VIOLIN

Words and Music by JOHN LENNON
and PAUL MCCARTNEY

Moderately, with expression

The image displays a violin score for the song "Yesterday". It consists of six systems of music, each with a grand staff (treble and bass clefs). The key signature is one flat (Bb) and the time signature is 4/4. The score includes various musical notations such as eighth notes, quarter notes, and half notes, often beamed together. There are also rests and dynamic markings like mp (mezzo-piano). Measure numbers 5, 9, 13, 17, and 21 are indicated at the start of their respective systems. The music is written for a single violin part.

Today's Sounds for Yesterday's Films K.J. Donnelly, Ann-Kristin Wallengren, 2016-04-08 In recent years there has been something of an explosion in the performance of live music to silent films There is a wide range of films with live and new scores that run from the historically accurate orchestral scores to contemporary sounds by groups such as Pet Shop Boys or by experimental composers and gothic heavy metal bands It is no exaggeration to claim that music constitutes a bridge between the old silent film and the modern audience music is also a channel for non scholarly audiences to gain an appreciation of silent films Music has become a means both for musicians and audiences to understand this bygone film art anew This book is the first of its kind in that it aims to bring together writings and interviews to delineate the culture of providing music for silent films It not only has the character of a scholarly work but is also something of a manual in that it discusses how to make music for silent films
