Reviews of the first edition Janet Moyles's carefully and imaginatively edited book will be of great interest to a wide educational community This is more than a handbook for students and their tutors it is a manifest of the dedicated and closely focused professionalism of the University of Leicester team and I am sure that it will still be being read in ten years time by all concerned with primary education Mentoring and Tutoring How can new primary teachers not only survive but enjoy their chosen career What can newly qualified and student teachers do to recognize and address the many complexities of primary teaching What are the issues which continually challenge both new and experienced teachers The second edition of this successful text sets out to explore some of the wider issues surrounding work with children in the 3-11 years age range and considers how these are woven into the broad framework of teaching and teachers own learning Cameos and examples of classroom practice help to illustrate the aspects of teaching what it is to be an effective and competent teacher classroom processes such as planning observation and assessment the variety of ways in which children learn and develop thinking skills through various curriculum areas including ICT equal opportunities and special needs issues in loco parentis responsibilities and reflective approaches to teaching Written in an accessible style the aim throughout is to offer guidance and encouragement in the challenging and complex task of early years and primary teaching Comprehensively revised and updated throughout this second edition produced by colleagues from Anglia Polytechnic University and University of excellent clearly written work which is full of practical advice and presented in an easily readable manner This book is a highly recommended read Do buy it and see Support for Learning has proved especially influential at practitioner level never failing to offer a balanced assessment British Journal of Special Education I have a comprehensive library of books on special educational needs but I use this one more than any other because I find it readable practical and accessible It is a useful and informative book both to read cover to cover and to dip into Although it is based on sound theoretical knowledge it is clear that Jean Gross is writing from her own experience as a teacher and SEN practitioner TES Recent legislation and cutbacks to central support services mean that the responsibility for meeting special educational needs is resting ever more squarely on the shoulders of ordinary classroom teachers Yet few feel wholly confident in their ability to adapt work within the national curriculum to meet the whole range of needs or coordinate successful individual education plans for children who for whatever reason are not learning as well as they might This book will increase that confidence Aimed at busy class teachers special needs coordinators heads and teachers in training it shows how the teacher can build differentiation into planning lessons and schemes of work It describes workable strategies for managing the most common behaviour difficulties and meeting special needs in language literacy and mathematics At a whole school level it offers practical guidance on reviewing special needs policies assessment record keeping and the management of roles and resources The focus is on the way in which schools can do a good job in meeting special needs themselves within the everyday constraints of time money and energy and in so doing provide genuinely inclusive opportunities for all children This edition has been comprehensively updated and rewritten to cover the revised SEN Code of Practice and related legislation new directions in inclusion and all the major curriculum initiatives now in place in primary schools JACT Bulletin Joint Association of Classical Teachers,1999 The Secondary English Magazine ,2005 Middle Management in the Primary School Neville West,1998 This second edition supports INSET courses designed to develop the essential management skills required by primary school middle managers
