Voices and Visions Daniel Francis, Angus L. Scully, Sharon Sterling, Jill Germain, 2006-03-22 Voices and Visions introduces students to the development of Canada through the varied and rich perspectives of the Aboriginal British Francophone and other groups. It also introduces students in language they can understand to active and responsible citizenship at the local provincial national and global levels. Components include Teacher's Resource and Website French version Voix et Visions available. For details teachers in Alberta should contact the Learning Resources Centre www.lrc.education.ab.ca. Teachers in all other provinces please contact Cheneliere Education www.cheneliere.ca. Voice and Vision Stephen J. Pyne, 2009-05-15 It has become commonplace these days to speak of unpacking texts. Voice and Vision is a book about packing that prose in the first place. This book is for those who wish to understand the ways in which literary considerations can enhance nonfiction writing. Stephen Pyne, an experienced and skilled writer himself, explores the many ways to understand what makes good nonfiction and explains how to achieve it. His counsel and guidance will be invaluable to experts as well as novices in the art of writing serious and scholarly nonfiction. Reclaiming Indigenous Voice and Vision Marie Battiste, 2011-11-01 This book seeks to clarify postcolonial Indigenous thought beginning at the new millennium. It represents the voices of the first generation of global Indigenous scholars and converges those voices, their analyses and their dreams of a decolonized world. Marie Battiste, Author. The essays in Reclaiming Indigenous Voice and Vision spring from an International Summer Institute held in 1996 on the cultural restoration of oppressed Indigenous peoples. The contributors primarily Indigenous, unravel the processes of colonization that enfolded modern society and resulted in the oppression of Indigenous peoples. The authors among them Gregory Cajete, Erica Irene Daes, Bonnie Duran and Eduardo Duran, James Youngblood Henderson, Linda Hogan, Leroy Little Bear, Ted Moses, Linda Tuhiwai Te Rina Smith, Graham Hingangaroa Smith and Robert Yazzie, draw on a range of disciplines, professions and experiences. Addressing four urgent and necessary issues: mapping colonialism, diagnosing colonialism, healing colonized Indigenous peoples and imagining postcolonial visions, they provide new frameworks for understanding how and why colonization has been so pervasive and tenacious among Indigenous peoples. They also envision what they would desire in a truly postcolonial context. In moving and inspiring ways, Reclaiming Indigenous Voice and Vision elaborates a new inclusive vision of a global and national order and articulates new approaches for protecting, healing and restoring long oppressed peoples and for respecting their cultures and languages. Canada's History Susan LeBel, 2005 Double-Voicing the Canadian Short Story Laurie Kruk, 2016-05-27 Double Voicing the Canadian Short Story is the first comparative study of eight internationally and nationally acclaimed writers of short fiction: Sandra Birdsell, Timothy Findley, Jack Hodgins, Thomas King, Alistair MacLeod, Olive Senior, Carol Shields and Guy Vanderhaeghe. With the 2013 Nobel Prize for Literature going to Alice Munro, the master of the contemporary short story, this art form is receiving the recognition that has been its due, and as this book demonstrates

Canadian writers have long excelled in it From theme to choice of narrative perspective from emphasis on irony satire and parody to uncovering the multiple layers that make up contemporary Canadian English the short story provides a powerful vehicle for a distinctively Canadian double voicing The stories discussed here are compelling reflections on our most intimate roles and relationships and Kruk offers a thoughtful juxtaposition of themes of gender mothers and sons family storytelling otherness in Canada and the politics of identity to name but a few As a multi author study Double Voicing the Canadian Short Story is broad in scope and its readings are valuable to Canadian literature as a whole making the book of interest to students of Canadian literature or the short story and to readers of both Published in English The Canadian Law Times

Edward B. Brown, 1912 From 1900 to 1908 includes the Annual digest of Canadian cases decided in the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in the Supreme and Exchequer Courts of Canada and in the courts of the provinces Edited by Edward B Brown How Religion Evolved Brian McVeigh, 2017-07-12 Why did many religious leaders Moses Old Testament prophets Zoroaster claim they heard divine voices Why do ancient civilizations exhibit key similarities e g the living dead treating the dead as if they were still alive speaking idols care and feeding of effigies monumental mortuary architecture and houses of gods pyramids ziggurats temples How do we explain strange behaviour such as spirit possession speaking in tongues channelling hypnosis and schizophrenic hallucinations Are these lingering vestiges of an older mentality Brian J McVeigh answers these riddles by updating bicameralism First proposed by the psychologist Julian Jaynes this theory postulates that an earlier mentality existed a human the brain s left hemisphere heard voices of gods or ancestors the brain s right hemisphere Therefore ancient religious texts reporting divine voices were recounting of audio visual hallucinations a method of social control when early populations expanded As growing political economic complexity destabilized god governed states in the late second millennium BCE divine voices became inadequate Eventually humans had to culturally acquire new cognitive skills modern religions to accommodate increasing social pressures selves replaced the gods and history witnessed an inward turn This psychological interiorization of spiritual experience laid the foundations for the world s great religions and philosophies that arose in India China Greece and the Middle East in the middle of the first millennium BCE The "Other" Psychology of Julian Jaynes Brian J. McVeigh, 2018-01-17 In his provocative but critically acclaimed theory about the origin of introspectable mentality Julian Jaynes argued that until the late second millennium people possessed a different psychology a two chambered bicameral neurocultural arrangement in which a commanding god guided admonished and ordered about a listening mortal via voices visions and visitations Out of the cauldron of civilizational collapse and chaos an adaptive self reflexive consciousness emerged better suited to the pressures of larger more complex sociopolitical systems Though often described as boldly iconoclastic and far ahead of it time Jaynes s thinking actually resonates with a second or other psychological tradition that explores the cultural historical evolution of psyche Brian J McVeigh a student of Jaynes points out the blind spots of mainstream establishment psychology by providing empirical support for Jaynes s ideas on sociohistorical shifts in cognition He argues that from around 3500 to 1000 BCE the archaeological and historical record reveals features of hallucinatory super religiosity in every known civilization As social pressures eroded the god centered authority of bicamerality an upgraded psychology of interiorized self awareness arose during the Late Bronze Age Collapse A key explanatory component of Jaynes s theorizing was how metaphors constructed a mental landscape populated with I s and me s that replaced a declining worldview dominated by gods ancestors and spirits McVeigh statistically substantiates how linguo conceptual changes reflected psychohistorical developments because supernatural entities functioned in place of our inner selves vocabularies for psychological terms were strikingly limited in ancient languages McVeigh also demonstrates the surprising ubiquity of hearing voices in modern times contending that hallucinations are bicameral vestiges and that mental imagery a controllable semi hallucinatory experience is the successor to the divine hallucinations that once held societies together This thought provoking work will appeal to anyone interested in the transformative power of metaphors the development of mental lexicons and the adaptive role of hallucinations Canada's History Lorelee Case, Susan LeBel, 2003

would end in disillusionment Which changes would prove permanent and which would be transitory A Time Such As There Never Was Before describes how this exciting period laid the foundation of the Canada we know today On the Front Line of Life In the last decade of his life Stephen Leacock turned to writing informal essays that blended humour with a conversational style and ripened wisdom to address issues he cared about most education literature economics Canada and its place in the world and to confront the joys and sorrows of his own life With an introduction that sets them in the context of his life thoughts and times these essays reveal a passionate intelligent personal Leacock against a backdrop of Depression and war finding hope and conveying the timeless message that only the human spirit can bring social justice peace and progress
