Why Good People Do Bad Things Understanding Our Darker Selves:

Why Good People Do Bad Things James Hollis, 2008-04-17 Working with the Shadow is not working with evil per se It is working toward the possibility of greater wholeness We will never experience healing until we can come to love our unlovable places for they too ask love of us How is it that good people do bad things Why is our personal story and our societal history so bloody so repetitive so injurious to self and others How do we make sense of the discrepancies between who we think we are or who we show to the outside world versus our everyday behaviors Why are otherwise ordinary people driven to addictions and compulsions whether alcohol drugs food shopping infidelity or the Internet Why are interpersonal relationships so often filled with strife Exploring Jung's concept of the Shadow the unconscious parts of our self that contradict the image of the self we hope to project Why Good People Do Bad Things guides you through all the ways in which many of our seemingly unexplainable behaviors are manifestations of the Shadow In addition to its presence in our personal lives Hollis looks at the larger picture of the Shadow at work in our culture from organized religion to the suffering and injustice that abounds in our modern world Accepting and examining the Shadow as part of one's self Hollis suggests is the first step toward wholeness Revealing a new way of understanding our darker selves Hollis offers wisdom to help you to acquire a more conscious conduct of your life and bring a new level of awareness to your daily actions and choices The

Fox, Sim B. Sitkin, 2018-06-19 The success of nearly all public and private sector policies hinges on the behavior of individuals groups and organizations Today such behaviors are better understood than ever thanks to a growing body of practical behavioral science research However policymakers often are unaware of behavioral science findings that may help them craft and execute more effective and efficient policies The pages of this new journal will become a meeting ground a place where scientists and non scientists can encounter clearly described behavioral research that can be put into action By design the scope of Behavioral Science Policy is broad with topics spanning health care financial decisionmaking energy and the environment education and culture justice and ethics and work place practices Contributions will be made by researchers with expertise in psychology sociology law behavioral economics organization science decision science and marketing The journal is a key offering of the Behavioral Science Policy Association in partnership with the Brookings Institution The mission of BSPA is to foster dialog between social scientists policymakers and other practitioners in order to promote the application of rigorous empirical behavioral science in ways that serve the public interest BSPA does not advance a particular agenda or political perspective Law and Corporate Behaviour Christopher Hodges, 2015-10-22 This book examines the theories and practice of how to control corporate behaviour through legal techniques The principal theories examined are deterrence economic rational acting responsive regulation and the findings of behavioural psychology Leading examples of the various approaches are given in order to illustrate the models private enforcement of law through litigation in the USA public enforcement of competition law by the European Commission and the recent reform of policies on public enforcement of regulatory law in the United Kingdom Noting that behavioural psychology has as yet had only limited application in legal and regulatory theory the book then analyses various European regulatory structures where behavioural techniques can be seen or could be applied Sectors examined include financial services civil aviation pharmaceuticals and workplace health safety Key findings are that enforcement has to focus on identifying the causes of non compliance so as to be able to support improved performance rather than be based on fear motivating complete compliance Systems in which reporting is essential for safety only function with a no blame culture The book concludes by proposing an holistic model for maximising compliance within large organisations combining public regulatory and criminal controls with internal corporate systems and external influences by stakeholders held together by a unified core of ethical principles Hence the book proposes a new theory of ethical regulation This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional's International Arbitration online service

Encounter in Pastoral Care and Spiritual Healing Daniël Johannes Louw, Takaaki David Ito, Ulrike Elsdörfer, 2012 The International Council on Pastoral Care and Counseling ICPCC met in August 2011 in Rotorua New Zealand for its 9th International Congress Various discussions in the field arose from actual challenges such as the earthquake in Japan social changes and mainly deprivations all over the world The ICPCC offers guidelines on how to cope with these situations which also include the indigenous traditions of the Maori culture projects on inter religious encounter etc all of which provoke a rethinking of traditional spirituality The Congress proceedings are presented in this book as a state of discussion within this globalized network Series Theologie Forschung und Wissenschaft Vol 33 Outcome-Based Cooperation Christopher Hodges, 2022-09-22 How do we cooperate in social local business and state communities This book proposes an Outcome Based Cooperative Model in which all stakeholders work together on the basis of trust and respect to achieve shared aims and outcomes The Outcome Based Cooperative Model is built up from an extensive analysis of behavioural and social psychology genetic anthropology research into behaviour and culture in societies organisations regulation and enforcement The starting point is acceptance that humanity is facing ever larger risks which are now systemic and even existential To overcome the challenges humans need to cooperate more rather than compete alienate or draw apart Answering how we do that requires basing ourselves our institutions and systems on relationships that are built on trust Trust is based on evidence that we can be trusted to behave well ethically built up over time We should aim to agree common goals and outcomes moderating those that conflict produce evidence that we can be trusted and examine our performance in achieving the right

outcomes rather than harmful ones The implications are that we need to do more in rebasing our relationships in local groupings business organisations regulation and dispute resolution The book examines recent systems and developments in all these areas and makes proposals of profound importance for reform This is a new blueprint for liberty solidarity performance and achievement The American Psychologist ,2008-02 Includes proceedings of the 54th 55th annual meetings of the association 1946 47 and proceedings of meetings of various regional psychological associations
