Jesus' Resurrection: Fact or Figment? Paul Copan, Ronald K. Tacelli, 2000-10-24 Edited by Paul Copan and Ronald Tacelli this is a lively and provocative debate between Christian philosopher William Lane Craig and New Testament scholar and atheist Gerd L. Demann on the historical truth of the resurrection

Unreasonable Faith James Fodor, 2022-06-29 He has written or edited more than 30 books his arguments for God and Jesus are frequently cited by Christian apologists around the world and he has severely overstated his case through a series of blatant mischaracterizations and philosophical blunders You may have heard of William Lane Craig a professor of philosophy at Talbot School of Theology who is known for debating atheists but even if you haven't you have probably heard his arguments through followers and fans He is known for painting faith as the reasonable road and falsely claiming that he can prove the validity of his religion From his work attempting to show evidence for Jesus' resurrection to his development of the Kalam cosmological argument for the existence of God Craig is respected among his peers on the Christian side of the religious spectrum But is that deserved What's at the core of these arguments Are they philosophically sound More importantly is this Unreasonable Faith an excellent destruction of W. L. Craig's entire apologetics Cogently argued and factually accurate this is required reading for anyone keen to question the soundness of anything W. L. Craig has argued over the decades Which makes it an invaluable resource for refuting Christian apologetics generally Richard Carrier author on the historicity of Jesus This book should be required reading for anyone who is proposing to debate William Lane Craig on the existence of God It should also be something that those who debate Craig on that topic advertise this book gives an accurate idea of the amount of material that needs to be provided to begin to address the usual panoply of arguments that Craig puts forward in a debate Professor Graham Oppy Monash James Fodor has a graduate degree in physics at the University of Melbourne and is a research assistant in structural biology at Monash University With a keen interest in philosophy he writes for the Rationalist magazine on various subjects in religion and epistemology As president of the University of Melbourne Secular Society he has engaged in numerous discussions and public debates concerning religion with a focus on secular morality and the evidence for the resurrection of Jesus He also has a keen interest in effective altruism and computational neuroscience

God, Are You There? William L. Craig, 2023-01-30 This Wipf & Stock reprint edition of God Are You There Five Reasons God Exists and Three Reasons It Makes a Difference by William L. Craig was originally published in 1999 by Ravi Zacharia International Ministries

Atonement and the Death of Christ William Lane Craig, 2020 Through his death on the cross Christ atoned for sin and so reconciled people to God New Testament authors drew upon a range of metaphors and motifs to describe this salvific act and down through history Christian thinkers have tried to articulate various theories to explain the atonement While Christ's sacrifice serves as a central tenet of the Christian faith the mechanism of atonement exactly how Christ effects our salvation remains controversial and ambiguous to many Christians In Atonement and the Death of Christ William Lane Craig conducts an interdisciplinary investigation of this crucial Christian doctrine drawing upon Old and New Testament studies historical theology and analytic philosophy The study unfolds in three discrete parts Craig first explores the biblical basis of atonement and unfolds the wide variety of motifs used to characterize this doctrine Craig then highlights some of the principal alternative theories of the atonement offered by great Christian thinkers of the premodern era Lastly Craig's exploration delves into a constructive and innovative engagement with philosophy of law which allows an understanding of atonement that moves beyond mystery and into the coherent mechanism of penal substitution Along the way Craig enters into conversation with contemporary systematic theories of atonement as he seeks to establish a position that is scripturally faithful and philosophically sound The result is a multifaceted perspective that upholds the suffering of Christ as a substitutionary representational and redemptive act that satisfies divine justice In addition this carefully reasoned approach addresses the rich tapestry of Old Testament imagery upon which the first Christians drew to explain how the sinless Christ saved his people from the guilt of their sins

