

Vertical Farming, Plant Factory Market Shares, Strategies, and Forecasts, Worldwide, 2014 to 2020

Description:

Marketable markets are poised to achieve significant growth as the food supply for the world starts to adopt automated processes. Grow lights have become more sophisticated and less expensive to run as solar and wind energy are adopted by greenhouses and plant factories.

Plant Factory (PF), vertical farming is a closed environment, in which plants are grown under lights in shelves stacked one on another. All the elements needed for plant growth are artificially controlled, a process that removes detrimental influences such as pesticides and poor weather conditions. Traditional agriculture lives at the mercy of the elements. A plant factory is run based on science. Science is used to produce plants based on carefully controlled spectrum best for plant growth, to produce plants of a fixed quality, quantity, cost, time to harvest, and tuned to control the sale price.

Plant factory weed control is able to achieve crop yield increases. Robot technology is deploying machines for weed control, promising to improve crop yields. Robots make the crops safer by eliminating or virtually eliminating herbicides. Onstream processing system solutions and robots achieve automation of process. Robots meet a rugged hygiene and safety regulations, work tirelessly 24 hours a day, and reduce human workers of physically arduous tasks. Robots contribute to the freshness, variety and quality of food. Projects are ongoing.

High value crops are a target of agricultural robotic development. What could be tastier than a strawberry, perfectly formed, and perfectly ripened? New plant factories that grow fruits and vegetables on shelves indoors are able to improve the delivery of consistent quality food, and to implement efficiency in managing food production.

Strawberries are a high profit crop. A new generation of plant factories have just been born making it forever spring in the strawberry growing business. Strawberry harvesters with the world's most advanced technology to give maximum performance in a plant factory. Harvesting robots can replace the productivity of the farming business. Growers can get the best results in a berry farm using automated process. Automated picking collection systems improve labor productivity, give speed and aging to harvest operations.

Food factories produce organic vegetables. This represents a next step in the application of automated process to everyday life. Automated process for farming provides immediate help for food stores. Plant factories support farming practices that are not dependent on the climate. Food factories produce organic vegetables 24 hours a day. With the land suitable for farming depleting quickly, new types of farming are evolving.

Plant Factories Market Driving Forces:

- Demand for ability to grow food consistently
- Demand for ability to grow food locally
- Can grow food in warehouses
- Can grow food in the home
- Dedicating space that is efficient for producing food
- Fresh, sanitary food available consistently
- Food factories
- Ability to produce organic vegetables
- Ability to produce vegetables 24 hours a day
- Land suitable for farming depleting quickly
- New types of farming are evolving
- Growing of vegetables indoors all year round

A plant factory allows the growing of vegetables indoors all year round. It is a system that artificially creates the environment necessary for plants to grow by controlling the amount of carbon dioxide, air, and light from light-emitting diodes (LEDs).

China's Vertical Multilateralism and the Global South Dominik Mierzejewski, Jarosław Jura, Bartosz Kowalski, Mario Esteban, 2025-10-21 This book provides an in depth analysis of China led multilateralism and decodes China s narratives and political and business practices both from theoretical and practical dimensions Introducing the mechanisms that govern China led multilateral formats in what China sees as the Global South the study offers a comparative analysis and checks whether China uses a one size fits all strategy towards the selected case study formats and adopts a more differentiated regional approach The case studies cover the following China led multilateral formats China ASEAN Forum on China Africa Cooperation FOCAC China Central and Eastern Europe and China CELAC The authors introduce four primary practices of China s management of relations within these platforms executing discursive power cultivating elite diplomacy influencing public opinion and navigating economic interactions to illustrate the bilateral and informal nature of China led multilateralism practices They argue that the bilateral approach is driven by China s will to keep its paramount position within the formats and its pursuit to exploit the divisions among countries in these formats. Moreover, China's relations with the Global South community are governed by informal networks that give the impression of non-interference and position China as the principal power due to these relationships inherent asymmetry. Cognizant of bilateral and informal drivers of China's multilateral practices, the book compares China's relations with selected case studies of countries under the multilateral umbrella: Brazil, Cambodia, Chile, Kenya, Poland, Serbia, South Africa, and Thailand. It considers the growing tensions between China and the West surrounding the crisis of the COVID-19 pandemic, the centralisation of power in China, and the Russian war in Ukraine. Shedding light on China's policies and practices on bilateral and multilateral levels, this book will be of interest to researchers studying International Relations, Asian Politics, the politics of the Global South, and Chinese Studies.

Sustainability Management Ana Cristina Siqueira, Cristina Neesham, Nancy E. Landrum, Patricia Kanashiro, 2025-02-25 Consumer demand for sustainable business practices has never been greater. Sustainability Management uses a systems thinking approach to illustrate the interdependencies among ecosystems, societies, organizations, and individuals. Authors Ana Cristina Siqueira, Cristina Neesham, Nancy E. Landrum, and Patricia Kanashiro explain why sustainability presents risks and opportunities for businesses, how sustainability can be a source of competitive advantage, and the business impact on the environment and society. This timely new text examines some of today's most pressing issues, including social justice, racial equity, human rights, and climate crisis. Case Studies tied to UN Sustainable Development Goals spotlight innovative sustainable strategies from companies around the world.

The Economics of American Agriculture Steven C. Blank, 2014-12-18 This book answers the questions: What is happening to American agriculture, and why? Steven C. Blank uses portfolio theory to analyze both macro and microeconomic data that paints a clear picture of the trends in agriculture and explains why these trends are consistent with market evolution and global economic development. He clarifies agriculture's specific role in economic development with a focus on the current and future globalizing commodity markets. The book features empirical research that demonstrates the link between farm-level investment decisions and regional and national economic trends. It shows how the dynamic environment of industrialization and globalization of agriculture is part of a continuing development that is driven by technological innovation. This all points to a future with a very different agricultural production sector and some extremely important policy choices that will face the entire country.
