itself that comes under scrutiny By way of reference and perhaps indebtedness the non signifying property of music discussed variably in this volume is the same as that which was brought into relief in the terminologically contradictory title of Theodor Adorno TM s masterwork Aesthetic Theory New Statesman ,1998-04 Blade Runner and the Cinema of Philip K. Dick Jeremy Robinson, 2009 A study of the classic science fiction film Blade Runner 1982 and movies based on the fiction of Philip K Dick 1928 1982 To Relish the Sublime? Martin H. Ryle, Kate Soper, 2002 More than 130 years from Matthew Arnold s pronouncement that human beings must be compelled to relish the sublime education in the humanities still relies on the ideal of culture as the means of intellectual development In this distinctive and original work Martin Ryle and Kate Soper explore the growing tensions and contradictions between this and the contemporary world of work pleasure and consumption While critical of the hypocrisies and elitism that can attach to notions of cultural self realisation the authors nonetheless defend its overall educational and social value Their wide ranging discussion takes in critiques of philosophers from Kant and Schiller to Nietzsche and Marx and includes historically contextualized readings of novels by Wollstonecraft Hardy Gissing London and Woolf In their sustained defence of a conception of personal worth and self fulfillment for its own sake Ryle and Soper not only offer a powerful critique of the continuing dominance of work in contemporary society but also provide a compelling alternative to the standard postmodern scepticism about the relevance of high culture The