The Only Wise God William L. Craig, 2000-01-13 Does God know our actions before we do them And if so do human beings truly have free will Dr Craig contends that both of these notions are compatible showing how the Bible teaches divine foreknowledge of human free acts and reveals two ways of reconciling divine omniscience with human freedom everything that exists apart from God particularly creation and human nature Here theology is not approached in isolation but in dialogue with contemporary philosophical reflection and cutting edge scientific research resulting in a work that speaks both to traditional theological concerns and modern intellectual contexts Volume III is distinctive in its integration of theological loci De creation and De homine with insights from disciplines often underrepresented in systematic theology including organic chemistry evolutionary biology neurology and paleoanthropology The treatment of topics such as divine providence human origins and the Imago Dei is shaped not only by philosophical rigor and biblical exegesis but also by a robust Molinist framework Promotes a synoptic Christian worldview that speaks to both faith and reason Bridges the gap between historical theological method and modern empirical inquiry Contributes to a diverse theological landscape with fresh perspectives on traditional concepts Provides a unique resource for theologians philosophers and scholars interested in science faith integration Includes excursuses on the origin and evolution of life and the historical Adam Offering a clear and structured exposition of complex theological and philosophical topics Systematic Philosophical Theology Volume III is ideal for graduate and advanced undergraduate students studying philosophy of religion theology or apologetics It serves as a core or supplementary text for courses in systematic theology philosophical theology and Christian doctrine and is an invaluable reference for scholars theologians and religious philosophers seeking a deeper understanding of the rational foundations of Christian theism and God's relationship to time God and Cosmology William Lane Craig, Sean Carroll, 2016-04-01 The question of God and cosmology is far from abstract In fact the subject raises the deepest questions of human existence Why is there something rather than nothing Or to put it more personally Why am I here Structured as a debate the 2014 Greer Heard Forum focused on the issue of God and cosmology and its impact on life and self understanding Christian philosopher William Lane Craig and atheist cosmologist Sean Carroll presented their views before a packed crowd of more than nine hundred people Spirited civil and often humorous the debate highlighted not only their positions but the full range of possibilities In this volume the content of that debate is reprinted and supplemented by a range of reflections by other conference presenters The purpose of the Greer Heard Point Counterpoint Forum is to provide a venue for fair minded dialogue on subjects of importance in religion and culture The goal is a respectful exchange of ideas without compromise A Critique of William Lane Craig's In Quest of the Historical Adam Thomas A. Howe, 2022-05-24 For many Dr William Lane Craig is considered to be a Christian scholar's scholar Even attempting to list the books articles debates lectures etc would not do justice to his importance for Christian apologetics theology and philosophy He has defended the historic Christian faith against countless attacks and has demonstrated that Christian thinkers are a force that cannot be brushed aside or ignored His latest book In Quest for the Historical Adam is generating as much if not more attention than any of his previous publications This text is controversial but the controversy is not primarily from those outside the faith His claims penetrate to the foundations of classical orthodox theology and many Christians are alarmed at his conclusions He has set out on a quest to discover by philosophical argument analysis of the biblical text appeal to contemporary evolutionary theory and arguments from an array of disciplines whether the Adam depicted in Genesis was an actual historical person Following the structure of his book this essay is a critical evaluation of his arguments and conclusions about the historical Adam Divine Foreknowledge and Human Freedom William Lane Craig, 1990-12-01 The ancient problem of fatalism more particularly theological fatalism has resurfaced with surprising vigour in the second half of the twentieth century Two questions predominate in the debate 1 Is divine foreknowledge compatible with human freedom and 2 How can God foreknow future free acts Having surveyed the historical background of this debate in The Problem of Divine Foreknowledge and Future Contingents from Aristotle to Suarez Brill 1988 William Lane Craig now attempts to address these issues critically His wide ranging discussion brings together a thought provoking array of related topics such as logical fatalism multivalent logic backward causation precognition time travel counterfactual logic temporal necessity Newcomb's Problem middle knowledge and relativity theory The present work serves both as a useful survey of the extensive literature on theological fatalism and related fields and as a stimulating assessment of the possibility of divine foreknowledge of future free acts The Cosmological Argument from Plato to Leibniz William Lane Craig, 1980-06-18 God Over All William Lane Craig, 2016-10-20 God Over All Divine Aseity and the Challenge of Platonism is a defense of God's aseity and unique status as the Creator of all things apart from Himself in the face of the challenge posed by mathematical Platonism After providing the biblical theological and philosophical basis for the traditional doctrine of divine aseity William Lane Craig explains the challenge presented to that doctrine by the Indispensability Argument for Platonism which postulates the existence of uncreated abstract objects Craig provides detailed examination of a wide range of responses to that argument both realist and anti realist with a view toward assessing the most promising options for the theist A synoptic work in analytic philosophy of religion this groundbreaking volume engages discussions in philosophy of mathematics philosophy of language metaphysics and metaontology
