On the Frontline with Voices Keith Butler,2017-07-05 This is a jargon free user friendly resource for voice hearers and their carers as well as the clinicians and groups who support them both It offers a new and practical way of looking at voice hearing as well as a host of practical strategies to assist in recovery The resource is built around three core sections Each of the sections speaks directly to voice hearers clinicians and carers in turn The style and content addresses each group s individual needs in terms appropriate to them and schools them in how to deal with voices from their particular perspective The core aim is to provide these three groups with practical techniques they can use on a daily basis The resource offers a proactive practical and client centred framework that is designed to reduce anxiety and increase the likelihood of learning new ways to deal with voices Keith Butler is a consultant clinical psychologist and an associate fellow of the BPS British Psychological Society He was a key player in the development of the Buckinghamshire Early Intervention Service BEIS and occupied the position of clinical lead in the BEIS for its first 6 years up to his retirement at the end of 2010 Nursing Skills for Children and Young People's Mental Health Laurence Baldwin, 2019-08-02 This book focuses on those nursing skills that are truly valued and needed by children and young people with mental health problems Whilst other books have chiefly focused on mental health conditions and treatments this book moves away from this formulaic approach and considers what children and youth themselves need most from health professionals It shows why nursing skills are among the most precious values for patients This focus on therapeutic relationships establishing trust based forms of nursing and empowering children and young people to develop into healthy and resilient young adults has largely been neglected despite the feedback from those who urgently need help but often struggle to find it or are wary of seeking help and reluctant to engage This book focuses on the places where nurses encounter young people and seek to help them It examines the role nurses play in specialist child and adolescent mental health settings such as in patient and community as psychotherapists and on self harm teams and where paediatrics nurses work with troubled young people in emergency departments paediatric wards and primary care It also considers two specific areas namely eating disorder services and consent seeking that could benefit from nursing skills that are currently undervalued but are in fact invaluable Its focus on those skills that nurses already have but may not be consciously using will make this book uniquely appealing to all nurses who work with children and young people with mental health problems regardless of the setting and an essential guide for students and experienced professionals alike

Peer support mental health services , 2021-06-10 Hearing Voices Simon McCarthy-Jones, 2012-04-05 The meanings and causes of hearing voices that others cannot hear auditory verbal hallucinations in psychiatric parlance have been debated for thousands of years Voice hearing has been both revered and condemned understood as a symptom of disease as well as a source of otherworldly communication Those hearing voices have been viewed as mystics potential psychiatric patients or simply just people with unusual experiences and have been beatified esteemed or accepted as well as drugged burnt or gassed This book travels from voice hearing in the ancient world through to contemporary experience examining how power politics gender medicine and religion have shaped the meaning of hearing voices Who hears voices today what these voices are like and their potential impact are comprehensively examined Cutting edge neuroscience is integrated with current psychological theories to consider what may cause voices and the future of research in voice hearing is explored Guidance on community mental health services ,2021-06-10 Needs of Children and Young People

Living with Complex Mental Health Difficulties Gemma Trainor,Vanessa Heaslip,2025-06-04 This book highlights how it is increasingly important that nurses and other health and social care professionals working with or caring for children and young people CYP can contribute to the care and support these vulnerable individuals need Given the limited specialist mental health services available for CYP this book helps to recognise when referral to specialist services is required It is aimed at providing nurses other health and social care professionals with a comprehensive understanding of some of the complex mental health issues faced by young people today and to provide them with confidence in how to interact helpfully with them While covering a range of complex mental health issues such as self harm eating disorders and psychosis this book also explores wider factors that can influence poor mental health such as being Looked After having a disability drugs and alcohol and social media Alongside these it explores some of the wider systems and processes that can provide practical guidance to practitioners having a Trauma informed approach awareness of risk management and safeguarding Lastly the book recognises how overwhelming it can be for practitioners working in this field and explores how they can use reflective practice and self care in the development of a therapeutic relationship that enables them to interact positively and non judgementally with young people with complex mental health issues Examples of good practice are provided throughout the book by using case scenarios and tips from young people with lived experience This book will prove to be an invaluable guide to assist nurses teachers social workers paramedics health care assistants and police force in giving help and support to CYP

Models of Madness Dr John Read,Professor Richard Bentall,Loren Mosher,John Read,Jacqui Dillon,2013-06-19 Are hallucinations and delusions really symptoms of an illness called schizophrenia Are mental health problems really caused by chemical imbalances and genetic predispositions Are psychiatric drugs as effective and safe as the drug companies claim Is madness preventable This second edition of Models of Madness challenges those who hold to simplistic pessimistic and often damaging theories and treatments of madness In particular it challenges beliefs that madness can be explained without reference to social causes and challenges the excessive preoccupation with chemical imbalances and genetic predispositions as causes of human misery including the conditions that are given the name schizophrenia This edition updates the now extensive body of research showing that hallucinations delusions etc are best understood as reactions to adverse life events and that psychological and social approaches to helping are more effective and far safer than psychiatric drugs and electroshock treatment A new final chapter discusses why such a damaging ideology has come to dominate mental health and most importantly how to change that Models of Madness is divided into three sections Section One provides a history of madness including examples of violence against the mentally ill before critiquing the theories and treatments of contemporary biological psychiatry and documenting the corrupting influence of drug companies Section Two summarises the research showing that hallucinations delusions etc are primarily caused by adverse life events eg parental loss bullying abuse and neglect in childhood poverty etc and can be understood using psychological models ranging from cognitive to psychodynamic Section Three presents the evidence for a range of effective psychological and social approaches to treatment from cognitive and family therapy to primary prevention This book brings together thirty seven contributors from ten countries and a wide range of scientific disciplines It provides an evidence based optimistic antidote to the pessimism of biological psychiatry Models of Madness will be essential reading for all involved in mental health including service users family members service managers policy makers nurses clinical psychologists psychiatrists psychotherapists counsellors psychoanalysts social workers occupational therapists art therapists
