Vietnamese Communists' Relations with China and the Second Indochina Conflict, 1956-1962 Ang Cheng Guan, 2024-12-18 According to the final declaration of the 1954 Geneva Conference general elections were to be held in July 1956 that would lead to the reunification of North and South Vietnam The Geneva agreement was however doomed from the start as the South Vietnamese leaders did not subscribe to it and the leaders of the Communist North saw its value primarily as propaganda By 1956 it was obvious that reunification was impossible and the North Vietnamese looked to China for advice and assistance Based on Vietnamese Chinese American and British sources many only recently made available this work examines Sino Vietnamese relations in the early stages of the second Indochina conflict and reveals that the Hanoi government was remarkably in control of its own decision making

Soviet-Vietnam Relations and the Role of China 1949-64 Mari Olsen, 2007-05-07 Using previously unseen Russian archive material this book analyzes how the Soviet leadership evaluated developments in Soviet Vietnamese relations in the years from 1949 to 1964 It focuses on how Soviet leaders perceived China's role in Vietnam relative to the Soviet role and shows how these perceptions influenced the Soviet Vietnamese relationship

The Second Indochina War Ang Cheng Guan, 2025-11-03 Drawing upon Vietnamese Chinese former Soviet and American sources Ang Cheng Guan provides an updated and concise account of the Vietnam War 1954 1975 from the Vietnamese communists perspective In the last few decades discourse on the Second Indochina War has shifted towards the South and its allies To mark the 50th anniversary of the fall of Saigon Ang revisits the experiences of the North Focusing on scholarship published within the last 30 years the book reexamines the 1954 Geneva Conference the end of the First Vietnam War through the Second Vietnam War to the 1975 Fall of Saigon bringing readers up to date on the current state of the field This book is a valuable resource for scholars and students of history war studies peace and conflict studies as well as for those interested in the historical and contemporary implications of the Vietnam War

The Universe Unraveling Seth S. Jacobs, 2012-05-15 During the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations Laos was positioned to become a major front in the Cold War Yet American policymakers ultimately chose to resist communism in neighboring South Vietnam instead Two generations of historians have explained this decision by citing logistical considerations Laos's landlocked mountainous terrain they hold made the kingdom an unpropitious place to fight while South Vietnam possessing a long coastline navigable rivers and all weather roads better accommodated America's military forces The Universe Unraveling is a provocative reinterpretation of U S Laos relations in the years leading up to the Vietnam War Seth Jacobs argues that Laos boasted several advantages over South Vietnam as a battlefield notably its thousand mile border with Thailand whose leader was willing to allow Washington to use his nation as a base from which to attack the communist Pathet Lao More significant in determining U S policy in Southeast Asia than strategic appraisals of the Laotian landscape were cultural perceptions of the Lao people Jacobs contends that U S policy toward Laos under Eisenhower and Kennedy cannot be understood apart from the traits Americans ascribed to their Lao allies Drawing on diplomatic correspondence and the work of iconic figures like celebrity saint Tom Dooley Jacobs finds that the characteristics American statesmen and the American media attributed to the Lao laziness immaturity and cowardice differed from the traits assigned the South Vietnamese making Lao chances of withstanding communist aggression appear dubious The Universe Unraveling combines diplomatic cultural and military history to provide a new perspective on how prejudice can shape policy decisions and even the course of history

Perils of Dominance Gareth Porter, 2005-06-13 Perils of Dominance is the first completely new interpretation of how and why the United States went to war in Vietnam It provides an authoritative challenge to the prevailing explanation that U S officials adhered blindly to a Cold War doctrine that loss of Vietnam would cause a domino effect leading to communist domination of the area Gareth Porter presents compelling evidence that U S policy decisions on Vietnam from 1954 to mid 1965 were shaped by an overwhelming imbalance of military power favoring the United States over the Soviet Union and China He demonstrates how the slide into war in Vietnam is relevant to understanding why the United States went to war in Iraq and why such wars are likely as long as U S military power is overwhelmingly dominant in the world Challenging conventional wisdom about the origins of the war Porter argues that the main impetus for military intervention in Vietnam came not from presidents Kennedy and Johnson but from high ranking national security officials in their administrations who were heavily influenced by U S dominance over its Cold War foes Porter argues that presidents Eisenhower Kennedy and Johnson were all strongly opposed to sending combat forces to Vietnam but that both Kennedy and Johnson were strongly pressured by their national security advisers to undertake military intervention Porter reveals for the first time that Kennedy attempted to open a diplomatic track for peace negotiations with North Vietnam in 1962 but was frustrated by bureaucratic resistance Significantly revising the historical account of a major turning point Porter describes how Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara deliberately misled Johnson in the Gulf of Tonkin crisis effectively taking the decision to bomb North Vietnam out of the president's hands

Hanoi's Road to the Vietnam War, 1954-1965 Pierre Asselin, 2015-08-18 Using new and largely

inaccessible Vietnamese sources as well as French British Canadian and American archives Pierre Asselin sheds valuable light on Hanoi's path to war Step by step the narrative makes Hanoi's revolutionary strategy from the end of the French Indochina War to the start of the Anti American Resistance Struggle for Reunification and National Salvation the Vietnam War transparent The book reveals how North Vietnamese leaders moved from a cautious policy emphasizing nonviolent political and diplomatic struggle to a far riskier pursuit of military victory Confronting Vietnam Ilya V. Gaiduk, 2003 Based on extensive research in the Russian archives this book examines the Soviet approach to the Vietnam conflict between the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina and late 1963 when the overthrow of the South Vietnamese president Ngo Dinh Diem and the assassination of John F Kennedy radically transformed the conflict The author finds that the USSR attributed no geostrategic importance to Indochina and did not want the crisis there to disrupt détente The Russians had high hopes that the Geneva accords would bring years of peace in the region Gradually disillusioned they tried to strengthen North Vietnam but would not support unification of North and South By the early 1960s however they felt obliged to counter the American embrace of an aggressively anti Communist regime in South Vietnam and the hostility of its former ally the People's Republic of China Finally Moscow decided to disengage from Vietnam disappointed that its efforts to avert an international crisis there had failed Vietnam's American War Pierre Asselin, 2024-06-13 This new edition masterfully explains the origins and outcome of America's war in Vietnam by focusing on its local dimensions Vietnamese Communists' Relations with China and the Second Indochina Conflict, 1957-1962 Cheng Guan Ang, 1998 Maoismus Julia Lovell, 2023-04-02 PLATZ 1 SACHBUCH BESTENLISTE WIE DIE WELT DEM MAO FIEBER ERLAG Unter der Herrschaft Xi Jinpings prägt der Maoismus bis heute die Politik Chinas Umso wichtiger ist es seine Geschichte zu verstehen Revolutionärer brutaler Diktator Pop-Ikone Mao Zedong war eine der prägendsten Personen des 20.
