Emily Dickinson and Hymn Culture Victoria N. Morgan,2016-12-05 Extending the critical discussion which has focused on the hymns of Isaac Watts as an influence on Emily Dickinson s poetry this study brings to bear the hymnody of Dickinson s female forbears and contemporaries and considers Isaac Watts s position as a Dissenter for a fuller understanding of Dickinson s engagement with hymn culture Victoria N Morgan argues that the emphasis on autonomy in Watts a quality connected to his position as a Dissenter and the work of women hymnists who sought to redefine God in ways more compatible with their own experience posing a challenge to the hierarchical I Thou form of address found in traditional hymns inspired Dickinson s adoption of hymnic forms As she traces the powerful intersection of tradition and experience in Dickinson s poetry Morgan shows Dickinson using the modes and motifs of hymn culture to manipulate the space between concept and experience a space in which Dickinson challenges old ways of thinking and expresses her own innovative ideas on spirituality Focusing on Dickinson s use of bee imagery and on her notions of religious design Morgan situates the radical re visioning of the divine found in Dickinson s alternative hymns in the context of the poet s engagement with a community of hymn writers In her use of the fluid imagery of flight and community as metaphors for the divine Dickinson anticipates the ideas of feminist theologians who privilege community over hierarchy Tradition and the Poetics of Self in Nineteenth-Century Women's Poetry, 2021-11-01 Tradition and how far writers fit into or diverge from the demands of tradition is one of the most debated issues in literary discussion Gender however is not often part of discussions which depend on such questions at the decisiveness of the Modernist break with the Victorian period or whether Postmodernism makes tradition meaningless By contrast the very existence of a specifically female tradition is still an urgent subject of debate and it is clear that many nineteenth century women writers were troubled in their search for literary foremothers This autobiographical impetus can be located in the work of each of the poets discussed in Tradition and the Poetics of Self Nineteenth Century Women's Poetry Elizabeth Barrett Browning Caroline Bowles Southey Emily Dickinson and Christina Rossetti An exploration of the self either in the abstract or in a more closely personal sense appears in a concern with the craft of poetry and the role of the poet in a teasing out of language as a marker of a personal encounter with the world in an adventurous play with genre and a rewriting of myth and in a bold confrontation with received notions of a woman's place Adventurousness marks the work of each of these poets and is a central focus of these essays
