

Dusk
Above the water hang the loud
flies
Here
O so

gray
then

What
When Where
In us

A pale signal will appear Soon before its shadow fades Here in this pool of opened eye No Upon us As at the very edges of where we take shape in the dark air this object bares its image awakening ripples of recognition that will brush darkness up into light even after this bird this hour both drift by atop the perfect sad instant now already passing out of sight toward yet-untroubled reflection this image bears its object darkening into memorial shades Scattered bits of light

No of water Or something across water Breaking up No Being regathered soon Yet by then a swan will have gone Yes out of mind into what vast

pale

hush

of a

place

past

sudden dark as if a swan
sang

Visual Poetry Willard Bohn, 2011 Visual poetry can be defined as poetry that is meant to be seen Combining painting and poetry it attempts to synthesize the principles underlying each discipline Visual poems are immediately recognizable by their refusal to adhere to a rectilinear grid and by their tendency to flout their plasticity In contrast to traditional poetry they are conceived not only as literary works but also as works of art Although they continue to provide visual cues that aid in deciphering the text they function simultaneously as visual compositions Whether the visual elements form a rudimentary pattern or whether they constitute a highly sophisticated design they transform the poem into a picture Reading Visual Poetry examines works created in Spain Latin America France Italy Brazil and the United States While it attempts to recreate the historical and cultural context surrounding each of the works in question it is conceived primarily as a series of readings or rather as a series of readings about reading This book seeks to interpret a number of poems which despite their apparent simplicity can be difficult to decipher It explores the process of interpretation itself which like the compositions can be surprisingly complex Voicing American Poetry Lesley Wheeler, 2008 This book is a study of voice in poetry beginning in the 1920s when modernism rose to the surface of poetry and other arts and when radio expanded suddenly in the United States Dimensions of Iconicity Angelika Zirker, Matthias Bauer, Olga Fischer, Christina Ljungberg, 2017-09-08 This volume addresses five different Dimensions of Iconicity While some contributions examine the phonic dimensions of iconicity that are based on empirical diachronic and theoretical work others explore the function of similarity from a cognitive point of view The section on multimodal dimensions takes into account philosophical linguistic and literary perspectives in order to analyse for example the diagrammatic interplay of written texts and images Contributions on performative dimensions of iconicity focus on Buddhist mantras Hollywood films and the dynamics of rhetorical structures in Shakespeare Last but not least the volume also addresses new ways of considering iconicity including notational iconicity the interplay of iconicity ambiguity interpretability and the iconicity of literary analysis from a formal semanticist point of view The Written Poem Rosemary Huisman, 1998-01-01 This text discusses the visual and graphic conventions in contemporary poetry in English It defines contemporary poetry and its historical construction as a seen object and uses literary and social theory of the 1990s to facilitate the study In examining how a poem is recognized the interpretive conventions for reading it and how the spacial arrangement on the page is meaningful for contemporary poetry the text takes examples from individual poems There is also a focus on changes in manuscript conventions from Old to Middle English poetry and the change from a social to a personal understanding of poetic meaning from the late 18th through the 19th century Poetry's Playground Joseph T. Thomas, 2007 The first book length study of contemporary American children s poetry Poetry s Playground considers children s poetry in relation to the wider scope of adult poetic discourse
